NEW SENSATION IS DEVELOPED IN OLD BLEVINS MURDER CASE

SETTLEMENT OF GREAT STRIKE EFFECTED BY THE PRESIDENT

NEWS SUMMARY

MINE STRIKE.

Roosevelt has achieved a settlement of the strike. He saw Mitchell at the White House, who offered a modification of the operators' proposal relating the personnel of arbitration commission. The president induced operators to accept the amendment, and the commission was appointed. The matter will be submitted to the miners' executive boards at Wilkesbarre today, who are expected to call off the strike immediately.—Page 1.

PITTSBURGH PAINTER STRANGELY ACCUSED OF MURDER COMPLICITY

Frank J. Fields, a Painter of the East End, Arrested at His Home and Hurried to the Jail in New Castle.

BASED ON A CONFESSION MADE BY DYING BROTHER

Prisoner Subject to Sweating--Mantained His Innocence--Attorney Allowed to See Him Only on Appeal to Court.

By WALTER J. CHRISTY,
Staff Correspondent.

New Castle, Pa., Oct. 15.—Frank J. Fields of Pittsburgh is in jail here charged with the murder of City Treasurer John Blevins in New Castle on the night of January 7, 1899. The prisoner declares his innocence, and the indications are that the authorities have arrested the wrong man.

Fields was dragged from his home before breakfast this morning and brought here this afternoon. He was "sweated" for over two hours, and it was only after a personal appeal to Judge William Wallace that James A. Wakefield of Pittsburgh, counsel for the accused, was permitted to see the prisoner. The man will have to lie in the county jail for a week before he will be given a hearing.

A Deathbed Confession.

Fields is arrested upon an information made by Charles M. McClaren of this city. He bases his action on an alleged death-bed confession made by Judson Fields, a half-brother of the accused, to H. R. Peak of Gorham, Kas. In his statement Judson says that he and his brother were paid a large sum of money to kill Blevins and secure certain papers in possession of the treasurer. There is nothing to back up the single affidavit of Peak, whom no one here appears to know much about. The authorities do not even have proof that Judson Fields is dead.

Frank Fields believes that he will be able to show that his half-brother was a prisoner in the New Castle jail at the time of the murder, being held on a charge of horse stealing. Later he broke out of prison and has not been heard from since. The authorities here say that the records of the sheriff's office for that period are missing.

Officials Refuse to Talk.

The officials refuse to give out any information concerning the case. The district attorney would not allow anyone to talk with Fields. He even refused to permit Wakefield to see the prisoner. The Pittsburgh lawyer appealed to Judge Wallace, and this evening secured an audience with his client. Wakefield gave out this statement of the arrest, what occurred in the "sweatbox" and the contents of the alleged death-bed confession of Judson Fields:

Frank Ruff, Mr. Fields' partner and brother-in-law, called at my office in the Frick building and informed me of the charge against Fields. He directed me to take the matter in hand. I arrived at New Castle at 5 p. m., previously having telephoned to the chief of police of New Castle, who informed me the accused had been committed to jail. I went to the jail and learned there he was still at the lockup. Arriving there, I asked the chief of police to permit me to see the prisoner. He disavowed having anything to do with the arrest and insisted that I could not see Fields without a permit from the district attorney.

I soon learned that the district attorney was in an adjoining room "sweating" Fields, and had been there about 2 o'clock. On demand made by me the district attorney came out and refused me permission to see the prisoner. He stated that the exigencies of the occasion warranted his action. I asked when I could see the prisoner, and upon his refusal to fix any time, I hunted up Judge William Wallace and made my demand to him. He directed the officials to allow me to see the prisoner. While I was securing this order they committed Fields to jail and I was permitted to see him about 7:30.

Charged With Murder.

Fields told me that a strange man knocked at his back door about 6:30 a. m. and asked him to figure on some plans for painting. He invited the stranger in, and the visitor called to McKissick, "Come on in, Jim." McKissick entered and said, "I arrest you." Fields asked what for and was told for murder. He asked who, and was told a man in Lawrence county. Fields said they refused to let him change his clothing, but took him to town, brought him to his breakfast and brought him here. He was taken before Squire Gilliland, where the charge was read to him, and he pleaded not guilty. He was committed to the lockup.

About 3 o'clock Fields was taken into a private room in the city building and confronted by several strange men, among whom were McKissick; McClaren, who made the information; Mehard, the district attorney; Mayor Jackson and others. Fields says:

"I was first asked when I was last in New Castle. I replied in 1884 or 1885, and then for a few hours. I was asked if I had not worked here for a contractor named McConnell. I told them never. Mehard told me that he was the district attorney and that it would better to make a clean breast of it. He said they knew that I had received $5,000 for assisting in the job. I said that I had never received any money except what I have honestly worked for. Mehard then asked me if I had not watched while my brother Judson had killed Blevins on directly the spot where I was sitting. I replied never, and that I knew nothing of it. They asked me if, I knew my brother had been in jail about three years ago and had escaped. I replied that I had heard of my brother being in jail through Edward Fields of New Brighton and had read of his escape. I demanded to know the time my brother was in jail. I was told the record was lost and they did not know.

Would Clear Fields.

"I was then informed that they did not believe that I had anything to do with the killing, but they knew that I knew who it was that caused Blevin's death, and if I would tell they would see that I was promptly cleared. I answered that, while I am anxious to be discharged, I cannot tell of that which I know nothing. I told them that I was ready to answer every question, but I did not see how I could render them any assistance, as I knew nothing about it. I told them that last August a year ago I had received a letter from H. C. Peak of Kansas, stating that Judson was very ill and if I wanted to see him alive to come at once. A telegram was sent to do everything for him possible. I received a reply from Peak that Judson was dead. I instructed Peak to have him buried and send the bill to me. This was done and I paid the bill. Sometime afterward I received a letter from Peak that he had spent considerable in Judson's last illness and requested assistance. I replied that I was not in a position to do anything. Further than this I knew nothing of Peak.

I was shown Peak's affidavit of the alleged confession and was closely questioned by Mehard as to the truthfulness of the confession. It was as follows: That a man calling himself William Bennett had come to Peak's home and was there taken ill. When he became very sick he told Peak that his right name was Judson Fields and that on January 7, 1900, he had been paid a large sum of money and that his brother, Frank J. Fields, had been paid a large sum of money by certain persons, to murder John Blevins of New Castle, Pa. That he and his brother went to New Castle, he having secured a stake such as is used in fastening down a circus tent. On the stake was an iron band. This was used to do the deed. That he went into Blevins' office and his brother remained at the door on a watch. That he beat Blevins to death and secured the papers he had been sent for. That they received the money they were offered and made their escape. That his brother had sent him west. Peak said that Judson found it impossible to die without telling the story. Peak further states that in getting out of the office, Judson says he stumpled.

Fields Denies All.

Mr. Fields earnestly denied every statement and said that he was no closer to the scene than Pittsburgh. That he had not been away as far from his home as New Castle for 12 to 15 years. He said he was ready and willing to answer any and all questions, but before his God he swore he knew nothing of the crime. The district attorney then told him he was the coolest man he ever saw. Fields replied, "Why not? No innocent man need fear any charge."

When Fields was brought here this morning he was taken before Squire Gilleland and evinced great surprise when officially informed that he was charged with the murder of Blevins. He was not then given an opportunity to learn on what evidence he was held. When he pleaded not guilty he was taken to the dingy little lockup in the cellar of City hall.

It was about 3 o'clock when he was taken to the room just above his cell. It proved to be the private office of Mayor John C. Jackson, but was formerly the office of Blevins. He was given a seat at the very spot where the body of the murdered man had been found. In the room were Mayor Jackson, District Attorney Charles E. Mehard, Charles M. McClaren, Chief of Police Cyrus C. Horner, County Detective J. Lee McFate, and Policeman James McKissick. They were all watching to see if the prisoner would give any evidence that this was not his first visit to the room. They admit that they saw nothing. This array then set to work to wring from Fields a confession. The battle lasted two hours, but from all that can be learned it was not successful, the district attorney concluding his work by telling Fields that he was the coolest man he had ever seen.

Prisoner Was Refused Counsel.

It was while the sweating was in progress that Wakefield arrived and demanded that Chief Horner allow him to see the prisoner. The officer replied that Felds was in the custody of Mehard. The district attorney flatly refused to allow the prisoner to have counsel until the prosecution was through with him.

Fields could hear this from his seat in the box. Later he told Wakefield that Mehard came into the room and whispered to the other officers that Fields' lawyer was outside.

It was almost 6 o'clock when Fields was taken out to an awaiting patrol wagon and hurried to jail. He appeared to be the coolest man in the party, and seemed to be enjoying a toby he was smoking. Mehard telephoned to Sheriff Brown that he must not allow Fields to talk with any newspaper man.

Mayor Jackson said that he could not talk. Chief Horner claimed that his lips were sealed. McClaren refused to make a statement and Mehard declined to throw any light on the case. He admitted, however, that they had no proof of Judson Field's death, and that the hearing in the case had been fixed for next Wednesday. He denied that and additional information had been made, although it is said that they had four blank warrants ready, hoping that Fields would tell them the names of accomplices.

Wakefield will tomorrow endeavor to have the hearing fixed for next Monday. He has been attorney for Felds for 12 years and says that the prisoner is a man of excellent reputation. Wakefield believes that they will be able to prove that Fields was in Pittsburgh on the night of the murder and transacted business there. He is also of the opinion that it can be shown that Judson Fields was in the Lawrence county jail on the day of the crime.

New Castle Was Startled.

The arrest of Fields caused a big sensation in New Castle. The Blevins murder is an unpleasant night-mare and the periodical revival of the crime throws the city into an uproar. There is much mystery back of the killing of this old man and many hint that when the real story of the murder is told men of prominence will figure.

The Peak affidavit har been heard of before, but the people here never put much credence in it. Peak was first heard of last March, when he wrote to Mayor C. R. Warnock, saying that he could clear up the Blevins murder. The letter was

BLOODY BATTLE STILL GOING ON

About 550 Slain on Both Sides, but the Result Is Not Yet Known.

CASTRO SHOWS GRIT

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Willemstad, Oct. 15.—The battle near La Victoria, Venezuela, between forces of President Castro, numbering 4,100 men, with 15 guns, and the Venezuelan revolutionists, which began Monday morning, is said so far to be without definite result.

The only rebel generals engaged were Guevara, Torres, Crespo and Antonio Fernandez, who had with them about 3,100 men, representing the advance guard of the revolutionists.

President Castro twice led a charge in person and showed great courage and coolness. His lieutenant, Gen. Alcantara, who was at one time in the West Point military academy, was mortally wounded. The government forces had 247 men killed, while the revolutionists lost 319 men. Among the latter was Gen. Guevara.

The arrival at the scene of battle at 5 o'clock Monday afternoon of Vice President Gomez with 800 men and a large amount of ammunition, saved the day for the government. Before that time the odds were greatly against President Castro. On Monday night the revolutionists retained their positions.

The fight was resumed Tuesday, and at 10 o'clock in the morning Castro retired to La Victoria. At 1 o'clock the fighting ceased on both sides.

News of the engagement having reached Gens. Matos and Mendoza, they hastened to the scene and arrived near La Victoria yesterday with the rest of the revolutionary army, which now numbers about 8,000 men. The reinforcements under Matos and Mendoza intended to take part in the renewal of hostilities today.

President Castro appears to be surrounded by his enemies. The town of El Consejo, back of La Victoria, is occupied by the revolutionists.

Vaencia is believed to be doomed. The town was attacked by Gen. Riera on Monday and Tuesday. The government cannot receive reinforcements from Caracas, as the German railroad from there to Valencia is held by the rebels.

Those who were wounded in the fighting are still without medical assistance or care. They lie on the battlefield as they fell.

MINERS' BOARDS TO MEET TODAY.

Will Consider Proposition Mitchell Is Bringing to Them.

TELEPHONE MESSAGE

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Oct. 15.—Executive board members of the three anthracite districts of the United Mine Workers will hold a joint meeting here at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning to consider a proposition for ending the strike which President Mitchell will lay before them. It is proposed to call a delegate convention of the striking mine workers to pass upon the offer.

The call to the executive board was sent out this afternoon as a result of a telephonic message sent by Mitchell after his conference with President Roosevelt at Washington.

No one here knows the exact nature of the proposition Mr. Mitchell will bring back with him, and it is probable no one will know it except the three district presidents and National Secretary-Treasurer Wilson, until the strike leader lays it before the three boards.

The joint conference tomorrow will be made up of 37 persons. Those who will be present will be Mr. Mitchell, national Secretary-Treasurer W. B. Wilson, who arrived here today, the three anthracite members of the national executive board, the president, vice president, secretary and treasurer of each district, the seven board members from each of the upper and lower districts, and the six board members of the middle district.

If a convention is held, it will probably be called together within four days. About 800 delegates would be in attendance.

MAIL SACK STOLEN FROM C. & P. TRAIN

East Liverpool Banks and Business Men Lose $50,000 in Valuable Papers.

A mail pouch containing almost $50,000 in valuable papers, consigned from Pittsburgh to East Liverpool, on the Cleveland & Pittsburgh midnight express, has been missing since October 7, and as a result of the robbery every bank in East Liverpool has suffered loss.

The United States secret service men who have been working on the case found no clue until yesterday, when a colored man presented a check at the East Liverpool Dollar Savings bank. The paper was known to have been in the missing pouch. The man escaped arrest.

THE EVANS REQUISITION.

Defendant Not in Pennsylvania at Time of Alleged Crime.

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 15.—(Special.)—Gov. Nash has received a requisition from Gov. Stone of Pennsylvania for James M. Evans, now at Youngstown, who is wanted at Pittsburgh on a charge of larceny and false pretenses.

Evans will contest the requisition on the ground that he was not in Pennsylvania at the time the deal was made and therefore could not have committed crime in that state. He claims he was in Arizona at the time. Gov. Nash will hear the case at 10 a. m. Monday next.

QUAY STILL ACTIVE IN THE NEGOTIATIONS

Spends Some Time With Editor of the Miners' Organ. Mitchell Goes Through.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Public Ledger Building,
PHILADELPHIA, PA., Oct. 15.

President Mitchell, accompanied by Walter Wellman, passed through this evening on his way from Washington to Wilkesbarre. He will arrive at Wilkesbarre at 1:20 a. m.

Local developments in the strike today centered on the movements of Senator Quay. The senator visited Broad street station and spent much time in a long-distance telephone booth. L. N. Hammerling, editor of the miners' official organ, who arranged the various meetings between President Roosevelt, Mitchell and Quay, called at Republican state headquarters and had a long talk with Quay. Later Quay and Hammerling entered a cab and were driven away to keep an appointment. Mr. Hammerling returned this morning from Washington, where he saw the president yesterday, having been entrusted with messages of importance bearing on the peace negotiations. He left late this afternoon for Wilkesbarre.

Senator Quay adheres to his policy of not discussing pending negotiations. His close friends assert that he is confident an agreement will be reached before the end of this week.

Collision on the Pemickey.

The evening train on the Pittsburgh, McKeesport & Youghiogheny railroad ran into a freight train opposite Glenwood last night. The freight had backed on the south-bound track to let another passenger through, and in returning did not entirely clear the south-bound track. The passenger train struck it, smashed its engine and sent the freight cars over the bank, where they caught fire and burned. Both engineer and fireman stayed with the engine and escaped unhurt, while the passengers got off with a shaking up.

BAR HARBOR, ME., Oct. 15.—John A. Dillon, journalist and leading editorial writer on the New York Evening World, died at "Chatwold," the summer home of Joseph Pulitzer, tonight.

JAMES CAWLEY IS ARRESTED

Admits Being Implicated in Highway Robbery at Glenwood.

CAWLEY BUTCHERY

James Cawley, the older brother of Charles Cawley, the 17-year-old Homestead boy who is confined in the county jail charged with having butchered his mother, two sisters and a younger brother with an ax, was arrested in Homestead early last evening, brought to Pittsburgh and locked up at No. 4 police station, in the Oakland district.

The charge against James Cawley is highway robbery. Shortly after midnight on Friday, October 3, Chester Johnson of Mimasburg, O., was held up and robbed of about $8 by three men who met him in the Baltimore & Ohio railroad yards at Glenwood. Johnson was with William Hoff, but the two had become separated for a few minutes, and while Johnson was waiting for the return of Hoff the three men robbed him. Johnson hunted up a policeman and told him of the occurrence. While hunting for the men and Hoff they stumbled over Hoff's dead body on the track. It was at first thought he also had been robbed, but his money, about $7, and other possessions were found in his pockets.

Cawley Admits Being Highwayman.

Johnson said one of the men wore a badge and said he was a detective, and that all three were young men.

The police officer found John Donahue and Frank Wright in the yards and arrested them on suspicion. They were given hearings at the Oakland police station and held for court on a charge of highway robbery. Police Inspector Robert Denniston learned a few days ago that a railroad man had seen Cawley in the yards on that night. He flashed his lantern in Cawley's face and said, "Hello, Jim; what are you doing here?" and Cawley answered that he was only loafing around. The inspector also learned that the badge displayed was probably a street car conductor's badge and that Wright had formerly been a conductor.

When Cawley was arrested yesterday he confessed to being with Donahue and Wright and that he had worn the badge. He said they were all drunk, but that he did not know what they had done.

Arrest Caused Sensation in Homestead.

Cawley was arrested at the home of his sister, Mrs. James O'Brien, in Homestead, where he has been staying since last Monday night. The arrest caused a sensation in Homestead, for following as closely as it did on the positive statement of Mamie Cawley, the 10-year-old sister of the Cawleys, that her "brother Charlie is not insane and did not murder my mother, brothers and sisters" as published in The Gazette of yesterday, the conclusion was jumped at that James was wanted for the awful crime Charles is held for.

It is the opinion of many that James is insane. Others express the belief that he is feigning insanity. Burgess Miller of Homestead, is inclined to believe that both the Cawley boys are mentally unsound.

John Cavanaugh, captain of police in Homestead, regards James with suspicion and thinks he sees a reason for James' strange actions since last Friday. Police Officer Cavanaugh James remarked on Monday night that he was going to the jail to see Charles, and that if he was not admitted and allowed to talk to his brother he would never go back to jail and would shoot dead the man who tried to take him back. James called at the jail Tuesday morning, as he announced he would, and talked for a short time with Warden Lewis, but never once did he ask to be allowed to see Charlie. Cavanaugh's belief is that James fears to meet his brother.

James Talks Too Ways.

In Homestead James has been declaring that Charles is innocent, saying that an Italian killed his mother and sisters, yet the first words he said on reaching the borough lock-up on Friday morning were: "Charles has hurt mother."

Capt. Cavanaugh is authority for the statement that when Mrs. O'Brien repeated at her home the conversation she had had with Charles, James became quite excited and exclaimed: "Yes, I guess he'll be blaming it on me after a while."

The story published in one of the evening papers yesterday to the effect that Charles Cawley had made a confession to District Attorney J. C. Haymaker was denied by Mr. Haymaker last night at his home. According to Mr. Haymaker's statement there was no foundation for the story other than that in a conversation with Assistant District Attorney John Robb and County Detective R. G. Robinson last Monday morning Charles Cawley talked in a rambling way about his mother being killed with an ax. The boy in no way incriminated himself, according to statements made last night by Mr. Haymaker and Mr. Robb.

ROOSEVELT BRINGS GREAT COAL STRIKE TO A SETTLEMENT

Arranges With Mitchell for Arbitration Commission of Six, to Include a Representative of Organized Labor.

MINING TO BE RESUMED POSSIBLY NEXT MONDAY

Arbitrators Gen. John M. Wilson, Engineer E. W. Parker, Judge Gray, Bishop Spalding, T. H. Watkins and E. E. Clark.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
603 Fifteenth St., N. W.,
WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 15.

The anthracite coal strike was settled shortly after midnight this morning. The end came after a day and night of conference at the temporary White House.

President Roosevelt has named this commission of arbitration:

BRIG. GEN. JOHN M. WILSON, U. S., A., retired (late chief of United States engineers), Washington, D. C., as an officer of the engineer corps of either the military or naval service of the United States.

E. W. PARKER, Washington, D. C., as an expert mining engineer. Mr. Parker is chief statistician of the coal division of the United States geological survey and editor of the Engineering Mining Journal of New York.

GEORGE GRAY, Wilmington, Del., as a judge of a United States court.

E. E. CLARK, Cedar Rapids, Ia., grand chief of the Order of Railway Conductors, as a sociologist.

BISHOP JOHN L. SPALDING of Peoria, Ill.

THOMAS H. WATKINS of Scranton, Pa., as a miner practically acquainted with the mining and selling of coal.

Carroll D. Wright has been appointed recorder of the commission.

This commission contains one more member than the operators' proposition stipulated, and the additional member is named at the instance of President Mitchell of the United Mine Workers.

Mitchell came here yesterday morning on summons from President Roosevelt and insisted upon modification of the commission. He left this evening. His demand was communicated to operators' representatives, and just about midnight they yielded their consent to the change.

The End Comes.

The first sign of a break-up of the night conference was at 12:55, when Secretary Cortelyou came from the conference room and announced to the waiting newspaper men that an official statement on the strike situation would be made public in about half an hour. Shortly after 1 o'clock Secretary Root came out, laughing and happy, and spread the glad tidings that a common ground of agreement between the operators and miners had been reached, and that the strike was practically ended.

It was learned a few moments later that the chief feature of the agreement was the addition of a sixth member to the arbitration commission, the surmise following as a matter of course that the additional member would be more particularly a representative of labor. It was said at the same time that now an agreement had been arrived at as to the means of determining the differences that the president would insist on an immediate resumption of work at the mines and that he had reason to expect his advice would be followed very promptly.

Messrs. Bacon and Perkins, partners in Mr. Pierpont Morgan's banking firm, were present at the final conference, as the representatives of the operators. When the gathering broke up, all present were in high good humor, and there was a general exchange of congratulations.

President Mitchell Arrives.

John Mitchell came to Washington yesterday. He did not refuse the propositions made by Mr. Morgan in behalf of the coal operators. He simply said that it is the wish of the strikers that the president be entirely unrestricted in his choice of a commission.

Mitchell came on a summons from the president, and with him he brought the suggestions of his men that the operators had not played entirely in the open in their final surrender to the plan of arbitration. It required tact and some patience on the part of President Roosevelt to convince him that no trick was intended. The president himself agreed with Mitchell that an unrestricted choice would have been much better, but he thought this only a matter of detail that should not delay the resumption of work.

President Roosevelt having ascertained the views of Mr. Mitchell, at once communicated with the operators and initiated efforts to reconcile the differences developed and to have the operators make some further concessions, his aim being to reach a common accord.

The First Conference.

At the first conference, which lasted from 11:50 a. m. until 12:55 p. m., the president and Mr. Mitchell discussed fully the proposition made by the operators for an arbitration commission. At the conclusion of the first conference Mr. Mitchell walked over to the treasury department, where for two hours he remained closeted with Frank P. Sargent, commissioner of immigration. During that time Mr. Mitchell communicated by long distance telephone with persons in New York and in Wilkesbarre.

It is understood that at that time he called a meeting of the miners' district executive boards to be held in Wilkesbarre today. He discussed fully the strike situation with Mr. Sargent, with whom he has had a long-time friendship. Mr. Sargent until recently having been president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen.

Mr. Mitchell's second conference with President Roosevelt lasted just 35 minutes. He was ushered into the president's office at 3:10 p. m. and left the White house at 3:45.

Mitchell Leaves the City.

He boarded a Pennsylvania avenue car and went directly to the office of President Gompers of the Federation of Labor. There he met Mr. Gompers and James Duncan, vice president of the Federation of Labor, and several other labor leaders. Their consultation necessarily was brief, as Mr. Mitchell desired to leave on the first train for Wilkesbarre. Mr. Gompers and Mr. Duncan accompanied Mr. Mitchell to his train.

Mr. Mitchell left the city at 4:30 for Wilkesbarre.

Secretary Root, Commissioner of Labor Wright and Commissioner of Immigration Sargent, all important factors in the settlement of the great coal strike, were in conference with the president at midnight, still hard at work on the situation and determined to bring about a final adjustment within a day, possibly a few hours.

George W. Perkins and Robert Bacon, both partners of J. P. Morgan, arrived in the city early this evening, saw the president for a few minutes before they went to the dinner of Secretary Hay, and then returned to the Arlington hotel. They did not register, but surrounded their visit with the greatest secrecy. They went to the temporary White House just after dark, when there was hardly anyone about, and it was not known until late in the evening that they were in the city.

Conferences Late at Night.

The president went to dinner at Secretary Hay's at 8 o'clock and returned to the White House at 10. Immediately afterward Secretary Root appeared and was shown up to the president's room. Mr. Cortelyou also was called into consultation, and these three remained together for an hour and a half. At 11:45 tonight Commissioners Wright and Sargent appeared and were at once shown to the president's room.

At that time both Mr. Perkins and Mr. Bacon were at their apartments at the Arlington, expecting at any moment a summons to the White House.

It is pointed out by one who is a recognized authority on strike controversies that in the event of an agreement on a commission of arbitration it will not be absolutely necessary for President Mitchell at this time to formally declare off the strike. He and his district presidents may order the men back to work, holding in abeyance the formal declaration of the end of the strike until the commission shall have made its findings, which, it is expected, will be binding upon both operators and miners.

Both Sides Satisfied.

The commission is satisfactory to the coal operators. The list was submitted to Mitchell before he left the city and he expressed his pleasure. He told the president that he would return to Wilkesbarre, lay the matter before the districts and recommend its acceptance.

The concession to the strikers is the appointment of the sixth member to the commission, Bishop Spalding of Illinois, whose name, it is announced in the official statement from the White House, was added to the commission by the president. As a commission member sympathetic with labor organizations, one of the conditions which Mr. Mitchell did not insist upon but suggested, the president has appointed E. E. [illegible], grand chief of the Order of Railway Conductors.

E. W. Parker, as a mining engineer, was urged on the president by Dr. David Day of the geological survey. The appointment of ex-Senator George Gray as a judge of the eastern district of Pennsylvania was expected. He is a man of wide legal and judicial experience. Thomas H. Watkins, familiar with the business of mining and selling coal, is a well-known and conservative business man of Scranton, for whom the coal operators and union miners have the greatest respect.

The official statement announcing the close of the strike was issued at the White House at 2:20 this morning. It states that after a conference with Mr. Mitchell and some further conference with representatives of the coal operators, the president has appointed the members of the commission to inquire into, consider and pass upon all questions at issue between the operators and miners in the anthracite coal fields.

RESUME WORK MONDAY.

That is President Mitchell's Estimate of Result of Convention of Coal Miners.

WILKESBARRE, PA., Oct. 16.—(Special.)—President Mitchell believes he can call a convention of mine workers which will vote for the men to return to work on Monday.

President Mitchell, upon his arrival at 1:30 this morning, was informed that the president had appointed a commission of six to arbitrate the strikers' grievances.

"Until I see the official statement," he said, "I would rather not say anything."

"Does this settle the strike?" Mr. Mitchell was asked.

"Congratulations must be withheld until the official statement is submitted to me."

"Will the men now be ordered to return to work?"

"The matter will be presented to the executive board and the national members at 10 o'clock this morning," he said, "and then a statement will be issued."

EVER FAITHFUL OLD SOMERSET

Pennypacker in a County Where Republicans Never Knew Defeat.

PENROSE WITH ORATORS

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Somerset, Pa., Oct. 15.—Ex-Judge Pennypacker and ex-Senator Brown, the Republicans candidates for governor and lieutenant governor, respectively, tonight met a great army of voters in the rock-ribbed Republican stronghold of Somerset county, which never gave a majority for a Democratic candidate, national, state or local, since the Republican party was organized, and which is eagerly waiting for November to roll up a majority of over 4,000 for the Republican state ticket.

The loyalty of the thrifty farmers, merchants and sturdy coal miners who have contributed to the wealth and are enjoying the prosperity of the country, was emphasized tonight as it never was before. The court house was so inadequate to hold the enthusiastic crowds that an overflow meeting was necessary. Thousands braved the low temperature and enthusiastically cheered the speakers. This, too, with an illustrated lecture for the convention of the Association of Poor Directors in full blast in the opera house.

Early in the evening the town began to fill up with farmers, and later special trains brought large delegations, accompanied by bands, from Windber, Confluence, Meyersdale and Hooversville, all shouting for protection, prosperity and Pennypacker. Taken altogether, it was the greatest meeting ever held in the county.

The Reception Committee.

The gubernatorial party, which included, besides the candidates, ex-District Attorney W. I. Shaffer of Delaware county, Col. Ned Arden Flood of Crawford county, congressional candidate of the district A. F. Cooper and Register P. A. Johns of Fayette county, was met by a reception committee composed of County Chairman E. E. Pritts, Judge Aaron F. Dickie, J. G. Ogle, Isaiah Good, John A. Lambert, J. A. Berkey and W. S. Matthews.

During the afternoon Judge Pennypacker drove around the country and unearthed the original Bible printed in the county over 100 years ago by John Pal, ton, publisher of the Somerset Visitor, now the Somerset Herald.

In the evening prior to the meeting there was a reception at the Somerset house, followed by a parade marshalled by ex-Prothonotary B. F. Barron and led by a cavalcade of sturdy farmers. There were clubs in line from Hooversville, Meyersdale, Confluence and Windber.

The meeting was presided over by Lawyer J. A. Berkey. Conspicuous among the county leaders present, emphasizing the harmony on the state ticket, were Abner McKinley, brother of the late president; Robert S. Scull, editor of the Herald; George R. Scull, president of the First National bank; Judge Francis G. Koozer, Harvey M. Berkeley, John R. Scott, Burgess William H. Welfley, ex-Representative S. B. Mier, Capt. Charles J. Harrison, president of the Somerset National bank; Simon Krebbs, James M. Cover of the Rockwood National bank; Representative John C. Weller, Representative S. A. Kendall, ex-sheriff Edward Hover and Sheriff James B. Saylor.

Made Even Democrats Prosperous.

Judge Pennypacker was loudly applauded when introduced as the next governor of Pennsylvania. He declared that Mr. Pattison is aiming to secure his election to the gubernatorial chair as a stepping stone to the presidency, with Democratic free trade and Democratic free silver. He told how the Republican party had not only made the country great, but had carried the Democratic party along with it, so that the Democrats, inspite of themselves, enjoy the prosperity which has been showered upon the country by the administration of Republican principles.

In conclusion, he humorously referred to George W. Guthrie's claim that the Democrats will carry the state by 200,000 majority, that like the decapitated tortoise, Mr. Guthrie was not sensible of the decrease of the Democratic party.

While Judge Pennypacker was speaking, Senator Penrose, who had been delayed by a late train, arrived and was given a round of applause when Chairman Berkey introduced him. Senator Penrose expressed his pleasure in seeing on the train which brought him in from Johnstown the large delegation of miners coming in to attend the meeting. He said:

Republicans Friends of Labor.

I know that you will rejoice with me in the reasonable prospect that the strike in another coal field in our state gives promise of an early and happy conclusion. I think that we can fairly claim, and it will be admitted, that the representatives of Pennsylvania, my colleague in the United States senate and others, have been earnest and vigilant to bring about, whatever the hazard, an arrangement that would be fair and honorable to the miners.

The Republican party has always been a friend to labor. It freed the American continent from the curse of slavery, and almost every labor law on the statute book of state and nation is due to Republican effort.

We ask you before you exercise the franchise to consider whether it is not to your interest and the interest of the country to sustain Republican policies and Republican control in the government of our affairs.

Although you may not realize it, yet already, in the opinion of many, the control of the house of representatives in Washington is gravely in doubt. We have only a majority there now. The loss of one, or three member in Pennsylvania, perhaps in Delaware, two in Wisconsin or one and one there, makes it easy, as you see for us to lose control of the house. The result would block all positive and progressive measures desired by the Republican administration.

Redistricting for Senators.

William M. Brown also was given a great ovation. Among other things he said:

In every speech made by the Democratic candidate for lieutenant governor he has the legislature of Pennsylvania, and against the Republican party that, for partisan purposes, the state has not been districted senatorially and that a large number of our citizens are deprived of representation in the state senate. This charge, like others from the same source, is refuted by the facts. I challenge either Mr. Guthrie or his sincerity when he makes that statement.

My experience as chairman of the senatorial committee on apportionment convinces me that he is wholly in error. He is a lawyer, and like his colleagues on the ticket, talks much of the Constitution. Therefore, he ought to know the constitutional limitations and restrictions imposed upon the legislature are such as to render abortive a very practical, honest effort to secure a senatorial reapportionment. Those limitations of the Constitution restrict the number of senators in any one county, prohibit the dividing of any county unless it has more than two senatorial ratios, and also require that all senatorial districts shall consist of contiguous territory.

The meeting closed with addresses by Mr. Shaffer and Col. Flood, and three cheers for the whole Republican ticket.

The party will be at Scottdale tomorrow afternoon and Mount Pleasant tomorrow night.

Mr. Damrosch's thousands of admirers will flock to New Exposition tonight to hear a program of his own compositions, including his dramatic "Danny Deever" song.

LAST DOUBT REMOVED ABOUT NEXT CONGRESS

Mr. Babcock Says Point Is Reached Where Republican Victory Is Sure.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU, 525 Fifteenth St., N. W., WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 15.

Chairman J. W. Babcock of the Republican congressional committee came to the city last night from New York. This afternoon he called upon President Roosevelt. Chairman Babcock spoke enthusiastically of the probabilities of Republican success.

"We have reached the point in the campaign where we can see a Republican majority in the next house of representatives beyond any reasonable doubt," said he to The Gazette correspondent. "The president's efforts to settle the strike, which, no doubt will be successful, are greatly appreciated by everybody regardless of politics, must be an element of strength in the campaign."

"How about the situation in New York?" was asked.

"It is in splendid shape. The Republicans have outgeneraled the Democrats in every way. Hill's attitude is an element of strength to the Republican party and of weakness to his own party. The Republicans will gain the Ninth congressional district, beyond doubt. This is the Goldfogle district. Adler, the Republican candidate, is a strong man, and is putting up a wonderful campaign."

"Why do you say that you have reached the point in the campaign where you see victory assured? Has there been doubt in the past?"

"To within a very short time, the conditions were not such as to warrant any safe estimates. Nominations had not been made in many districts and conditions were not settled. All difficulties have been adjusted, and I cannot see how there is any doubt of the Republicans carrying the house of representatives by a good working majority."

NO GOVERNMENT AID FOR ELLEN M. STONE

Secretary Hay Writes That Turkish Government Has Right to Exclude Her.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

BOSTON, MASS., Oct. 15.—If Miss Stone wishes to return to Turkey she will have no aid from this government. A letter tonight from Secretary Hay settles that point. It has been said that Miss Stone would return to the missionary field when she had finished her engagement with Maj. Pond. The Turkish government has advised her not to return. Secretary Hay's letter, responding to a question as to whether American citizenship would be protected, said in part:

"The United States itself excludes many aliens who have not violated the laws, such as contract laborers, idiots, insane persons, those likely to become a public charge, those afflicted with loathesome or contagious diseases, polygamists and others. It is an accepted doctrine of international law that every sovereign nation has the power to forbid the entrance of foreigners within its dominions, or to admit them only in such cases and upon such conditions as it may see fit to prescribe.

The state department will not interfere because of Miss Stone's nationality if the Turkish government excludes her.

DEGREES CONFERRED AT COLLEGE CENTENNIAL

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, PA., Oct. 15.—Conferring of degrees and other special features of the last day of the Washington and Jefferson college centennial celebration brought the largest crowd of the week. The commemorative oration was delivered by the Rev. Dr. David J. Gregg of Brooklyn.

The degree of doctor of laws was conferred on Judges Buffington, McClung, Shafer and Kennedy of Pittsburgh; Attorney General Knox, Chancellor Brashear of the Western university; the Rev. Gracey Ferguson, D. D., president of Westminster college; Alexander S. Hunter, professor of English literature in the Western University of Pennsylvania; the Rev. William Johnston, D. D., president of Geneva college; the Rev. Isaac Ketler, D. D., president of Grove City college; doctor of philosophy, William J. Holland, director of the Carnegie museum; master of arts, Jesse Cunningham, Robert P. Kennedy, Uniontown, and Robert J. Linton, Bellevernon.

Addresses were made by prominent alumni on the work of the college graduates in the professions, as follows: Judge Marcus W. Acheson, Pittsburgh, represented the law; Dr. Thomas D. Davis of Pittsburgh the medical profession. The presentation to the college of portraits of Prof. Alonzo Linn and Samuel Jones was made by Judge J. D. Shafer of Pittsburgh; of Justice Sterrett by Judge J. A. Beaver; of the Hon. John P. Panny by Judge M. W. Acheson.

Following the presentation of these President Moffat announced contributions to the centennial endowment fund. It amounts to a little over $400,000.

COLOMBIA PRESIDENT'S RUMORED OVERTHROW

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

FRANKFORT-ON-THE-MAIN, GERMANY, Oct. 15.—The Frankfurter Zeitung publishes a dispatch saying that Gen. Fernandez has captured President Marroquin of Colombia, and has proclaimed himself dictator.

President Marroquin procured the office of president of Colombia by arbitrarily deposing ex-President San Clemente July 31, 1900. Marroquin was vice president of the country.

ORMISTON WON FROM PORTER

Highland Golfer the Victor in a 19-Hole Match Yesterday.

A VERY FAST CONTEST

Porter Made New Course Record of 36 Strokes—Fredericks and Ormiston Are to Play this Morning.

The second day of the Pittsburgh Country club's open tournament again produced fast golf. The victory of George Ormiston over J. E. Porter by one up in 19 holes was the feature. The match was the most stubbornly fought of any local tournament. It was evened by Ormiston on the home green, on the merit of a most difficult 20-foot cross green put, and was won by a wonderfully nervy recovery on the extra hole after he had played his first two strokes poorly.

The medal scores of both contestants indicate the fastest golf ever offered in a match contest in the Country club course. Porter furnished some of the fastest golf ever known to a local match. With a medal score of 77, equalling the amateur course record, and a duplicate of Byers' performance of Tuesday in qualifying Porter lost, as he did in the match against Byers, owing to a weakening of his form at the end of the contest. Ormiston had a medal score of 78. Porter's score of 36 strokes for the second nine holes yesterday is the best ever made on the course by an amateur, equalling the "bogey" figures. The best previous record was 38, made by Byers in the qualifying, and equalled by Ormiston yesterday. The card for the Ormiston-Porter match:

A. A. Ormiston, Highland—
Out	6	6	3	5	6	4	3	3	4	—40
In	5	4	4	5	5	5	4	3	3	—38 78
J. E. Porter, Allegheny C. C.—
Out	6	5	3	5	5	5	3	4	5	—41
In	5	3	3	6	6	4	3	5	4	—38—77

Extra hole—Ormiston 5, Porter 6.

The second and third rounds will be decided today with the 36-hole finals and the 18-hole handicap tomorrow. The first rounds today will start at 10 o'clock promptly. Interest centers in the Fredericks-Ormiston match this morning. Fredericks won easily yesterday, but his medal score was not low and he has not in the present tournament displayed his fastest time. Results of the play yesterday:

RESULTS OF WOMENS GOLF.

First Round of Match Play for Christy Cup at Sewickley.

In the first round of match play in the women's golf tournament in progress on the course of the Edgeworth club at Sewickley yesterday, the results were as follows: Mrs. Elliott Rodgers defeated Mrs. F. E. Rutan by 3 up and 1 to play; Mrs. Joseph Rohrbacher defaulted to Miss Bertha Taylor; Mrs. R. P. Nevin, Jr., defeated Miss Clara Armstrong by 3 up and 2 to play; Mrs. Christian I. Shannon defeated Mrs. W. N. Kerr by 5 up and 4 to play.

Mrs. Shannon played the fastest golf, with the first nine holes in 46 strokes. The play is for a cup offered by Miss Lucy Christy and today Mrs. Rodgers meets Miss Taylor and Mrs. Shannon plays Mrs. Nevin.

ITALIAN MURDERED IN GLENWOOD YARDS

Mystery Hangs Over Shooting of Guiseppi Gingnatto and Seven Men Are Under Arrest.

Guiseppi Gingnatto, an Italian laborer, employed on the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, was shot and almost instantly killed by some unknown person in the Glenwood yards of the railroad company, shortly after 10 o'clock last night.

Gingnatto had been playing cards in one of the shanty-cars with other Italians. About 10 o'clock the game broke up and Gingnatto, bidding the others good night, stepped out and started for another car in the same train, where he was quartered.

His companions heard three shots, and upon investigation, found Gingnatto bathed in blood a few yards away.

The story told by some Italian laborers was accepted as being practically the truth, but seven of them were arrested and will be held until the matter is cleared up.

HAVE BIG BANK ROLLS.

Police Find $250,000 in Safes of Raided Gambling Houses.

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—A dozen big rolls of greenbacks amounting to $250,000 were found, according to District Attorney Jerome, in the safes of two of the five gambling houses which were the scene of raids last night.

Said Mr. Jerome: "I do not know who owns the rolls. It will not be sufficient identification for a man to say 'That $10,000 roll is mine.'"

Passenger Trains Collide.

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 15.—A fast westbound passenger train and the Terre Haute and Indianapolis accommodation train, on the Vandalia, collided at Reelsville, this afternoon, killing Fred H. Henson, mail clerk, and seriously injuring three others. The wreck was due to the failure of the agent at Harmony to deliver an order to the accommodation, which left there on the time of the other train.

Competitor and Friend of Dalzell.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 15.—Representative Sereno E. Payne, chairman of the house committee on ways and means, is here today. He says he will be a candidate for speaker if the next house is Republican. He and Mr. Dalzell are members of the same committee and fast personal friends.

Carnegie Talks About Libraries.

LIVERPOOL, Oct. 15.—Andrew Carnegie, at the opening of a branch library here today characterized libraries as a great counter force to saloons and said the most excellent work of the librarians was in developing the tastes of readers.

Great Damrosch program at the New Exposition tonight. Harry Lauderstone will sing Mr. Damrosch's famous "Danny Deever," words by Rudyard Kipling.

PRIVATE IN TENTH AGAIN UNDER FIRE

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

SHAMOKIN, PA., Oct. 15.—Private Francis Thralls, Company K, Tenth regiment, was fired on by a striker while on sentry duty at the Royal Oak colliery last night. Thralls had a lonely post on the hilltop back of the breaker. When the bullet whistled over his head he commanded a fleeing form to halt, and as the man saw the soldier's gun leveled at his head he gave himself up. The sergeant of the guard took the marauder's revolver from him and allowed him to go, after a warning.

Mounted patrols and details of Tenth regiment men guarded colliery approaches this evening and Col. Barnett had soldiers stationed about town.

Several non-union men returning from the Henry Clay colliery were chased by a crowd of strikers, who threw rocks and clubs. The workmen escaped by running.

Today a detail made a circuit of the town and arrested all soldiers without passes.

turned over to the councilmanic committee having charge of the matter. There was some correspondence by New Castle citizens with Peak, but nothing was developed. There were other clues which seemed more promising.

The city and county had offered a reward of $10,000 for the conviction of the murderers. Charles McClaren, apparently upon his own volition, made a trip to Kansas. He says that he saw Peak and from him received the alleged confession recited above. McClarren guarded this paper so well that his own attorney was not given an opportunity to read it and drew up the information against Fields on the strength of what he was told by the prosecutor. In the "sweat box" this afternoon the confession was brought out and is now in District Attorney Mehard's possession.

Not Instigated by Councilmen.

The solving of the Blevins murder was placed in the hands of a committee appointed by councils, composed of Malcolm McConnell and C. H. Aiken. They say that they have had nothing to do with the arrest of Fields and have no knowledge of the information possessed by McClaren.

Blevins was murdered on a Saturday night some time between 10 o'clock and midnight. It is believed that the crime was committed for the purpose of robbery. After his death his accounts were audited and found to be about $80,000 short. It is not believed, however, that he kept that amount of money in his office. Another story is that the murder was committed for the purpose of securing certain important papers which he had in his safe.

MRS. FIELDS KNOWS HER HUSBAND IS INNOCENT

Says He Has Never Been Away from Her at Night in Seventeen Years.

"My husband can prove an alibi," said Mrs. Frank J. Fields to a reporter for the Gazette at her home, No. 515 Wicklow street, yesterday afternoon. Around her chair four little children, ignorant of the enormity of the charge against their father, interrupted her conversation with their noisy prattle.

"We have been married 17 years, and in that time my husband has never been away from home at night unless I accompanied him. To my knowledge he has never been in New Castle. I doubt if he ever heard of the Blevins murder." Mrs. Fields spoke confidently. Her inflamed eye-lids showed the marks of tears but there was not a tremor in her voice. She was certain that the charge of murder was groundless.

"Judson Fields, who is said to have made the confession of the murder, was my husband's half brother," said Mrs. Fields. "He was the youngest of my father-in-law's family, and was about 23 years of age. He was unsteady and was the black sheep of the family. For a time he was employed in a pottery at New Brighton, and later we heard that he had been imprisoned in the Lawrence county jail, and that he had escaped. For a long time we heard little of him until a letter was received, about a year ago, from Kansas, saying that he had died there of typhoid fever. Judson was unmarried, and when in Pittsburgh made his home with his mother, in Breedshill street. His mother died last year.

"We have lived here about 13 years. My husband, who is a contracting painter, engaged in business with my brother, Frank Ruff, who lives in the adjoining house; has done work for many prominent business men, and is well known here and in Allegheny. His brother, Wesley Fields, who lives in the East End, likewise is well known here.

"My husband had just arisen this morning, shortly after 6 o'clock, when a constable from New Castle met him at the door and asked him to accompany him 'down the river,' adding that he had a warrant for my husband's arrest. Frank at first took the matter as a joke and asked for whose murder he was being arrested. The officer then told that it was for the killing of Blevins, and spoke of the confession which Judson had made. My husband willing left, saying to me that he would soon return and prove that he was no murderer."

Fields is a prosperous tradesman, and bears an excellent reputation in his neighborhood. The family lives in a neat frame house in Wicklow street, on the hill above Penn avenue, overlooking Highland park. They are members of the Church of God, in Spahr street.

Fields has been a life-long friend of Attorney J. A. Wakefield. Mr. Wakefield has been attorney for the firm of Field & Ruff and yesterday afternoon went to New Castle to look after his client's case.

Fields will have no difficulty in obtaining character witnesses. Dr. J. B. Crombie of No. 500 North avenue, Allegheny, family physician for Fields, said last night that the imprisoned man has always borne a spotless reputation. Among his friends was the late Col. William A. Herron, for whom one of Fields' children was named.

It may develop that vengeance was the object of Judson Fields' alleged deathbed statement. The half-brother had often depended upon Frank Fields for money and raised discord in the family when it was refused.

BRITISH SOLDIERS COMING TO AMERICA

Will Give Exhibitions of the Gymnastic Training of the English Army Service.

LONDON, Oct. 15.—Gen. Young has secured the consent of Earl Roberts and Mr. Brodrick to send a dozen of the best British non-commissioned officers to America that they may give exhibitions of their gymnastic training as an example of that which is carried out in the British service. The war office will pay the expenses.

Gen. Young hopes to be able to get the war department at Washington to send a dozen American non-commissioned officers to England, so that they may investigate the developments of the setting-up drill as it is practiced in this country.

The Pilgrims club, the newly organized Anglo-American organization, gave a luncheon to Generals Corbin, Wood and Young today at the Carlton hotel. War Secretary Brodrick proposed toasts to the American army and the visiting generals. Ambassador Choate and Anthony Hope spoke of the value of such meetings in fostering good relations between the two countries.

Attendance at the New Exposition continues its phenomenal gait, for neither rain nor cold can keep the crowds away. Magnificent program of Damrosch's compositions tonight.

In response to numerous requests Mr. Damrosch this afternoon will play Schubert's beautiful unfinished symphony. Lucklone sings his great "Danny Deever" song tonight.

Rheumatism Cured.

FLEMING'S

is a famous prescription which we have dispensed for over twenty-five years. We do not know of a Rheumatic remedy that meets the requirements of this section as this one does.

In cases of Muscular, Inflammatory or Sciatic Rheumatism it invariably relieves in a few days, and one or two bottles generally effects a cure. We have the record of several cases that were entirely relieved by this remedy after trying almost everything else and suffering for years. It certainly is worthy of a trial. Price, $1.00 per bottle. Sent by express, carefully packed, on receipt of price.

NEW PLAN WILL BLOCK WABASH

B. & O. Projects Gigantic Yards Along Allegheny's River Front

BASEBALL PARK MUST GO

Use of It and Circus Ground are Essential--Connection Between Wabash and Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburgh Will Be Shut Off.

The plan of the Wabash to cross the Allegheny river about Fourth street, connect with the Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburgh and snatch its share of the northeastern traffic through this alliance is to be blocked if the Pennsylvania interests can do it.

Ordinances were introduced into Allegheny select council yesterday by Councilman John W. Robinson giving the Baltimore & Ohio, through the Pittsburgh & Western the right to make numerous crossings over Grant avenue and School street at grade. One immediate result of their passage will be the removal of the baseball grounds, on which Pittsburgh has just finished winning two National league pennants.

The apparent intention, as explained by a prominent Baltimore & Ohio railroad official last night, it to turn all that portion of Allegheny, bounded by Craig and Robinson streets, South avenue and the Allegheny and Ohio rivers, as far downstream as Sproat alley, into a great freight yard, something which the Pittsburgh & Western long contemplated, and the present Baltimore & Ohio management considers an immediate necessity.

Owns Most of Ground.

The ground to be embraced in the new yards is nearly all owned by the railroad already and includes Exposition park, the circus grounds, the old Pittsburgh & Western shop site, ground already occupied by tracks and School street frontage. There are several properties along Grant avenue that are still owned by private individuals, but they can be purchased at almost any time.

The Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburgh railroad has five acres of yards that will thus be completely surrounded and shut off from any connection with the Wabash line. The Pittsburgh & Western, under its agreement with the city of Allegheny, cannot refuse another railroad the right to use its tracks in that city, if they can connect, but at the elevation called for in the Wabash plans for entering Pittsburgh, it will be an engineering impossibility to get down to grade on the other bank of the Allegheny.

The Baltimore & Ohio interests also admit that the new scheme is intended as an aid to a proposed connection with Neville Island, where so many great industrial plants are now locating. In fact, they are free to confess that if no other way can be found, they will use a car ferry to get a slice of the traffic.

Opposition to the ordinances is not yet developed. The railroad owns the wharfage at the foot of School street, and the property on both sides of it, in the district practically closed by the grade crossings between Robinson street and the river.

Ball Park Must Go.

From Grant avenue property owners and the men interested in the Union bridge, there is likely to be some opposition, but the railroad men say that the bridge will have to be raised anyway in the near future, and the crossings will then be below grade, and they are willing to buy the Grant avenue property involved if necessary.

The famous old baseball park will have to go. The railroad company says Barney Dreyfuss and his partners are good tenants and they would not inconvenience him unless it were necessary, but they need the ground and he will have to hunt up a new location. The lease has five years yet to run, but an amicable agreement is likely, and even if there is bitter opposition from the baseball people, the lease can be acquired like any other property right, by condemnation.

The ordinances were absolutely unexpected, and when they became known, created some excitement in the camps of the Wabash and Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburgh, and it is expected that the greatest opposition will come from those interests, whose alliance affords Allegheny the only chance to get a railroad, that is independent of Pennsylvania control.

THE WEATHER.

Fair.

It looks as though the long waited Indian summer was at last at hand. Beginning yesterday morning with the heaviest frost of the season, the skies showed almost cloudless and the day was a most pleasant one, barring the high wind, which kept the dust flying all over the city during the morning and early afternoon. The minimum temperature was 40 at 7 o'clock in the morning, and the maximum was 61, at 4 in the afternoon. Washington weather reports indicate continued fair weather, probably warmer.

NEWSIES WERE THE GUESTS OF HONOR

Three Hundred of Them Saw a Newsboy Hero at the Empire.

Over 300 newsboys, guests of the Chronicle-Telegraph, witnessed the performance of "A Little Outcast" at the Empire theater last night. The piece was one dealing with the life of a newsboy, and as such struck a responsive chord in the hearts of the news venders.

Long before the doors opened the lads had congregated about the theater entrance, eager to be admitted. In fact, eight of them, thinking the "boys" were to attend the afternoon performance, arrived at the theater at 2 o'clock. The manager, Mr. McCullough, informed them that their tickets were for the evening, and told them to go home, but they never left the vicinity until the doors opened at 7:30, and did not have a thing to eat except peanuts.

The little lads that sell the newspapers are passed by in this world with but little thought. The sight last night of that army of boys was well calculated to be food for sober thought. Pushed out in the world to earn their living at an early age, without education other than knowledge gained through reading at odd moments the papers they sell to earn their bread, they deserve credit for their game fight against fate.

What though the rain be pelting down in torrents; what though the heat be terribly oppressive; what though the snow is flying thick and fast; what though the cold be so intense that the bulb of the thermometer freezes—these lads are always at their posts crying "Extra" with all their strength.

The little newsboy in the plot, "Bob," was portrayed by Miss Anna Blancka in a particularly noteworthy manner, and the picturesque slang which she used was greatly appreciated, by the newsies. At almost every turn the lads could recognize themselves or the "pal" in Miss Blancka's impersonation. The boys were orderly throughout the play save for occasional outbursts of applause at some familiar incident.

LIVE STOCK MEN COMING.

Lively Tussle Between Packers and Their Enemies Promised in Pittsburgh Convention.

CHICAGO, ILL., Oct. 15.—(Special.)—Western delegates to the National Live Stock Exchange convention, which opens at Pittsburgh Friday, converged here today and will leave tomorrow afternoon for Pittsburgh on a special train over the Baltimore & Ohio railroad.

J. B. Blanchard of Omaha, a leading live stock man, will start the attack on the packers' combine by an address on "The Packers' Merger as It Will Affect the Live Stock Commission Men." Much pressure is being brought to bear to induce Mr. Blanchard to forego delivering his address, as the packing interests are well represented in the various delegations. The discussion promises to be heated.

The delegates going on the special train are:

Chicago—W. H. Thompson, Levi B. Doud, C. S. Jones, L. W. Conover, J. C. Church, R. S. Murray, E. H. Ingwersen, John T. Martin, Charles Kelly, M. P. Buell, Charles Haas, C. L. Will, E. C. Brown, W. B. Eaton, S. E. Wood and C. W. Baker.

GOOD PIANOS

Contribute Largely to Make the Home a Place of Joyousness.

What is pleasanter during these long evenings than to be one of a family circle in which the enjoyment of music forms a common bond among the members of the family? A piano in the home probably helps more than anything else can, to make home the place of joy and light-hearted merriment, the place of refuge from the cares and worries that infest the day. There should be a piano in every home. But it should be a good piano. Not necessarily a high-priced instrument, but one of a good standard make—a worthy, reliable piano that it will be a pleasure to play upon and to listen to.

Of course everybody wishes to get the best piano that circumstances will permit. And those people who insist on having the best at any price always buy the A. B. Chase piano, which is conceded by the world's great artists to be incomparably the best piano in the world today. The supremacy of the A. B. Chase is so thoroughly established that no one who is informed regarding things musical ever thinks of questioning it. The A. B. Chase is an art piano for artists. There was a time when other makes were held in high esteem. And traditions of them still come down to us. But within the past few years no other make of piano has been deemed worthy to be mentioned in the same breath with the A. B. Chase. This piano is naturally the one that will first attract your attention when you inspect the superb stock at Hamilton's old reliable music house. But you will also see a number of other notable makes, such as the famous J. & C. Fischer, of which over 118,000 are now in use; the sweet-toned Schumann, the Hamilton, the Smith & Barnes, and others. You can get a good piano here for $200 up. And your old instrument will be accepted as part payment on a new one. Write if you cannot call.

PRETTY ROMANCE ENDS IN DIVORCE

Rich Philadelphian Seeks Separation and Blames Brother-in-Law.

VOYAGE BEGAN TROUBLE

When Husband Returned He Found His Wife's Affections Had Grown Cold, and He Sued Her Relative for $50,000.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Public Ledger Building.
PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 15.

Charles W. Bailey, vice president of the Bailey, Banks & Biddle Company, and a figure in club circles, has filed an application for divorce from his wife, Selina Coe Kerr Bailey. The pair were married after a picturesque romance in November, 1900. Desertion is the ground for the application.

Mrs. Bailey, as Miss Selina Coe, was a social favorite in New York a few years ago, handsome, wealthy and talented. She married when quite young Chauncey Kerr, a rich broker. He died in the late 90's. In the fall of 1900 Mr. Bailey met the young widow at the Tepauwas club, a shooting organization in the heart of the Adirondacks. They became friends and on hunting and fishing expeditions were constant companions.

One day, not long after they met, they were waiting together for prey, hidden by the foliage, when a distant gunner, a Dr. Charles T. Dade of New York, mistook them for a deer and fired at them. His bullet went through Mr. Bailey's back, then wounded Mrs. Kerr's leg so badly that it had to be amputated. Dr. Dade tended to both victims. They were married at Mrs. Kerr's home three or four weeks later.

Mr. and Mrs. Bailey's married life was a happy one, it is said, until the early part of this year, when Mr. Bailey went abroad to bring home the body of his mother, who died in Paris on a visit to her daughter, Mr. Bailey's sister Katherine, Countess de Sibour. When he returned, his application is credited with stating, he was received very coldly by his wife, who asserted she had proofs of wrongdoing on his part. These, Mr. Bailey's friends say, consisted of a forged affidavit signed by a woman whom Mrs. Bailey refused to name.

As a result of this, Mr. Bailey instituted proceedings against E. Halloway Coe, his wife's brother, for alienation of her affections and for libel and defamation of character. He asked $50,000 damages. Those suits are pending in the New York courts. He blames Coe, it is said, for all his troubles with Mrs. Bailey.

THE WASHINGTON BANK.

An Authentic Statement Sets at Rest Some of the Many Rumors Afloat.

As many rumors and false impressions have arisen concerning the Washington National bank, soon to be started in Fifth avenue, the following statement is made by the temporary committee:

"Matters have progressed to the point at which a building in Fifth avenue, near Stevenson street, has been optioned, the exact amount of capital stock and surplus has not been fully determined, but there have been more than enough subscriptions to capitalize the new institution at any amount that the prospects of business justify. The officers and directors have not as yet been determined, there being no slate of any kind settled upon. The bank expects to start business by the end of the year."

KANAWHA COAL MINES EXPECTED TO RESUME

Report That the Operators Are Ready to Make Concessions.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CHARLESTON, W. VA., Oct. 15.—It is rumored here that within three weeks all of the mines in the Kanawha coal field will be in operation. It is believed that a compromise agreement is under consideration which will result in the resumption of all the mines, and it is the general belief that if a settlement is effected it will be on the same basis as the Kanawha & Hocking company settled with its men over a week ago, when the men were granted a nine-hour day, twice-a-month pay, reduction in the price of powder, the right to appoint their own check weighmen, but no recognition of the union.

There is considerable activity among the operators, and miners who were here today stated that they expected to be at work in a few days. Out of the 50 mines in the Kanawha field, over half are producing coal.

UNVEILED RITNER MONUMENT.

Five Thousand Persons Attend Ceremonies Near Carlisle.

CARLISLE, PA., Oct. 15.—(Special.)—The unveiling of the monument in memory of Gov. Joseph Ritner, at Mt. Rock, Cumberland county, took place this afternoon before 5,000 persons. The historical address was delivered by Judge E. W. Biddle of the county court. He was followed by Gov. William A. Stone, State Senator Miller, ex-Senator Lloyd and the Hon. M. A. Embrick.

The monument was unveiled by Miss Katherine Eppley, great-great-granddaughter of Gov. Ritner. The Indian band furnished the music.

ARRESTED FOR FRAUD.

Officers of Correspondence School Taken Into Custody.

SCRANTON, PA., Oct. 15.—Postoffice Inspector Hugh J. Gorman today caused the arrest of the four principal officers of the Alt F. Clark Company, which conducts what is known as the Correspondence Institute of America. The men arrested are Alt F. Clark, president; Conrad Lotz, vice president and treasurer; Louis Conrad, secretary, and William M. Bingham, general manager.

The warrant charges them with using the mails for the purpose of defrauding. They were held in $1,000 bail.

FARMER SHOT DEAD AFTER A WARNING

Neighbor Is Arrested Who Claims Shooting Was Accidental.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

PARKERSBURG, W. VA., Oct. 15.—Some time ago William Hill, a farmer, who lived in Wirt, near the edge of Jackson county, had a barn burned, and on a stump found a written warning that his troubles had only begun. Today he was shot and killed while squirrel hunting. J. Courtney has been arrested and is in jail at Elizabeth, charged with the crime.

Courtney says that he saw Hill move, thought he was a squirrel and fired. Bad feeling is alleged to have existed for some time between Hill and the Courtneys.

SYNOD ELECTS OFFICERS.

There Were Three Candidates for Moderator at Steubenville.

STEUBENVILLE, O., Oct. 15.—(Special.)—The Rev. Robert J. Thompson of Lima was elected moderator of the synod of Ohio over Dr. Plummer of Cadiz, and the Rev. E. T. Lee of Cincinnati. Dr. Swigrett of Chillicothe presbytery was elected stated clerk.

The Synodical Women's society elected the following officers: President, Mrs. N. T. Houston, Urbana; secretary, Mrs. B. R. McClelland, Xenia; treasurer, Miss Alice Patterson, Glendale; Young People's society secretary, Mrs. J. F. Clokey, Massillon; Freedman secretary, Mrs. McKinlen, Steubenville.

KEPT WALLACE OUT.

Preacher Not Permitted to Address Synod at Mercer.

MERCER, PA., Oct. 15.—(Special.)—The appearance of the Rev. Mr. Wallace this afternoon before the synod of the West United Presbyterian church, in session in this place, precipitated a heated discussion, in which he was denied the right to address the synod, and resulted in a vote sustaining the action of the Lake presbytery in refusing to allow him to withdraw his resignation from that body at a recent meeting. The action of the synod is considered the last act in this long-drawn out case.

The synod closed its work tonight.

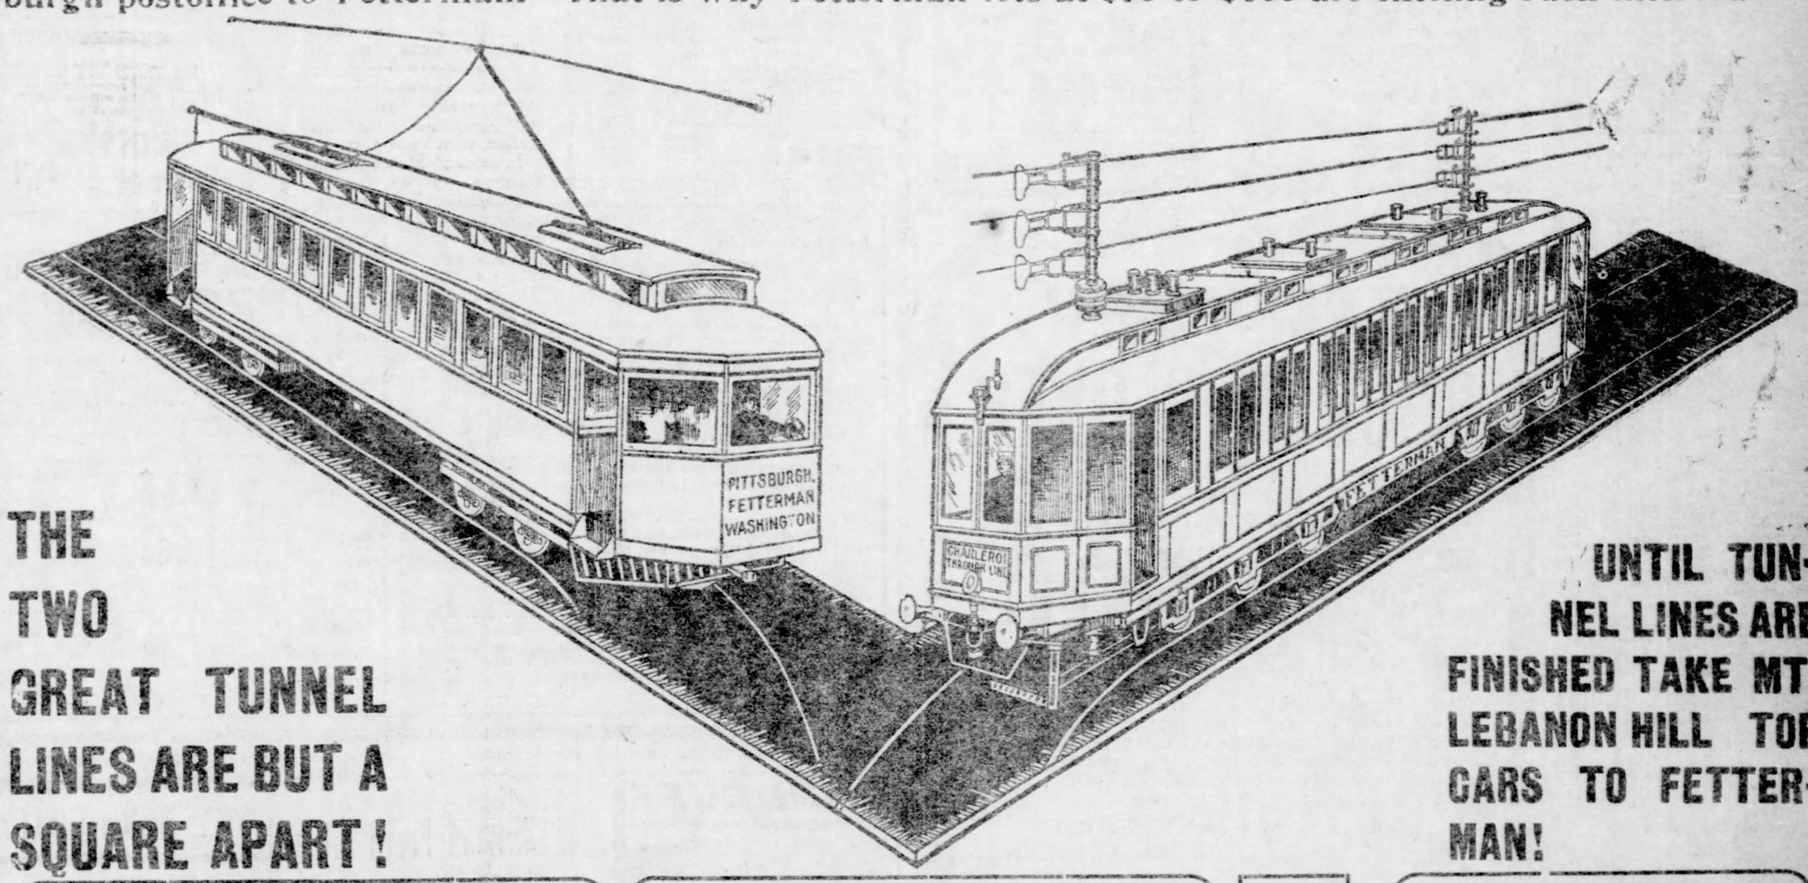
BUY LOTS IN THE SECOND PLAN OF

FETTERMAN

But buy them now. They won't wait. Bear that in mind. Think of what happened to the first plan. The second plan is going with the same speed.

Investors realize when purchasing this great Tunnel property that they are virtually buying downtown real estate. The great high-speed tunnel lines make it that. You cannot go from the Westinghouse Building on Penn Ave. to the Frick Building on Fifth Ave. in less time than you will be able to go from the Pittsburgh postoffice to Fetterman. That is why Fetterman lots at $75 to $600 are exciting such interest.



THE TWO GREAT TUNNEL LINES ARE BUT A SQUARE APART!

UNTIL TUNNEL LINES ARE FINISHED TAKE MT. LEBANON HILL TOP CARS TO FETTERMAN!

You want to remember that Fetterman has traction cars running through it now. No other property that will have either of the tunnel lines has traction service at the present day.

As indicated by illustration the tunnel lines which will take you to Fetterman are but a square apart. You can see from almost any portion of the property the Little Washington Tunnel Line passing Bankville avenue and you will observe that the Charleroi Tunnel Line extends directly through our plan on West Liberty avenue. This is the only part of the entire Mt. Lebanon district where the two tunnel lines converge in such wonderful proximity, and as one man expressed it, "a five-year-old child could see which property to select after looking over this district and watching the gigantic improvements now in progress."

We want to put a bug in the ear of everybody who has not seen Fetterman, but who has resolved to come out and see the second plan. Don't buy until you are sure you have set foot on Fetterman. Ask the salesman to prove something to you. Ask him to show you where the tunnel lines are. Ask him to show you where the Charleroi tunnel line is to come through and also where the Little Washington tunnel line is located. After you have put this test to the salesman you will be posted on the facts which make Fetterman superior to any other property in the Mt. Lebanon district.

At present the schedule time to Fetterman from the corner of Fifth Avenue and Smithfield Street on the Mt. Lebanon Hill Top cars is 26 minutes. Often the cars are unable to run on schedule and the distance is not covered under 30 to 35 minutes. This is due to the scarcity of cars and the congestion in the down-town district. The same delay is suffered on all the lines in the city, but when the tunnel lines are in operation there will be a more perfect service on both the tunnel and the other city lines, for the reason that extensive general improvements are being planned that will become effective within the next few months.

Crucible Steel Company's Annual Report Shows Surprises.

YEAR'S SURPLUS $785,778

Net Earnings, Including Dividends, Were $3,552,467, an Increase of $31,166—Undivided Profit is Equal to 3.14 Per Cent.

The annual report of the Crucible Steel Company of America, which was presented to the stockholders yesterday, contains the surprising information that $1,000,000 has been charged off from earnings for depreciation. The year before this charging off was held to a little over $490,000. The big slice this year is a reflection of the business policy of the altered organization of the company, and reveals the hand of President Reuben Miller, whose ideas are largely influenced by his long and successful experience as a conservative banker. Another interesting feature is found in the improvement expenditures of $504,276 being included in expenses.

President Miller announces that the company is establishing a growing export trade throughout the world. He is sanguine that the completion of the plants at Clairton, which will give the company its own raw material supply, will remove the handicap of buying the supply in the market at high prices.

The report shows about 3:14 per cent earned on the par value of the common stock, after charging off $1,000,000 for depreciation and $437,500 for the preferred stock dividend, the eight, payable September 30 last. The earnings on the preferred market value of the common stock amount to approximately 14.7 per cent.

The next earnings, including dividends, for 1902 were $3,552,467, against $3,521,200 in 1901, an increase of $31,166. Betterments for the year were $504,276 against $283,061 in 1901, or an increase of $221,275. Last year the total surplus of the company was $1,313,673 70, and with the balance of $785,77 19 for 1902, that item now stands at $2,1 6,451 89.

President Reuben Miller said in his statement:

The result of the past year shows net earnings $3,552,467 94, and there is no doubt but that this amount would have been larger if your company had been able to secure prompt delivery of raw material ordered and contracted for. This, and the delays incident to severe congestion of freight traffic, for both receiving and outgoing product, has reduced the aggregate output for the year by at least 50,000 tons. The raw material deficiency will be largely corrected by the product from the Clarion Steel Company's works, and we trust the delays in transportation which still exist, may in time be overcome by the railroad companies.

A complete plant for the manufacture of cold rolled steel and wire wire is in process of erection on the property adjoining the West Bergen works, and it is proposed to consolidate in that plant all the cold rolled and wire production of the subsidiary companies.

The sale of the Por smouth and Cumberland plants was effected in order to more fully consolidate the operations of your company and decrease the cost of the management and production.

The plants of the company have been maintained in good condition and all repairs have been charged to operating expenses. The betterment, including the paid portion of the unfinished West Bergen the cold rolled and wire drawing plant, amounted to $503,760 08.

Your company is the owner of all the capital stock of the Clarion Steel Company, and expects to receive from this company the manufactured tonnage of a supply of suitable raw material, and whatever profit may be incident to its manufacture.

The board of directors at a meeting held October 7, resolved to charge off for depreciation and allowances $1,000,000, and carry balance of net profit for the year after payment of dividends on the preferred stock to the surplus account.

Arrangements with the holder will enable us to pay off the mortgage on your La belle works on December 31, 1902, in amount $166,000. This, when paid, will reduce the outstanding mortgage or bond indebtedness on your plants to $87,000.

A beginning has been made for trade in foreign parts, especially in Japan, South Africa, Australia, Mexico and South America, and the encouragement given in all of these countries would indicate a market of considerable value in the near future.

"The orders being received and on file justify the belief in the continuance of a demand for the maximum output of your works."

TURKS DESTROY TOWNS AND MASSACRE PEOPLE

Women Compelled to Flee from Christian Villages in Bulgaria.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

SOFIA, BULGARIA, Oct. 15.—A report has been received from the frontier that in the vicinity of Dubnitza 600 women and children have fled into Bulgaria to escape Turkish troops. They report the destruction of five Christian villages and the massacre of the inhabitants of Oranovo.

The two Macedonian committees and M. Bontcheff's committee jointly decided today to call a mass meeting for October 18 of representatives of the provincial Macedonian societies and to send telegrams to the capitals of Europe praying statesmen to protect the Christians of Macedonia against Turkish atrocities.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 15.—It is declared in government circles that the Bulgarian revolutionary bands have everywhere been defeated. The porte understands that the Bulgarian government has decided to suppress the Macedonian committee.

CHARLES RUBEN BUYS LAND IN M'KEESPORT

He Paid $140,000, for 120 Foot Frontage in Fifth Avenue.

Charles Ruben of the firm of Solomon & Ruben, yesterday purchased what is known as the Maurer estate property, at Fifth avenue and Walnut street, McKeesport, paying Julius Bieler, his wife, Emilie Bieler, and Caroline Brecht, $140,000 cash. This property is considered the cream of McKeesport realty, fronting in its most prominent street, Fifth avenue, 120 feet, and extending back along Walnut street 140 feet. The agreement was signed yesterday and the property is to be transferred February 14, 1903. The deal was made through A. F. Loeb and William J. German, McKeesport real estate agents. Mr. Ruben was represented by Attorney A. L. Cramer, and the Maurer estate by Reed, Smith, Shaw and Beal.

The present property is improved with a number of small business stores. Mr. Ruben has not signified his intentions with reference to the property, but will probably raze the present structures in the near future and erect one of the largest business blocks in McKeesport, giving a new impetus to the progress of that city. Fifth avenue frontage in McKeesport is increasing rapidly in value and the present purchase shows in some measure the effect of heavy expenditures by a large number of corporations, including the United States Steel Company, and the rapid development of the resident districts of the city.

MONOPOLY OF GLASS SANDS

The Hancock White Sand Co. Is Purchased by Big Combine.

Prices Made Same to All Buyers, but Not Advanced — Close Selling Agreements Practically Control Small Outsiders.

A practical monopoly of sands used in the manufacture of glass has been concluded in Pittsburgh. This was done quietly on August 1 by the Pennsylvania Glass Sand Company, which purchased outright from F. A. Kingsley of No. 240 Fourth avenue the company known as the Hancock White Sand Company, the plant and property of which are located on the Potomac river at Hancock station, W. Va. The price was in the neighborhood of $100,000.

The new combine now owns absolutely all of the glass manufacturing sands of the entire east, with the exception of three or four small independent plants, the combined output of which is not great enough to make any serious difference to the glass trade.

Indeed, owing to a close working agreement the combine practically controls most of these, and could doubtless dictate prices all over the country. Among the independent concerns are the Pittsburgh White Sand Company at Mapleton, the Berkeley Sand Company at Berkeley Springs and the Crystal Sand Company in Mifflin county. The daily output of the last two aggregates about 175 tons, while that of the Pittsburgh White Sand Company is not believed to be more. Another independent company has its offices at Warren, O.

Moves Leading Up to Present Deal.

The Pennsylvania Glass Sand Company was chartered some three years ago, in Delaware, with a nominal capital. In May, 1901, a syndicate of Pittsburgh and eastern capitalists purchased the Delaware company, charter and all. Then a Pennsylvania charter was obtained and the company organized under the laws of this state. Selling arrangements were entered into with all the leading independent plants, whereby the new company secured absolute control of their separate output. The customers and prices were dictated by the Pennsylvania Glass Sand Company. The Pittsburgh White Sand Company was a party to this agreement, which, however, was not satisfactory as a whole, and resulted finally in an effort to secure options for the purchase outright of all the independent companies. This was successful, with the exception of the Pittsburgh White Sand Company, of which C. W. Phillips is president. It withdrew from the deal and remains independent.

Brown Bros. & Co., bankers of Philadelphia, Baltimore and New York, financed the Pennsylvania Glass Sand Company, which was capitalized at $2,000,000, of which $1,000,000 is 7 per cent cumulative preferred stock and $1,000,000 common, the par of all being $100 a share. Under this arrangement options were secured on the Dull works at McVeytown, Pa.; the Macklin & Stephenson Sand Company at the same place; the Juniata Sand Company (which owned the Franklin Sand Company) at Granville and Mills Creek; the Enterprise Sand Company at Vineyard, Pa., and the Keystone Sand Company (which owned the Empire Sand Company), the Mapleton Sand Company and the Columbia Sand Company, all of Mapleton, Pa. These options were closed and the cash price paid last June.

No Change in Prices.

After the purchase of the Hancock company the combine entered into an agreement with the three small remaining companies that it would not sell to their customers, and they were not to sell to its customers.

The combine has as president James A. Chambers, who is president of the American Window Glass Company. John C. Dawson is treasurer and S. S. Woods general manager, with headquarters at Lewistown, Pa. The Pittsburgh offices are in the Fidelity Title and Trust Company building in Fourth avenue, and Edward J. Cochran is general manager.

Mr. Cochran has notified the glass manufacturers that there will be no change in the prices of their sands, except that all buyers, big and little, will have to pay the same figure per ton.

The present output of the combine is about 1,400 tons a day, but the company is preparing to erect additional plants which will largely increase this figure.

It is understood that persons closely affiliated with the Pennsylvania Railroad Company are largely interested in the combine, and the Pennsylvania Railroad Company is one of its big customers, getting about 250 tons a day for use on its rails in slippery weather. At a meeting to be held in Philadelphia on October 30 it is understood that Mr. Kingsley will be elected to the board of directors. The company has been so recently organized that it has not yet begun to pay dividends, but its earnings are reported to be most satisfactory, and when all working arrangements are perfected, are expected to largely increase.

WABASH PLANNING TO SPEND BIG MONEY IN LITTLE MOUNTAIN STATE

E. D. Fulton, secretary of the Little Kanawha railroad, a Wabash property, was in Pittsburgh yesterday conferring with local officials of the Gould interests. Mr. Fulton announced that bids have been invited for the construction of 88 miles of road between Elizabeth and Burnsville, W. Va., which marks the first step toward linking the various properties of the Wabash in West Virginia. It is intended to secure by this route a through line from the west to the seaboard.

The work in question is the extension of the Little Kanawha from its present terminus at Elizabeth, W. Va., to Burnsville. From the latter point additional road will be built for 40 miles to connect with the West Virginia Central & Pittsburgh. The contracts, soon to be let, represent an expenditure of $3,000,000. Most of the grading is exceptionally heavy and at three places long tunnels will be necessary. As soon as these contracts have been let bids will be asked on an extension of the Little Kanawha to Zanesville, O., where the line will join the Wheeling & Lake Erie.

"Within two years all the properties of the Gould interests in West Virginia will be connected," said Secretary Fulton. "These comprise the Marietta, Columbus & Cleveland, the Little Kanawha, the West Virginia Central & Pittsburgh and the Western Maryland. The connecting links will aggregate more than 200 miles of road, to be constructed at a cost of $10,000,000. When completed the Wabash will have a direct route from the west to Baltimore for through freight shipments. In addition to building new lines, the company will reconstruct the present properties, increasing the cost of the entire project to upward of $15,000,000."

ARBITRATION BOARD.

Central Passenger Association Will Thus Adjust Differences With Trunk Lines.

A movement has been started in the Central Passenger association to form a board of arbitration to consider irregularities on inter-territorial tickets. Committees have been appointed in the Trunk Line and Central associations, and will meet in New York on Tuesday to outline the plans. Some irregularities have existed in the routing of business by agents in the two associations, and there have also been disputes over the division of fares received. Heretofore all differences of this nature have been discussed by officials of the lines interested, and, having no board to which to refer the matters, the troubles have never been properly adjusted.

The Trunk Line committee is composed of J. R. Wood, Pennsylvania; George H. Daniels, New York Central, and D. B. Martin Baltimore & Ohio. The Central Passenger association has appointed E. A. Ford, Pennsylvania lines west; D. W. Cooke, Erie, and G. W. Vaux, Grand Trunk.

COSTLY IMPROVEMENTS.

Plans of B., R. & P., Involving $10,000,000 Expenditure Being Perfected.

J. M. Floesch, chief engineer of the Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburgh, came to Pittsburgh yesterday to look after the shipment of rails and other material for the completion of branch lines in Indiana county, including the extension to Indiana.

Chief Engineer Floesch stated yesterday afternoon that the work on this project is progressing rapidly, and it is believed the line will be ready in the early spring. Mr. Floesch is also engineering surveys for several additional branches that will open valuable coal and lumber territory in the northern part of the state. The cost of the improvements at hand is estimated at $10,000,000.

Wabash Orders 1000 Freights Cars.

Orders were placed yesterday by the Wabash company for 1,000 steel freight cars, destined for service on the Pittsburgh extension. The cars are being made by the American Car and Foundry Company and will be delivered about July 1, at which time the Wabash expects to be operating trains out of Pittsburgh. The new cars are of a special design, prepared by President Joseph Ramsey, Jr., and constructed principally for shipments of steel and iron products. It is also announced that orders have been given for 25 locomotives destined to do service on the Pittsburgh line.

Big Improvements on Old Portage.

The Pennsylvania Railroad Company yesterday gave a contract to H. S. Kerbaugh & Co., for the grading and masonry required in the rebuilding of the Portage railroad, a project authorized at the last meeting of the directors. The work will start on the main line, at the eastern end of Gallitzin tunnel, and extend to the Hollidaysburg branch at Newry, a distance of 12 miles. The Portage line will be made double track and the work completed within four months. It will serve as a freight road.

New Schedule Board.

At Union station a new schedule board, showing the departure and arrival of all trains, was put in service yesterday. The schedules are arranged in a comprehensive manner, giving a complete list of the Pennsylvania service in and out of Pittsburgh. It is shown that each day there are handled through Union station 262 passenger trains.

Railroad Notes.

Col. R. G. Butler, general manager of the Lake Erie, Alliance & Western, is in Pittsburgh.

W. E. Langan, traveling passenger agent of the Erie at Youngstown, was in town yesterday.

R. McC. Smith, southern passenger agent of the Grand Trunk at Detroit, was among the visiting railroad men yesterday.

Capt. A. P. Boller, consulting engineer of the Wabash, in charge of the local bridge work, came to Pittsburgh yesterday to look after the work here.

On account of the continued increase in traffic, the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie has been forced to borrow 12 engines from the Erie, Lake Shore and Lehigh Valley.

C. E. Kissenger was yesterday appointed assistant train master of the Monongahela division, P. R. R., with jurisdiction at Pittsburgh, South Side and McKeesport.

E. D. Youngman, chief clerk in the general passenger office of the Pennsylvania railroad at Philadelphia, has been appointed district passenger agent, with headquarters at Baltimore.

Conference of Catholic Priests.

The semi-annual conference of Roman Catholic clergymen of the Pittsburgh diocese, which began its session on Tuesday at St. Paul's cathedral, continued yesterday and finished all matters of importance before it. The conference was presided over by the Rev. J. Suhr, rector of SS. Peter and Paul's church, and some 250 priests of Western Pennsylvania were in attendance.

ANTI-TRUST HEARING.

New York Attorney Listens to Arguments for and Against Prosecuting Coal Railroads.

ALBANY, N. Y., Oct. 15.—A hearing was given today before Attorney General Davies on the application that proceedings be commenced against the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, the Delaware & Hudson Railroad Company and other carrying companies on the ground that they are violating the anti-trust laws of the state.

The railroad companies were represented by Vice President David Wilcox of the Delaware & Hudson Railway Company and C. N. Hough of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, the petitioner, by C. J. Shearn.

The coal companies entered a general denial. Mr. Shearn introduced contracts between the railroad companies and coal mine owners, identical in character, which he averred showed that the companies were working in concert and in violation of the anti-trust law.

SIXTEEN PAGES.

It has passed into a proverb that criticism is easy but performance is difficult. The Democratic party takes the easy way of dealing with public affairs. It has a negative, not a positive policy to offer. The Democratic candidates in their speeches throughout the state have been voluble of censure upon Republican shortcomings, but their chief argument in favor of the Democratic party is that its success will smash the Republican machine. Mr. Pattison told the outpouring of people who greeted him in Philadelphia: "I believe that the fires of good government are being kindled all over the state and that they are destined to grow into a great conflagration, which will consume the whole Republican machine of Pennsylvania." But after the house we live in now has been burned down what sort of a house will the Democratic party give us? When the discussion reaches that point Democratic orators change the subject. Mr. Pattison did not go on to say what the Democratic party would do when its machine should be installed at Harrisburg, but proceeded to raise a cry of fraud, charging that there was a plot to produce a fraudulent majority in Philadelphia by the use of bogus tax receipts.

Candid Republicans do not deny that the election laws as at present existing do not sufficiently safeguard the ballot box, but the charges of wholesale fraud sufficient to vitiate election results are demonstrably false. The returns in the main correspond with the movements of public opinion, and if the people really want to elect Mr. Pattison governor they will do so under the present election laws. The Republican party does not pretend that the laws cannot be improved, and it tells how the improvement will be effected. When constitutional authority for the purpose has been granted, as it will be, a personal registration law for cities will be passed. In addition to this a ballot law will be passed which will enable each voter, without difficulty or uncertainty, to cast his ballot for the candidates for whom he wants to vote and no others. The Republican party is pledged to specific measures, the Democratic party clamors for ballot reform. Reform is a vague term; not implying anything more than some sort of change. Whether or not the change will be an improvement depends upon what sort of a change is proposed. We do not think the ballot bill which Mr. Guthrie boomed last session would be an improvement. His idea was that all party classification should be prohibited and that voters should be compelled to roam over the vast expanse of a ballot crowded with names and check off the candidates they preferred, taking the risk of defeating their intent by wrong or doubtful marking. If this is what the Democratic candidates mean by ballot reform why don't they say so frankly? But this would be something positive; they prefer indefinite blather about their plans and purposes.

The policy of mere negation is that of the Democratic party in general. Its appeal is to discontent with existing conditions; it has nothing to offer to the hope and confidence of the American people, and hence it is of no utility except to voice a protest or serve as a means of chastising the Republican party. But the people have learned that it is dangerous to use it for such a purpose, for there is no telling what terrible breaks it may make when trusted with authority. The people are not disposed to go it blind, so that dependence upon Republican mistakes for a chance to win at the polls will not again secure a lease of power for the Democratic party. Perception of this fact has brought ex-President Cleveland out of his retirement, and the recommendations he makes show how badly off is the Democratic party for real issues. The Republican program is definitely known. President Roosevelt submits it on every possible occasion. Its leading features are Cuban reciprocity, trust control and tariff revision. What has the Democratic party to say for itself? Practically nothing but this: that the Republican party is by nature bad, and the Democratic party is good, and hence ought to be entrusted with public authority. But even if this were all true the people would like to know what those good Democrats propose to do if they get into office. Mr. Cleveland evidently thinks that the people are entitled to some satisfaction on that point, so he proposes that the Democratic party shall present the old issue of tariff reform. He says: "The best assurance of success for the Democracy in the next national campaign will be found in a sincere and unremitting insistence upon its old-time doctrine of a fair and beneficent tariff adjustment."

The Republican party will be perfectly willing to try conclusions with the Democratic party on that issue if it is presented. The Republican party is already committed to tariff revision; if the Democratic party offers as an alternative "its old-time doctrine" of tariff reform, the Republican party will be prompt to come to a general engagement upon that line. To a party in search of an issue, however, there is a more profitable tip in a suggestion which Mr. Cleveland hints at but does not develop. Referring to the facility with which the Republican party gets in ahead on important issues, he remarked: "We permitted them to crowd us from the ground that belonged to us on the question of sound money." There is a good claim in that region still to be staked out. So long as the currency system is so rigid and cumbrous that it cannot respond to the need of business, the financial problem will vex our politics. The Republican party has stopped short with the secure establishment of the gold standard, and there is small prospect of further currency legislation until a fresh pressure of public demand is experienced. If the Democratic party can stir up this matter it will be discharging a public service.

OUR CURIOUS CURRENCY SYSTEM.

Our financial columns yesterday contained some figures in regard to the circulating medium which reveal the curious paradox that under our currency system business prosperity generates financial distress. Last week the bank clearings aggregated $2,511,000,000, an increase of $418,000,000 over the same week last year and an increase of $910,000,000 over the same week two years ago. The total amount of currency showed an increase of $48,000,000 over the corresponding period a year ago and an increase of $152,000,000 over the amount two years ago. The volume of transactions is running so far in excess of the machinery of exchange that business is cramped for want of ordinary accommodations.

A shortage of bank note currency is as absurd a phenomenon as would be a shortage of bank checks. What, after all, is a bank note but a cashier's check, and in country districts bank notes fulfill the function discharged by checks in the city. Checks which are simply orders to pay are settled through the clearing house with very little exchange of actual money. One bank holds a lot of these orders on other banks; other banks have similar cross accounts, and when the difference is figured out a comparatively small payment completes a large number of transactions. But checks, while so easily negotiable that they are to a large measure part of the currency system of every city, are not available for the ordinary transactions of country business. A planter has crops to gather and needs money to pay his hands. In any other civilized country in the world he could go to bank and get its notes upon the security of his crops. He can do so in this country, but the law does not allow the bank to issue its notes on the real asset involved in the transaction, but it must deposit government bonds at Washington months in advance. Hence it keeps to the average limit of profitable output of circulation and has no reserve for emergencies. So the actual supply of notes must be drawn from currency reserves elsewhere, and we have the periodical financial stringency accompanying "the moving of the crops."

Furthermore, the law does not permit a bank to have branches so that it can transfer credit from one point to another without cost of exchange. Hence the bank immediately making the loan charges not only for the accommodation but also for the expense to the bank of procuring the funds, so that the borrower pays practically two charges. In every other civilized country in the world a branch office of some strong central bank is at hand to finance the transactions of trade in every district, however remote. There is not a pig market in an Irish country town, or a cattle fair in a Scotch glen but what branch bank managers are at hand to make loans in notes, which are virtually sight drafts upon the central bank at Dublin or Edinburgh, but which fulfill all the functions of money in sustaining the cycle of local exchanges.

Furthermore, not only does the law prohibit the ordinary banking facilities of the civilized world, but it actually interferes to produce an artificial scarcity of the circulating medium just when the need for supply is greatest. The law restricts the supply of credit currency to a strictly limited issue of United States treasury notes and a strictly limited issue of bank notes, secured by the deposit of government bonds, making the privilege cost so much that the tendency on the part of banks is to decline note issues rather than increase them. When times are good customs duties and internal revenue taxes become enormously productive, rolling into the government treasury millions of currency which are thus withdrawn from circulation when needed most. The sub-treasury system peculiar to the government of the United States means simply that the government shall lock up its funds instead of banking them. The monstrous folly of the system is mitigated in practice by various expedients according to the discretion of the secretary of the treasury, such as putting treasury funds on deposit in various banks or buying up government bonds and thus letting out funds in payment for them. This is what is called "coming to the relief of Wall street." The system makes the secretary of the treasury a sort of financial Jupiter at whose nod the money market trembles.

This strange currency system is not the product of intention or contrivance, but is the result of a chapter of accidents. The sub-treasury system dates back to Van Buren's administration, and was introduced to avoid losses by deposits of government funds in state banks. The bond deposit system was introduced as a war measure to make a market for the sale of bonds and without any idea that it was to be the permanent basis of the currency system. The prohibition of branch banks was established rather by judicial interpretation of the national banking law than by direct enactment. The net result is a currency system altogether inadequate to the needs of the country and having pernicious effects which are constantly being experienced and which at intervals produce financial stringency in the midst of general prosperity.

HOW HOPES ARE REALIZED.

The improved conditions of the iron and steel trades are emphasized by the news that mills and foundries in the Birmingham, Ala., district are importing iron from England and Germany. Not many years ago Birmingham was being exploited as a bear on northern iron production. Elaborate arguments appeared in southern and eastern journals tending to the point that the southern furnaces could produce iron so much cheaper than those of the north that northern furnaces were doomed. But the north has increased the number of its furnaces and their capacity. Streams of ore flow into them from the mines of the northwest and iron runs from them in a molten stream, and yet they are insufficient to supply the demand. Meanwhile the southern furnaces that were to inundate the country with pig iron are unable to supply the mills of their own section, and these, looking elsewhere for a supply, find the product of the northern furnaces bought so far ahead that they are compelled to turn from them to draw on Europe. If the expectation of enthusiastic southern investors has been disappointed it is not to the hurt of the south. Existing conditions show that the nation is prosperous and that prosperity is generally diffused. The north has not been compelled to yield its supremacy to the south, but the south has all the prosperity that it can take care of. No section has a monopoly of it. No section is running overtime to the hurt of another section. No one is crippled by another's enterprise. All are busy and the business is bringing rich returns. The wheat crop is large and wheat is in strong demand, because people who do not raise wheat are able to buy a lot of it. The corn crop insures large profits to the corn producer for the same reason. The whirring wheels of the textile mills and the shoe factories and all other factories and manufactories join in the national anthem of rejoicing, and the $5 bills that cross the counter of the merchant are notes in the general harmony more pleasing by far than the chink of the small change he used to hear. The producers and manufacturers of iron are not alone in their glory. All share alike. If the expectation for the southern iron furnaces has not been fulfilled in the way once anticipated, it has been fulfilled in a better way, and the results that have worked out are much more acceptable.

OVERCOMING THE OBSTACLES.

President Mitchell of the mine workers has filed formal protest against the limitations prescribed by the operators for the formation of an arbitration commission by President Roosevelt, his most strenuous objection being to the selection of one of the four United States court judges. This has compelled a reference of the question back to the operators, permitting them to leave the whole matter in the hands of the president, as the miners have expressed their willingness to do, or to modify their limitations. At this writing it is not known what the operators will do, though information may be expected today.

This hitch was not wholly unexpected, but it need not be a very serious obstacle in the way of the speedy settlement that has been generally looked for since Mr. Morgan's visit to the White House. The operators may make a further concession, as they can well afford to, or, failing that, the miners may accept the commission dictated, trusting their interests to President Roosevelt, where they are altogether safe. At most the haggling will cause unnecessary delay, for it cannot be believed the opportunity for settlement will be cast aside through obstinate insistence upon trivial details. The public has the utmost confidence in President Roosevelt that he will be able to select a commission, with or without restrictions, that will make an impartial adjustment. The belligerents would do themselves credit by sharing that confidence.

THE BLEVINS MURDER CASE.

There is a highly sensational revival of the Blevins murder case at New Castle through the arrest of one man, in this city, upon information alleged to be supplied by a deathbed confession of the prisoner's brother. The prosecutor in this case announces he has four more informations ready to be sworn to, and expresses fears that the man under arrest may be spirited away from the Lawrence county jail.

Readers of The Gazette will readily recall the murder of John Blevins, city treasurer of New Castle, in 1899. They will remember the mystery surrounding the case and the astonishment caused by the discovery of an apparent shortage of $80,000 in the murdered man's accounts. They will also be reminded of the finding of anonymous letters and the prosecution of a New Castle citizen, who was promptly acquitted. The news that a confession had been made came from Kansas a couple of months ago, and the present prosecutor is said to have that confession.

The murderer or murderers of John Blevins should be brought to justice, and it may be that is about to be done; but the proceedings might be conducted as effectively without some of the extra sensational features that have been introduced. It would seem better to make the additional informations and arrest the men accused than to talk while they have an opportunity to escape. Poor John Blevins' death has been unavenged for more than three years, and if evidence is now at hand to convict the murderers the case cannot be forwarded too rapidly.

Coke continues to worry the furnace men both by reason of short deliveries and uncertainty about prices. The prospective ending of the anthracite strike will have some influence upon demand for other than furnace purposes and will tend to make the price more stable, though producers have not been asking regular customers to pay any of the fancy prices bid in the east. Meantime the railroad improvements under way should assure better movement and consequent greater certainty of the filling of next year's contracts than those of the present. Just at the moment the difficulty in this respect is increasing.

Justice Charles L. Hibbard has completed his inquiry into the accident at Pittsfield, which resulted in the death of Secret Service Officer Craig and the injury of President Roosevelt. The report says there was a misunderstanding on the part of the street railway company concerning the route to be traversed by the president's carriage and that the car was running on regular schedule, but it holds the conductor and motorman in part responsible for the collision, by reason of neglect of precautions.

Senator Hanna said the other day, in referring to the Ohio campaign: "The Democrats have a circus; the Republicans have a record." Evidently Mr. Hanna's weakness is not located in his head.

An interesting turn has been given the Cawley murder case and there may be further developments. Meantime it is as well not to pass hasty judgments.

Washington and Jefferson closed her big centennial celebration by handing out a formidable bunch of honorary degrees to honorable citizens.

Football has had rather a tame beginning. The public is too busy watching the various tackles and center rushes in the coal strike.

Our distinguished musical visitor from Italy is making considerably more noise, but the Siamese princes is having the best time.

Gen. Corbin, we trust, managed to get through that dinner with King Edward without any unpleasant references to the "spirit of '76."

President Baer has been re-elected to the position of general assistant to Providence so far as the Reading railway is concerned.

If the sultan of Bacolod would only get into vaudeville what a lot of trouble he would save for the future.

If President Castro be wise he will forget to leave his postoffice address with the revolutionists.

The hunting season promises to be a lively one both for the farmers and the coroners.

It will be just like Boston to jump in and claim all the credit for settling the strike.

A Man Who Does Things.

From the Philadelphia Press.

President Roosevelt emerges from the strike with every step he has taken justified. Success was sure to justify him, and success has come in full and overflowing measure. The president has done his work. His share is complete. Whatever may come in the future and final adjustment of discord and differences, the president has rendered it possible for the public to get coal.

Such success changes the position of Theodore Roosevelt before the American people. He rounds his first year of service with a great substantive achievement. A problem which halted other men he has solved. He has won the confidence of the mass. He has conquered the respect of business men. Apart from his position, his policy, his program and his speeches, this strike leaves him visibly before the land—a man who can do things.

The Old Game of Brag.

From the Buffalo Commercial.

Don't be fooled by Democratic brag and prediction. Compare the yellow Democratic headlines for eight years past with the figures as they came from the ballot boxes.

PUT AWAY TWICE WHAT HE EARNED

Frugality of a Police Captain Who Saved $75,000 Out of $48,400 Salary.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square,
NEW YORK, Oct. 15.

Does it pay to be a New York police captain? Well, in the desk of the late Capt. John J. Donahue, who dropped dead at his desk a week ago, there were found stocks and money amounting to what is now said to be $75,000. When I told in this column of the find, nearly a week ago, the sum total was put at about $30,000; but it has more than doubled since then. Donahue had been a policeman 28 years, and in that time the salary paid to him altogether amounted to $48,400. On this he managed to save $75,000. The man is dead, and it is not supposed that there will be any inquiry as to his manner of acquiring immense wealth; but there are a lot of living police captains in New York city, and the report that Commissioner Partridge may inquire into their personal possessions and insist on seeing what they have in their desks, has caused a panic. How far the law would warrant the police commissioner in looking into the personal affairs of captains is not clear; but it is beyond dispute that many of them have taken fright at the mere rumor that the commissioner may ask them pointed questions. The commissioner is quoted as saying that he will make an investigation, so far as he can, of the wealth of the captains now in the department and try to learn how they got so wealthy. This sounds innocent enough. Police captains have as much right to accumulate dollars as any other class of citizens, provided they do so honestly. Then, why should they be afraid? You could not find a captain in the city who would confess that he ever took blackmail from anyone, and in nine cases out of ten he would become apoplectic with indignation at the insinuation. In spite of this, however, there are a great many taxpayers that would like to see a good, stiff investigation of police methods as conducted by captains, even if it should result in the discomfiture of one or two officials who loudly proclaim their integrity.

French Pianist Promised.

Henry Wolfsohn, who brings more musicians to New York in the course of each winter than any other of our resident impresarii, announces that he will present Raoul Pugno, the distinguished French pianist, at Carnegie hall next Thursday evening, with Walter Damrosch and his orchestra assisting. Pugno has been seen here before, and Pittsburgh, as well as New York, knows that he is a player of distinction.

Pittsburgh Bridal Couple in Town.

There is a bridal couple in New York in which Pittsburgh will be much interested by Mr. and Mrs. Dale Tate, the bride having been Miss Phoebe Hart Vale, daughter of the Rev. Harper F. Vale of Stamford, Conn. Mr. Tate is one of the best known young lawyers of Pittsburgh, whose home is in Sewickley. The wedding took place in the Presbyterian church, Stamford, last evening. Robert S. Tate, brother of the bridegroom, was the best man, and Bayard H. Christy of Sewickley was one of the ushers. Miss Lydia Vale, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. The wedding was the most important one of the winter in Stamford, and has made a ripple in New York society as well. The bride and bridegroom came to this city in a private car which was attached to the Boston express, the train making a special stop at Stamford to pick it up. Mr. and Mrs. Tate will spend part of their honeymoon in the east and then will go to Sewickley, where they will live permanently. As is generally known in Pittsburgh, Mr. Tate is a graduate of Yale university and also of the Harvard law school.

First Six Jurors to Try Molineux.

A new record was made in important murder trials today, when three jurors were obtained in the Molineux case in the first hour. Perhaps the special panel had something to do with it. At all events, it is remembered that at the first trial of Molineux it was several days before even one juror was accepted by both sides. It is hoped that the proceedings throughout will go forward with the celerity suggested by this prompt obtaining of a panel of the whole jury before the noon recess. With three more in the afternoon, making half the total number, it may be that the jury box will be filled before tomorrow evening. There are good grounds for the hope that it will be. The deepest interest is manifested in the case, coupled with the wish that it may be soon over, one way or the other.

Interest in America's Cup Revived.

The arrival of Sir Thomas Lipton's challenge on the Oceanic today has imparted a flick of sporting sharpness to the atmosphere. Will Sir Thomas be able to "lift" the cup this time? This is the question one hears everywhere tonight, together with the opinion that the Irish knight is a true sportsman and is sure to get a run for his money, whether his Shamrock III. beats the American boat or not. Yachting has passed a little out of the public mind in the last few weeks, since many of the pleasure craft have gone out of commission for the winter; but the talk about the international yacht race has revived interest in the glorious sport, and there is a nautical roll to the conversation in hotels and cafes tonight that is calculated to make the unaccustomed one downright seasick.

Gates Returns in Fine Fettle.

John W. Gates was the first person to come down the gangplank from the big liner Oceanic this morning. It was characteristic of him. He was in good spirits and seemed to be enjoying life, as he always does. He talked freely enough, saying that he had been playing cards most of the way over; that he had brought with him a 45 horse power automobile and expected to bring two more next year. Then he stepped into a carriage and was whirled away to the Waldorf-Astoria, where he usually lives when in New York. One of the scraps of gossip was that he would receive from J. P. Morgan & Co. a certified check for $17,500,000, the last payment in the Louisville & Nashville deal, as soon as he resumes business tomorrow.

Coler Hears the Rumor Confirmed.

Bird S. Coler knows, officially, that he has been nominated as the Democratic candidate for governor of New York. The important announcement was made at a meeting at the Tilden club, where the first gun of the campaign was fired when Mr. Coler made his speech of acceptance. There has been some cynical amusement at the young man's expense because he has insisted that he did not know anything about his nomination on account of not having been told officially. Coler is a smart fellow, however, and his friends say that one way he shows his smartness is in his understanding when to keep his mouth shut. In view of the exceedingly lugubrious prospects for the Democratic ticket this fall, the instinct of taciturnity at the right time may be a valuable asset of the gubernatorial candidate.

One Child Out of Six Has Trachoma.

Pittsburgh may, perhaps, take a useful hint from the statement of Commissioner Lederle of the board of health of this city that 18 per cent of the school children of New York are afflicted with a contagious eye disease. It is a granulation of the eyelids, and is known as trachoma. A Cuban resident of New York, who has been to Cuba on a visit, is even now fighting to get into this port, while the health authorities are inclined to exclude him, because he has symptoms of trachoma. From this it will be seen that the ailment is regarded with much apprehension by the health board. Trachoma, when neglected, sometimes leads to blindness, says Dr. Lederle. Of the 600,000 children of school age in Greater New York, he estimates that at least 100,000 of them are afflicted with the disease. Trachoma is believed to have been introduced by immigrants, and it is transferred from one child to another through handkerchiefs and towels. It is to be hoped that Pittsburgh is not troubled with trachoma in its schools; but if it prevails so largely in New York, it hardly can help traveling to other cities in due time.

Women's Shows and Rows Inseparable.

Grace George, the pretty and talented wife of W. A. Brady, is quoted as saying: "How can you have a woman's show without a woman's row?" She made the remark to her husband anent the spectacular departure of Mrs. A. M. Palmer from the honorary presidency of the Professional Woman's league, which is at the back of the woman's exhibition in Madison Square garden. It would be all right if the lady would just get out and say nothing, declares the leaguers; but she won't. She has a great deal to say, and she is saying it with much emphasis. Mrs. Palmer is as much talked about tonight as the exhibition. Perhaps that is what she wants.

Fuel from Street Refuse.

The scramble for firewood at the dumping station of the street cleaning department on a pier of the North river, continues as vigorously as ever. This fuel would have been thrown away in the ordinary course of proceedings, but that Capt. Piper, now a deputy police commissioner, interposed. He used to be connected with the street cleaning department, and he did not see the use of wasting so much wood while people were suffering for fuel.

Fragile Appearance of Skyscrapers.

The fear expressed by Martin Harvey, the English actor, the other day, that the flatiron skyscraper looks as if it might blow down in a stiff gale, seems reasonable when one takes a casual glance at the building. Then, if you walk close to it and look at it from its widest side, on Twenty-second street, you see what an immense solid block it is and are satisfied that it can stand all the hurricanes that ever sweep across Manhattan Island, savage as some of them are. There are a dozen high buildings in Manhattan which look as if they could not stand a sharp blow, only because they are so tall in proportion to their width, and because they stand alone. Among them may be mentioned the St. Paul building, which occupies the site of the old office of the Herald, at Ann street and Broadway; the Shoe and Leather bank, at Chambers street and Broadway, and the Decker skyscraper in Union square. All of these tower, gaunt and solitary, far above the roofs of surrounding houses and each looks as if it would have a hard time of it withstanding some of the northers that bluster across the island from time to time. But they all stand, although engineers will tell you that they sway perceptibly in the upper stories when the blast is particularly savage.

Piety's Race With the World.

Amid the whirl of business, which takes little note of spiritual things, church work goes on steadily in all parts of this feverish mob we call New York. For instance, a new Roman Catholic parish has just been established in one of the closely populated sections of the West Side, in what has come to be called "the new Tenderloin." The parish is St. Matthews, and it will have a splendid new church in West Sixty-seventh street, near West End avenue. The Rev. Patrick F. Maughan is the rector.

Prosperity Even in the Prisons.

In connection with the resignation of Lispenard Stewart as president of the state commission on prisons, some interesting facts are made public. Mr. Lispenard says that every convict in the state has enough work to keep him busy, in contradistinction to the fact that in 1895 all were idle. Another thing which may well make New Yorkers proud is that, notwithstanding the great increase in the population of the state, the prison population is about the same as it was in 1895, while the penitentiary population has been decreased from 5,600 in round numbers to a little more than 2,000. The lock-step has been done away with entirely.

Thousand-Dollar Book Rumor Denied.

H. R. Bishop, who recently gave a collection of jades, worth half a million dollars, to the Metropolitan Museum of Art, came home from Europe on the Oceanic today. He denied the report cabled from Europe that he was preparing a book describing the collection at a cost of $1,000 a volume. This denial will cause disappointment, for many persons were anxious to see what a $1,000 book would look like.

Legal Test of Father's Rights.

Whether a father can be legally charged with kidnaping his own child is the interesting question that faces one of the city magistrates. Mrs. Young, a niece of Ward McAllister of "Four Hundred" fame, who obtained a divorce from her husband, with the custody of their little child, recently, has been occupying the attention of Magistrate Brann at intervals most of today, charging her husband with stealing the little one. He does not deny it, but insists that he has a right to his offspring. Mrs. Young obtained a writ of habeas corpus and she may get her child; but whether she does or not, New York is enjoying a nice little sensation while the magistrate has his perplexity for his entertainment.

Financial Side of Mascagni's Season.

One of the musical writers of this city remarked today that unless greater care is taken by the managers of Mascagni in arranging his performances in this country, there would be a heavy loss on the tour. The loss will fall on the management, and not on Marscagni, however, that artist having a comfortable contract by the terms of which he is to receive $1,000 a night for 100 performances. The critic refers to the disappointments to the public by Mascagni, which, he declares, were all due to the laxity of the powers that are supervising the musician's movements in America. Now it would be interesting to hear from the management —and Mascagni.

PERSONALS.

Gen. W. H. Koontz of Somerset, arrived in the city last evening, accompanied by J. M. Cover, cashier of the Rockwood National bank; J. J. Hoblizell of Meyersdale; Oliver Hoblizell of Baltimore; ex-Judge D. J. Horner of Somerset, a subscriber to The Gazette for the past 23 years; J. C. Lowry, Republican candidate for state senator for the Twenty-sixth district, and Joseph Levy, Esq., of Windber. The party is registered at the Monongahela house. Gen. Koontz said that their visit had no political significance, and he declined to talk politics. "I am here to argue a case before the supreme court tomorrow and Judge Horner simply accompanied me for pleasure, while Mr. Lowry and Mr. Levy, who are attorneys, have come to be admitted to the supreme court." They will remain in the city until Friday.

B. A. Hegeman, Jr., of New York, was a guest at the Hotel Lincoln yesterday. He is the president of the United States Metal and Manufacturing Company and came here to attend a meeting of the department agents, which was held at the Lincoln in the afternoon. Among the agents present were James B. Frisbie, Detroit; R. M. Dameron, St. Louis, B. J. Crispin, New York, and James W. Mooney, Buffalo.

Baron and Baroness Carnap of Germany, were guests at the Hotel Lincoln yesterday. For the past year they have been making a trip around the world and are now on their return to their native land. "We visited your great Carnegie steel plant at Homestead today," said the baron, "and I am amazed at its magnitude and the wonderful statistics given me in connection with the output of the works."

C. Hanson Douglass of the Hotel Duquesene returned yesterday from Cambridge Springs, where he has been enjoying a short vacation.

THE DEATH ROLL.

Thomas Fleming Orr.

Thomas Fleming Orr, one of the oldest livestock dealers in Pittsburgh, died Tuesday evening at his residence, No. 620 Lincoln avenue, aged 73 years. He became connected with the East Liberty stock yards when they were founded in 1867, and was also a member of the live stock exchange of St. Louis and Philadelphia. He was born in Fayette county and came to this city when quite young. Mr. Orr had suffered from Bright's disease. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Elizabeth Orr, and two daughters.

Jacob Beckert.

Jacob Beckert, aged 65 years, is dead at his late residence in Reserve township. He had lived in that vicinity for 55 years, was a pioneer florist in this section and had always taken part in public affairs. His wife survives. His surviving brothers are Augustus, who was once a county commissioner; Christian, Jr., a member of Pittsburgh councils; George H., William, Theodore and Albert J. Beckert, all well known about Pittsburgh.

Mrs. Jane A. Campbell.

Mrs. Jane A. Campbell died Tuesday afternoon at the residence of her son, Richard W. Campbell. She was born 74 years ago, in Armstrong county. She was a member of the Methodist Episcopal church and had always been active in church work. She is survived by her husband, William Campbell, and four sons and daughters.

Mrs. Mayer Forst.

Mrs. Tillie Forst, wife of Mayer Forst, of No. 1310 Locust street, Allegheny, died yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Forst had been ill for several years and her death was not unexpected. Mrs. Forst was well known in lower Allegheny. She was 31 years of age.

Joshua Ross.

Joshua Ross, aged 70 years, is dead at his late residence, 5424 Harrison street. He was connected for several years with the Cresson Steel Company. He was born in England and came to Pittsburgh in 1891. His death was due to dropsy.

Obituary Notes.

George W. Moses, aged nine years, is dead at his parents' residence, South Duncan avenue, Sterrett township.

Emma L. Vogel, the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Vogel, of No. 141 High street, Allegheny, died Tuesday night.

Robert C. Schenck, president of the First National bank and Malleable Iron Company, of Dayton, O., died in a hospital at Utica, N. Y., yesterday.

Harry F. Longnecker of Allentown, Pa., register of wills of Lehigh county, and one of the best-known wing shots and dog fanciers in America, died yesterday of typhoid fever.

Duty of the Soldiers.

From the Philadelphia Record.

It must be kept in mind above all things that the militia of Pennsylvania are in the coal regions to maintain the laws. To this essentially belongs the duty of protecting from violence or intimidation all miners at their work or going to and returning from the mines as well as their families. The right of every miner in Pennsylvania to dispose of his labor without dictation from any quarter is one of the most precious attributes of his manhood.

Dalzell Fully Equipped.

From the Butler Citizen.

Of all the men now in congress the one best fitted to succeed Speaker Henderson is John Dalzell. He is fully equipped, in every way, for the place, and it is with more than ordinary pleasure we see his name mentioned. If the Pennsylvania members of congress unite upon Mr. Dalzell, as we believe they will, he will be chosen and will be an honor to the state, as well as a speaker of marked ability.

KNOX AND THE TRUSTS.

NO OCCASION FOR ALARM.

From the Philadelphia Ledger.

The main purpose of the attorney general's conservative and lawyer-like presentation of the case, including his favorable report upon the prosecution undertaken under the Sherman act, is evidently to show that there is no occasion for excitement or alarm, but that our institutions afford ample safeguard against the danger of the abuses of corporate power.

What these dangers and abuses are he sets forth quite clearly, and with some specific suggestions, but his whole address is a plea for the idea of "reasonableness" in dealing with problems which arise in the natural evolutions of commercial and industrial conditions. This is the dominant idea which he would have congress inject into its legislation, and it would be well if a large measure of reasonableness might be introduced also into the general discussion of this theme.

EVILS NOT BEYOND REACH.

From the New York Herald.

The evil practices of industrial monopolies are not beyond the reach of the federal government, and the anti-trust act can be made more effective by amendments—this is the substance of the speech delivered by Attorney General Knox at Pittsburgh.

Mr. Knox thinks it possible to prevent gross over-capitalization, secure increased personal responsibility of corporate officials, and, in fact, check all the chief abuses now incident to the organization and management of the more obnoxious combinations. His address is interesting and suggestively supplements the recent addresses of President Roosevelt on the regulation of the trusts.

PARITY OF SLEEP WAS MAINTAINED

Curbstone Orators Put to Rout by a Campaigner Who Wanted Rest.

"In the Bryan campaign of 1896," said Robert Rose, who accompanied the champion of free silver about the country during that famous campaign, in the Plankinton yesterday, "we arrived in Erie, Pa., late at night and went to the hotel. There was not a room left in the hotel, but we told the clerk that he would have to find us a place to sleep, as we had been up for two or three nights, and if he did not do so we would take possession of some of his rooms and the whole police force of Erie could not drive us out, as we were armed to the teeth.

"'How many are there of you?' he inquired.

"'Fourteen,' I replied.

"He called up the manager and it was finally decided that he had a sample room in which he could place eight beds, and if this would do he would have them ready for us after the meetings which we were to hold that night. We accepted, of course. We reached the hotel about 2:30 in the morning and turned in. As soon as our heads struck the pillows we were all fast asleep. We could not have been there more than half an hour before the whole bunch was awakened by an animated discussion being conducted by a group of belated citizens on the pavement.

"'The United States can never maintain the parity of gold and silver at a ratio of 16 to 1 single-handed and alone!' exclaimed one man with a fog-horn voice.

"'Of course she can,' chimed in another enthusiastic politician.

"'You're a fool,' came the answer.

"And then followed a babble of voices in grand chorus. At this juncture Wm Thomas, a member of our party, arose from his cot, stepped out upon the balcony in his night raiment, raised his right arm to attract attention, and then exclaimed:

"'Fellow Citizens: Let me tell you that the United States can maintain the parity of gold and silver, single-handed and alone, independent of the nations of the earth, at the 16 to 1 or any other ratio she wants to. And now, d—n you, go home and let us maintain the parity of sleep and the active demands of our campaign work in trying to convince the voters that the United States is all-powerful on this money question!'

"The disturbers of our slumbers subsided into silence and vanished in the darkness."—Milwaukee Sentinel.

THE STRIKE STILL ON.

"Forty years ago, when I was a boy and living at Concord, N. H., said a guest at a Detroit hotel to a Free Press reporter, "a man built a factory for the manufacture of sleds and wheelbarrows. It was a water power concern, and the cost was about $20,000. When the 40 employes had turned out about 100 wheelbarrows a difference of opinion arose between them and the boss. I don't exactly remember what it was, but it was stated over and over again in after years that it would have made a difference of less than a dollar a week to either side. The owner wouldn't give in, and the men stood firm, small as the matter was, and a strike took place—perhaps the first in New Hampshire. When the men walked out the owner said to them:

"'Very well; you can go. Remember, however, that I'll see this factory rot to the ground before I'll give in.'

"They answered that they would starve before they would yield, and so the factory was locked up, and time went on. A score of attempts were made to arbitrate, but without avail. The owner grew old and gray, and the hands died or dispersed, and five years ago, by personal investigation, I found that only the owner and one of the strikers were left alive in Concord. Knowing them both, I had a talk with them about the strike, but

W. T. DUNN LOSES SUIT ON NOTES

The Supreme Court Sustains Cashier of Columbia Bank.

THE RENEWALS COSTLY

Plaintiff, Whose Nephew Served Term for Forgery, Failed to Prove That Misrepresentation Procured His Indorsement

The supreme court yesterday handed down three decisions. The most important was that of William T. Dunn, appellant, against the Columbia National bank. Justice McCollum wrote the opinion, affirming the lower court, which found in favor of the bank.

On January 20, 1897, William J. Dunn, since dead, owed the bank $38,500. To secure this William T. Dunn, the plaintiff, who was the uncle of William J. Dunn, gave the bank two notes for $10,000 each. It was found the certificates for alleged contracts with the cities of Pittsburgh and Allegheny, held also as security for loans to William J. Dunn, were worthless. William J. Dunn served a sentence for forgery on these certificates, and William T. Dunn then alleged the indorsements to the notes were obtained by misrepresentations on the part of the cashier of the bank and his nephew.

The court says the most serious question confronting the plaintiff is his repeated renewal of indorsements, and that if the plaintiff had acted promptly he might have set aside the indorsements, but his efforts in securing an extension of some two years lost him the right to rescind the contract.

In the cases of De Benville against the city of Philadelphia and others against Smith and others the judgment of the court of Philadelphia county is affirmed.

The cases argued yesterday in the supreme court were as follows:

Cambria County Provident Building & Loan Association, appellant, against Elizabeth T. Criswell, an action to recover assessments; Harry Hover, appellant, against S. A. Weimer and others, an action in ejectment; S. W. Davis and others, against W. M. Beers and others, appellants, an action over land; John Reilly, appellant, against the Mountain Coal Company, an action in ejectment.

Clarion county—W. J. McEntire and others, appellants, against J. A. Summerville and others, an action to compel the defendants as commissioners, to erect a certain building for the poor.

Jefferson county—W. M. Gillespie against the Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburgh Railroad Company, appellant, an action over land.

THAW ACCOUNT FILED.

Shows that a Fortune Was Expended in Maintaining and Educating Miss Elizabeth B. Thaw.

The first and final account of Elizabeth D. Thaw, Benjamin Thaw and James Darsie, testamentary guardians and trustees of the estate of Elizabeth Burd Thaw, daughter of the late William T. Thaw, was filed for probate yesterday. The document consists of many typewritten pages and shows that Miss Thaw inherited an estate of about $1,000,000.

The accountants divided their report in four parts—capital, cash, income and coke trust accounts. The capital account shows a balance of $373,608 08. The accountants charge themselves with $238,119 81 in the cash account, and report, after claiming credits by reason of investments and loans, a balance on hand of $48,216 25. The coke trust account shows a balance of $34,271 20. The income account is divided into about 30 settlements, which show that a sum in the neighborhood of $200,000 was paid to Elizabeth D. Thaw under the terms of the will of the decedent, Mrs. Thaw having maintained and educated Miss Thaw until she became of age.

CRUCIBLE STEEL LOSES.

Big Verdict for James McNeil Bros. & Co. Resulting from an Explosion.

The jury in the case of James McNeil Bros. & Co., against the Crucible Steel Company of America, yesterday returned a verdict of $46,740 94 in favor of the plaintiff. The action resulted from the boiler explosion at Parks mill on December 28, 1901. The plant of the plaintiff company was adjoining and it was alleged that it was damaged to the extent of $75,000. It was charged that the boilers in the defendant's plant were defective.

The verdict includes $10,000 profit on loss of business and $2,227 80 interest.

Wants Subscription Returned.

A statement was filed yesterday, by J. J. Toner in his suit against J. K. Neagley, M. H. Barnhart and O. D. Clark, to recover a subscription in an alleged partnership. The plaintiff claims that a partnership was formed to manufacture a patent medicine. The capital stock was to be $75,000, of which $40,000 was to go to a corporation which the proposed partnership was to succeed. Toner says that he was induced to subscribe for $500 worth of stock, paying $50 per month. He avers he paid the first installment and that it was the only sum paid by anybody.

She Sold Impure Food.

In criminal court Judge Collier fined Mrs. Anna Burns $50 for violating the pure food laws. She was charged by P. M. Powell, an agent of the department of agriculture of Pennsylvania, with selling apple butter adulterated with salicylates and glucose, and adulterated pineapple butter.

LEGAL BRIEFS.

Mrs. Mary Miller sued John Rentzenbrink for $5,000 for slander.

A divorce was granted to Ida Almeda Hookey from Jacob Hookey.

In the bankruptcy case of Patrick Golden of Butler, who claimed exemption, the claim will not be allowed.

In the United States court Nella Powers of Franklin filed a petition in bankruptcy giving her debts as $1,654, with $291 assets.

William McElhose entered suit against William M. Craig for $5,000 damages for false arrest on a charge of horse stealing.

In the bankruptcy case of Frank D. White of New Castle the court refused to dissolve the injunction restraining the Marquis Limestone and Clay Company from selling the property of the bankrupt.

Quo warranto proceedings were begun yesterday in the name of the state against Andrew Hopkins to show cause why he is serving as a school director in the Knox sub-district. It is alleged that Hopkins was not a resident of the Thirtieth ward when he was elected.

Executions were issued as follows: Columbia National bank vs. S. H. Rhodes, $253 63; Samuel Jarvis vs. Levi E. Umstead et al., $2,714 25; William G. Humphrey vs. William Logan, $641 25; Katherine Trautman vs. Charles Devenney, $2,100; Earl Butler vs. James Gannon, $750.

An answer was filed in the equity suit of S. K. Wamsby and John W. Flocker against A. John and Berger Bros., for an accounting of a partnership in an exhibition known as "Darkness and Dawn," now at the Pittsburgh exposition. The defendants deny that the plaintiff has any interest in the partnership.

Sale of Danish Islands Discussed.

COPENHAGEN, Oct. 15.—The landsthing today began the discussion of the treaty providing for the cession of the Danish West Indies to the United States. Premier Deuntzer declared that it was clear there were two alternatives, either the cession of the islands or an increase of the already heavy expenditure necessary for their maintenance and development.

SPANIARDS MAY HAVE SUNK MONTOJO'S FLEET

Only One American Shot Found in Gunboat Just Raised at Cavite.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
903 Fifteenth St., N. W.,
WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 15.

As a result of the raising of the Spanish gunboat, Marquis Del Duero, speculation has been aroused in Manila as to whether Montojo's warships were scuttled to prevent their falling into the hands of the enemy or were sunk by the fire from the guns of Admiral Dewey's fleet. The Manila American of August 22, just received here, says:

When the gunboat was examined it was found that but one shot took effect on the vessel. It pierced the bow above the water line and the shell exploded in the vessel. This goes to prove that the guns of the fleet never put this little gunboat in the bottom of the bay, and the only conclusion as to its destruction is that the Spaniards scuttled her rather than have her fall into Admiral Dewey's hands. This version of the battle gained some circulation at one time but was denied.

Now that the 17 ships which lie in the bottom of the bay are to be raised, all doubts as to the manner in which the fleet was sent to the bottom will be settled. While this is true of the gunboat referred to, there is every reason to believe that few, if any, of the vessels were sunk by the fire from the American fleet.

The engineers are now busy raising the steel cruiser Ulloa, one of the largest of Montojo's fleet.

"The force and foresight that has made McKeesport one of the greatest workshops in the world, is going to make FEDERAL PLAN conspicuous among them all as the investors quickest and surest money maker."

OPENING SALE NEXT SATURDAY, OCTOBER 18th, at FEDERAL PLAN

10th WARD, McKEESPORT, ON FIFTH AVE., JUST ACROSS THE YOUGHIOGHENY BRIDGE.

It's a cold, hard, undisputed fact, notwithstanding McKeesport's extraordinary demand for new houses and suitable building sites for homes, that not a single plan of lots so far offered to buyers has been what the people wanted. The "Tube City" has been pushed ahead 5 years by the action of the U. S. Steel Corporation centralizing its gigantic Tube Plants there. Conditions were upset; thousands of families are already clamoring for homes, BUT THEY WANT THEM NEAR THE $10,000,000 TUBE PLANT. Remote sections won't do. High priced districts ARE NOT CONSIDERED. Thousands are ready to buy, to build or rent when they can get what they want. That's why FEDERAL PLAN—5 MINUTES' WALK FROM THE BIG MILLS—is going to fill the bill, and that's why this superb location offers to buyers absolutely the greatest investment open today.

If the Judgment of Chas. M. Schwab, Pres. of the U. S. Steel Corporation, Warrants the Expenditure of $10,000,000 at McKeesport, Why Should You Hesitate?

These lots, the very cream of available McKeesport property, are owned by the Federal Realty Co., at a price fully 40 per cent under current quotations in less desirable plans.

Federal Plan has Churches, Schools, Finished Streets, Sewerage, Gas, City Water and all city improvements.

THE ONLY M'KEESPORT PLAN WITH TWO STREET CAR LINES.

CHOICE LOTS $100 AND UPWARDS.

EASIEST TERMS ON RECORD.

You can buy right in the heart of the "boom" district on a $10 to $20 payment, that will allow you, if you wish to resell, within a short time, a profit of from $100 to $500. 46 of the 400 lots front on Fifth Ave., McKeesport's main business street. Remember that Federal Plan is not in an isolated district; all around it is solidly built up with substantial and modern homes. A score of booming industries can be reached in from 5 to 10 minutes, and the business center of McKeesport is just 5 MINUTES' WALK. Buyers of Federal Lots contend with no element of chance. A big and quick profit is a certainty. Don't rest content with the 3 to 4 per cent interest your money earns in bank. Bring a little of it to Federal Plan. You'll be enthusiastic when you see it grow from tens to hundreds.

SWINGS ON NEW COKE CONTRACTS

Iron Market Depends on How Artificial Coke Prices Are Discounted.

COMBINE WANTS IRON

Furnacemen Get a Week of Better Coke Deliveries, but Are Again Suffering—Rod Market Is Weakening.

The early future of the iron market depends largely on what the coke producers will do in the renewal of annual and semi-annual contracts with heavy consumers for delivery in next year. The altitudinous prices which have obtained on the business producers have taken outside of their old markets is bound to bring much higher prices than those of the contracts of last year, which were $2 25 and less the ton. It is hardly possible, however, that the new price will go above $3 the ton, if it does reach so round a figure.

Some of the heavy producers of coke have been avoiding the urgent business offered them, centering their efforts instead to doing all they could to meet specifications, while the railroads have been woefully derelict in getting to them a proper car supply and in taking away the cars when loaded.

The United States Steel Corporation has been dealing for a round supply of Bessemer pig iron for delivery from the valley furnaces early next year. There is little room for heavy new business in the first half of the next year, and the steel corporation will have to meet a price far above that at which it bought its last outside supply of Bessemer iron.

Temporary Relief Only.

Toward the end of last week and the first two days of this week the coke supply delivered to the furnaces was about equal to requirements. Furnaces that had been banked were able to resume at their average production. But yesterday the shortage came again and in another day there will be more furnaces banked and down than in the early part of last week.

At a majority of the furnaces of the Mahoning and Shenango valleys there were no deliveries of coke yesterday.

There was some moderate buying of Bessemer and forge iron within the week past, about 20,000 tons in all. The Bessemer sold at about the same high prices as ruled last week and the forge iron sales were also at about an equality with the transactions of the week before, time of delivery considered.

In the past week foundry iron has advanced about $2 a ton. The higher prices were brought out in transactions aggregating about 5,000 tons to be delivered promptly. The prices ranged from $25 to $27.

The meeting in New York last week of the steel plate pool allowed the old base prices to continue, although no business is being transacted except at premiums of $4 and $5 a ton over these base prices. The association of cold rolled shafting producers at a meeting last week reaffirmed previous discounts.

Weaker Market for Rods.

The market is lightening perceptibly in steel rods, this following the recent reduction in wire products. The reduction ties up the independent producers of wire and nails, who have to buy their rods. Buyers of rods, not using them for wire drawing, are availing themselves of the opportunity and refuse to pay above $35 for the product which a few months ago was several dollars above this.

In the billet market and in many of the finished lines there is a lesser demand, buyers having covered their wants. The Jones & Laughlin Steel Company is considering improvements, which will bring its production of pig iron well above its output in finished lines, and which in turn will be promptly increased to balance the production. The company has plans for the erection of at least two big new blast furnaces, but these plans are now held in abeyance. The company has vested in its directorate authority to issue $10,000,000 in bonds whenever required for extraordinary improvement, but there will be no issue for some time to come.

Bessemer pig iron to the amount of 12,000 tons was sold in the week past for delivery in this quarter and next year. The prompt iron was sold at $22 25, and that for next year at $21 75 a ton at valley furnaces.

Some Forge Iron Sales.

Sales of forge iron amounted to 8,000 tons for delivery in next year and the price of these transactions is $21 a ton.

Foundry iron of different grades was sold at prices ranging all the way from $25 to $27 a ton, delivery to be before the end of the year. The quantity was about 5,000 tons. The week before some No. 2 foundry for first quarter delivery was sold at $23 25 a ton.

Most of the independent producers of sheets, who have their own raw material, have met the price reduction of the American Sheet Steel Company. Business is crowding in at the reduced prices and the trade expects an advance as soon as the producers have loaded themselves with orders. Jobbers have failed to get quotations on long-term contracts, the producers refusing to take any new business except such as is accompanied with specifications for prompt delivery.

There is little promise for a recovery in the tin plate market, and it may be that prices for the first quarter of next year will be reduced from the rate of $4 the 100-pound box which has obtained for so long. The American Tin Plate Company has for years adhered to a policy of fixed prices, but the present exigency may bring out a reduction.

Little Buying of Billets.

Recent buying of billets has been tight, some few small lots being closed for at from $30 to $31 a ton. Open hearth billets, and sheet and tin plate bars still call for the usual price ratio above the figures on Bessemer billets.

While there continues a substantial inquiry, the market for steel rods is light and buyers will not go above $35.

Foreign ferro-manganese is selling at $51.50 a ton, with domestic producers practically out of the market.

Common iron bars still sell at $1 80 the 100 pounds, and the demand is urgent. Pittsburgh refined bar is selling at much higher prices.

Muck bar is selling at from $36 for deliveries next year, to $36 50 for earlier deliveries.

There is no market for grooved iron skelp, with prices lower and nominally at from $1 95 to $2 the 100 pounds. The demand for sheared iron skelp is stronger, but the prices are held at from $2 10 to $2 15. Steel skelp can be had at from $1 90 to $2 the 100 pounds.

There has been a cessation for some time in the heavy contract buying of steel rails. Prices continue as follows: $28 for lots of 200 tons and upwards; $30 for carload lots and $32 for less than carload lots; $38 for 30, 35 and 40-pound rails in less than carload lots; $39 for 25-pound, $40 for 20-pound, $42 for 16-pound and $45 for 12-pound. Girder and T rails for the use of traction companies are $35 to $38 a ton.

Structural Sales.

Pittsburgh mills sold about 10,000 tons of structural material in the past seven days for delivery next year. Base prices remain as follows: Beams and channels, from 3 to 15-inch, $1 60 for 100 pounds; beams, 18 to 24-inch, $1 70 for 100 pounds; angles, 3 to 6-inch, $1 60 for 100 pounds; tees, 3 to 6-inch, $1 65 for 100 pounds.

Steel plate sales by Pittsburgh producers in the week past foot up to about 10,000 tons. While the plate association has established no higher prices, no business is being taken at less than $1 60 to $1 85 the 100 pounds for tank plate, with the usual additions on some other grades.

Most of the heavy consumers of merchant steel bars have covered their wants for some time and are rushing the mills with specifications. Pittsburgh sales of the week past were about 8,000 tons. The base price of $1 60 on Bessemer and $1 70 on open hearth steel bars continue, while some of the mills will touch no business in Bessemer bars at less than $1 70.

A strong market continues in steel hoops, the prices holding at $1 90 on sales of 200 tons and more, with $2 for lesser lots.

Crucible Steel Prices.

The rush of business in the finer merchant and crucible steel lines continues. The annual report of the leading producer, issued yesterday, indicates a tremendous business booked ahead. Prices remain: Tire steel, $1 80 for 100 pounds; toe calk, $2 25; spring steel, $2 25; plow slabs, $2 25; rolled lay steel, $2 50 to $2 75; tool steel, $7 and upward, according to quality; cold-rolled shafting, 42 and 47 per cent off the list.

The buying of scrap continues active. Prices are: Heavy melting stock, $21 50 to $22 a ton; No. 1 cast scrap, $19 50 to $20; No. 1 wrought scrap, $22 to $22 50; old steel rails, $22; steel rails for rerolling, $24.

Sheet prices continue to range from $2 75 on the No. 28 gauge black sheets, and $3 85 on galvanized of the same gauge, these prices applying only on orders accompanied by specifications for 500-bundle lots and over.

Wire nails in carload lots at mill are $1 90; plain wire, $1 80; barb wire, $2 20.

Business in the hardware line continues very heavy, orders coming in for larger quantities and in greater numbers than at any time in a decade. A particularly large movement is noted in wire nails and wire, this movement continuing and evidently growing heavier as the time goes on. The fine weather and the open conditions doubtless have a great deal to do with this, as new work is started up and pushed along with such favorable outside conditions.

Demand for Builders' Hardware.

A very large demand exists in builders' hardware, a great deal of fine hardware being sold, and orders coming in freely for future use. An excellent movement continues in stoves, fenders, coal hods, fire shovels, lanterns and goods for season use. Stock orders placed early in the season have evidently been sold and the trade is re-ordering freely to keep their lines in shape to meet wants of the consumer. We also note the movement of a large quantity of cutlery and goods in this line, pocket knives, table knives, carving knives and forks, and silverware, the trade evidently preparing for the holidays. Ammunition is moving very freely, as are guns and sporting goods generally.

A very large quantity of window glass is going out. It seems that the stocks in the hands of retailers were relatively light, causing this heavy demand. An excellent movement also continues in paints, oils and varnishes, masury goods moving very freely. Prices in all lines continue firm, and judging from reports from factories of crowded orders on their files, there does not seem to be much indication of any let up in this strength of prices. More favorable news from the east will doubtless be a further spur to business, and we look for even better conditions than have existed. The Bindley Hardware Company furnish the following quotations:

Wire nails, $1 85 in car lots; $2 base, less than car lots; cut nails, $2 05 in car lots; $2 20 base, less than car lots; plain galvanized wire, $2 15 in car lots; $2 25 base, less than car lots; galvanized barbed wire, $2 55 in car lots; $2 95 base, less than car lots; (other sizes usual advances). Columbia pocket knives, discount, 35 per cent; Albion hatchets, discount, 50 per cent; Stevens shotguns and rifles, discount, 25 per cent; Bindley canal shovels, $5 50 per dozen; Great Western files, discount, 70 and 10 per cent; window glass, discount, 88 and 5 per cent in carloads; sheet iron, base, $26, $3 10 per 100 pounds; galvanized sheet iron, discount, 70 per cent.

IRON STILL TROUBLED BY FUEL CONDITIONS

Coke Deliveries Unsatisfactory, as Well as Coal from Strike Regions.

[BY LEASED WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—The Iron Age tomorrow will say:

The fuel situation continues exceedingly troublesome in all parts of the country, not alone in its direct effect upon manufacturing operations, but also in its adverse moral effect upon business generally. In the central west deliveries of coke are very unsatisfactory. In the south the strike in the New River district stubbornly continues, and while the Pocahontas field is at peace the shipments are unsatisfactory. In Alabama the trouble between the Tennessee Company and the mi- probably will be settled today.

From the Lehigh valley comes the report that the furnaces are now getting a little anthracite, but the opinion prevails that in the most favorable case the manufacturing industries will not be taken care of until the domestic requirements are fairly well provided for.

Fancy prices are being paid for coke for prompt delivery, and $4 and upward has been paid for blast furnace coke well into next year, some furnacemen covering on sales for distant delivery of pig.

But what, after all, most interests those who are consumers of coke, is what the prices are are to be for next year. As yet this matter has not been settled, although the feeling is that an advance of $1 to $2 25 at oven, Connellsville, seems certain, if, in fact, it is not considerably higher. It is understood that a very large sale of Bessemer iron for the second and third quarters of 1903, involving several hundred thousand tons, is kept pending until the question of coke prices is settled.

There has been some movement in basic pig. Virginia furnaces having sold about 15,000 tons at $19 to $20 at furnace.

The rush for coal charters in England has so hardened freights that it is making imports of foreign pig iron a little more difficult. The difficulties over the duty on steel billets have stopped all negotiations for foreign steel for the present. It is not generally realized how close to the line the official valuations of steel billets are.

Reports from the heavy lines continue exceedingly satisfactory. There have been further large sales of steel rails, with additional business pending. Heavy transactions have taken place in plates and a very good tonnage is coming out in structural material.

In the lighter lines the sharp struggle continues. The principal outside mills are freely meeting the cuts on wire products and on sheets. It is worthy of note as bearing upon the all important point of current consumption, that the sales are reported to be heavy.

There is increasing weakness in merchant pipe, notably in the smaller sizes. The feeling prevails in the trade that an adjustment in prices cannot be far off, and this, too, is expected in the tin plate trade.

Rally of Junior Missionary Workers

The 10th annual rally of the junior missionary societies of the Allegheny and Monongahela presbyteries of the United Presbyterian church, will be held in the First United Presbyterian church, Union avenue, Allegheny, next Saturday. Banners will be awarded, one to the district society having the best average attendance for the year, one for the highest percentage of membership and one for the best attendance at the rally.

WILL INTEREST EVERYBODY

Or at Least Everyone Who Suffers from Catarrh.

Catarrh in its various forms is a national disease, and the fact that nearly everybody suffers from it more or less leads many to neglect its proper treatment.

Nasal catarrh is a common cause of headaches, destroys sense of smell and if neglected reaches the throat, causing impairment and sometimes total loss of voice. Bronchial catarrh leads easily to consumption. Catarrh of stomach and liver are very serious and obstinate troubles, while it is now generally admitted that catarrh is the most common of all causes of deafness.

All of the more serious forms of catarrh begin with nasal catarrh, the local symptoms being a profuse discharge, stoppage of nostrils, irritation and frequent clearing of the throat, sneezing, coughing and gagging.

The old style of treatment with douches, inhalers, sprays, salves, etc., simply give temporary relief and everyone who has used any of them knows how useless they are and their inconvenience is such that very few have the time or patience to continue their use.

A radical cure of catarrh can only be obtained from a treatment which removes the catarrhal taint from the blood because no one will now dispute that catarrh is a constitutional or blood disease, and local applications can have no effect except to temporarily relieve local symptoms.

A new remedy which has been remarkably successful in curing catarrh is a pleasant tasting tablet which is taken internally and acts upon the blood and mucous membranes.

It is composed of antiseptic remedies like Red Gum, Blood root and similar cleansing specifics which eliminate the catarrhal poison from the system.

The tablets being pleasant to the taste are dissolved in the mouth and thus reach the throat, trachea and finally the stomach and entire alimentary canal. They are sold by druggists everywhere under the name of Stuart's Catarrh Tablets.

If desired, when there is much stoppage of the nose, the tablets may be dissolved in warm water and used as a douche in addition to internal use, but a douche is not at all necessary. A few dissolved in the mouth daily will be sufficient. Dr. Alnslee says: "The regular daily use of Stuart's Catarrh Tablets taken internally will cure the whole catarrhal trouble without resorting to the inconvenience of a douche or an inhaler."

They seem to give a healthy tone to the whole mucous membrane and it is really remarkable how soon they will clear the head and throat of the unnatural and poisonous catarrhal secretion.

Stuart's Catarrh Tablets is undoubtedly the safest, most palatable and certainly the most efficient and convenient remedy for any form of catarrh.

"THE BIG STORE"

Almost Ready for the Great Patterson Bankrupt Stock Sale —Watch the Papers!

Your New Suit or Overcoat:

Buy It Where You Can Get It Best.

Human nature is alike the world over. Everybody wants to get the best value for his money. You do. We do. But not everybody does get it. Two merchants may buy the same goods from the same manufacturer, yet one may buy much cheaper than the other. It all depends on the extent of the purchase and whether it is for cash or on credit. Thus, when we close a $100,000, or still larger cash transaction (as we often do) WE PAY FROM 20 TO 25 PER CENT. LESS than the merchant whose order is for probably $10,000 or $25,000, and who buys on 3 or 6 months' time. And now, if you add to this saving the fact that, in accordance with our time-honored policy of "large sales and small profits," we sell our goods for about half or one-third the profits charged by other houses, you will quickly see why most men buy their clothing at "The Big Store."

Suits at $8.50 and $10:

They are not made of the finest Woolens, to be sure, but of good, honest and substantial Woolens—and the style and fit are as correct as in the most expensive garments. The assortment includes all the new Fancy Mixtures, Stripes, Pin Checks, Oxfords, Blue and Black, Rough and Plain Cheviots, Thibets, Worsteds, etc.—all skillfully cut and honestly put together, with All-Wool Serge and Italian Cloth Linings—ideal garments for business men.

Overcoats at $8.50 and $10:

There's a certain grace and swellness about these Top Coats that you will look for in vain in much more expensive garments shown elsewhere. This is accounted for by the fact that, although only $8.50 and $10, these Top Coats were cut by skillful cutters and put together by experienced journeymen tailors. We ask you to carefully examine and try on a few of these garments. We positively guarantee them equal to any sold elsewhere for 50 per cent. more money.

Very Fine & Finest Suits and Overcoats, At $15, $20, $25, $30 & $35

These represent HIGH ART Tailoring, goods which form a class of their own, above the ordinary kinds of Ready-Made Clothing. They are made of choice Imported Woolens and cut and put together like fine made-to-order work. Fastidious dressers will be delighted with these goods.

THE CHILDREN ENJOY
Life out of doors and out of the games which they play and the enjoyment which they receive and the efforts which they make, comes the greater part of that healthful development which is so essential to their happiness when grown. When a laxative is needed the remedy which is given to them to cleanse and sweeten and strengthen the internal organs on which it acts, should be such as physicians would sanction, because its component parts are known to be wholesome and the remedy itself free from every objectionable quality. The one remedy which physicians and parents, well-informed, approve and recommend and which the little ones enjoy, because of its pleasant flavor, its gentle action and its beneficial effects, is—Syrup of Figs—and for the same reason it is the only laxative which should be used by fathers and mothers.
Syrup of Figs is the only remedy which acts gently, pleasantly and naturally without griping, irritating, or nauseating and which cleanses the system effectually, without producing that constipated habit which results from the use of the old-time cathartics and modern imitations, and against which the children should be so carefully guarded. If you would have them grow to manhood and womanhood, strong, healthy and happy, do not give them medicines, when medicines are not needed, and when nature needs assistance in the way of a laxative, give them only the simple, pleasant and gentle—Syrup of Figs.
Its quality is due not only to the excellence of the combination of the laxative principles of plants with pleasant aromatic syrups and juices, but also to our original method of manufacture and as you value the health of the little ones, do not accept any of the substitutes which unscrupulous dealers sometimes offer to increase their profits. The genuine article may be bought anywhere of all reliable druggists at fifty cents per bottle. Please to remember, the full name of the Company—
CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO.—is printed on the front of every package. In order to get its beneficial effects it is always necessary to buy the genuine only.

RUPTURE

I GUARANTEE EVERY MAN, WOMAN AND CHILD a permanent cure of Rupture WITHOUT ANY CUTTING, PAIN OR DANGER. Remember that I do not promise these cures; I guarantee them. You get absolute, positive evidence that can be relied upon. So do not wear a truss with the expectation of its curing you, or you are doomed to wear one the rest of your days. Don't come in contact with the surgeon's knife; it cures sometimes, but is too dangerous and painful to risk. Below I name cured patients, selected at random, who will cheerfully answer any questions concerning their cures:

SHENANDOAH AGAIN SCENE OF DISORDER

Many Houses Stoned and Several Non-Union Men Badly Injured.

TROOPS BUSY DURING NIGHT

Surgeon Ralston Called Upon to Dress Wounds of Man Seriously Cut.

SEVERAL ARRESTS MADE

By GIBBONS M. MARSH,
Staff Correspondent.

Shenandoah, Pa., Oct. 15.—This borough is astir tonight over the possibility of the strike being settled. Miners are gathered in the streets in groups discussing the rumors from Washington. They declare they will not return to work unless the concessions demanded when they left the mines are granted them.

Violence has again broken out here. Tonight several women entered complaints to the provost guard about their homes being stoned and they were compelled to abandon them with their children. Several fights are reported from the west end of the borough. The guard placed several men under arrest. Relief funds were distributed among the strikers this morning.

The operators have begun to take action against persons taking coal from the culm dumps. Three men were held for court today on charges of trespass, preferred by the coal and iron police. Bail was given for their appearance. This has caused much unfavorable comment. The men were picking small particles of coal from these abandoned dumps.

Woman Seeks Protection.

Mrs. Chizensky of Juneberry alley came to the provost guard tonight and told of an attack that had been made on her home at dark. She is the wife of a non-union miner. Today her brother came from Mt. Carmel to visit. He was mistaken for a non-union miner whom she was suspected of hiding. Her home had been shadowed, and this evening, when she was preparing supper, a shower of stones came through the windows. The house was bombarded for five minutes. She was compelled to abandon her home with her children, and seek the protection of the soldiers. Her brother came in with her.

There was a cutting affray tonight near the Philadelphia & Reading railroad station, between several union and non-union miners. Peter Wallaridge of No. 412 East Lloyd street, cut Andy Pokulki in the abdomen and back and seriously injured him. Wallaridge and Thomas Muckalamus were talking in the station and were set upon by William and Wilson Ilin and Pokulki, union miners. A general quarrel resulted. Word was sent to the Eighteenth regiment camp and Companies K and G were detailed to go to the scene.

Pokulki's wounds were dressed by Capt. Ralston of the Eighteenth. A special train was secured and Pokulki was sentt to a hospital in Ashland. No arrests were made.

Next a Shooting Affray.

While Capt. Ralston was dressing Pokulki's wounds a fusillade of bullets rattled against the adjoining buildings. The shots were fired by a number of drunken foreigners. Lieut. Edward Riddle jumped out and wrested a revolver from one man and placed him under arrest. Five others were arrested by the guards.

Relief funds were distributed among the strikers this morning. About $2,000 was given out. Amounts ranging from $3 to $5 were given to each family.

A review was held in Main street before Col. Rutledge. Some 300 men, women and children watched the soldiers during the review. There was no demonstration of any bitterness displayed among the strikers. Twelve men are under arrest in the jail, suspected of being implicated in the stabbing affray tonight. The jail is being guarded by Company G, under Capt. Obert. Three companies are guarding the town, Company K, under Capt. Guthrie, Company D, under Capt. Wilson, and Company K, under Capt. Duff. The cutting incident had created considerable excitement in the town and the soldiers are making every effort to maintain order.

At midnight three additional outposts were established in the outskirts of the town. Two more houses were stoned at this hour. Occupants were driven out and beaten. Guards were hurried to the scene, but the assailants had escaped.

CITIZENS HAVE BIG TIME IN HOMESTEAD.

Thousands of Workmen in a Great Parade—Big Turnout in Sewickley Valley.

Homestead gave the Citizens party a rousing indorsement last night. The greatest political demonstration ever seen in that industrial center took place. Thousands of the workmen from the mills and merchants and townspeople in general turned out to participate in the parade that preceded the meeting. The mass meeting was a great success, both in point of attendance and enthusiasm. John B. Larkin, James W. Brown, John Jarrett, William B. Rodgers and George H. Stengel were the speakers.

Sewickley valley citizens turned out last night to attend the mass meeting under the auspices of the Citizens party at the Osborne school at Haysville station.

Citizens party mass meetings will be held this evening at the Lincoln club, Mt. Washington; No. 528 Lytle street, Glenwood; Black's hall, Turtle Creek; the Coraopolis tennis grounds; the Spring Garden school hall, Springfield school house, Twelfth ward, Pittsburgh, and Second ward school, Allegheny.

An organization of voters between the ages of 21 and 22, is being started in McKeesport. The first meeting was held last night at the Citizens party headquarters. Over 150 young men vowed their fealty to the Citizens cause.

State Convention at Titusville Hears Encouraging Accounts of Subordinate Organizations Throughout Pennsylvania.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Titusville, Pa., Oct. 15.—The second day of the convention of the State Federation of Women's clubs was characterized by nice weather and a large attendance. There were present 125 delegates, representing about 1,200 members. The auditorium of the Presbyterian church was filled at both sessions. The address of welcome was delivered by Mrs. J. A. Cadwallader, president of the Woman's club of Titusville, and the response by Mrs. Ellis Campbell of Wayne, president of the State Federation.

Among the reports read was one by Georgia Atkinson of Pittsburgh, superintendent of kindergarten work. She reports that in the 19th year of the work in Pittsburgh the city has 300 members and 300 managers and superintendents, 50 free public kindergartens with 25,000 pupils, a college with a faculty of 13, and an alumni of 150. The association expense amounts to $50,000 a year, which is raised by subscription, entertainments and cooperation with school boards.

Mrs. W. F. Abel of the Women's Press club of Pittsburgh said her club is one of the oldest in the city and the membership includes practically all the newspaper women of the city.

Miss Jane Campbell of Philadelphia, president of the Woman's Suffrage club of Philadelphia, and a delegate from the New Century Woman's club, read a report of the former. The report from the Women's Literary club of Bradford made a favorable impression, especially the statment that through its efforts a library had been established in the jail at Smethport comprising some 300 volumes. The Woman's club of Uniontown reported the circulation of a library with 3,000 volumes.

Reports were read from the Woman's club of Oakmont, the Women's club of Media, Woman's club of Homestead and Wilkinsburg, all of which are in a flourishing condition. Mrs. Russlander of DuBois spoke for the Round Table club, claiming good work.

The evening session was mostly of a musical and literary nature, the talent coming from Pittsburgh. The Pittsburgh delegates are: Mrs. W. T. Drill, Mrs. B. Kirby, Mrs. H. J. Bailey, Mrs. Andrew Easton, Mrs. Frank Whitesell, Mrs. M. Patterson, Mrs. S. S. Miller, Mrs. C. I. Wade, Mrs. F. P. Iams, Mrs. C. B. Foulk, Mrs. D. O. Hutchinson, Mrs. J. J. Covert, Mrs. A. A. Illinois Lawyer Advertises for Business and Colleagues are Trying to Disbar Him.

SPRINGFIELD, ILL., Oct. 15.—The supreme court is asked to pass upon the question of advertisements by attorneys. Willard C. Smith, an attorney of Chicago, inserted, so it is alleged, the following advertisement in daily papers of that city:

"Loyal, wealthy attorney guarantees family freedom in month; no advance costs; witnesses quickly volunteered."

The grievance committee of the Chicago bar association thought this advertisement sufficient grounds for the disbarment of Mr. Smith, and proceedings to this end were instituted in the supreme court today by State Attorney Deneen.

FOURTEENTH TURNS OUT

Holds Dress Parade to Give 900 School Teachers Sight of Real Soldiers—Shields Prepares for Rifle Practice.

By WILLIAM L. ROSS,
Staff Correspondent.

Mahanoy City, Pa., Oct. 15.—Although the striking miners rejoice at the offer of the operators to arbitrate the differences, there is a clearly expressed feeling that the full offer is not for fair mediation, but rather for a half-hearted concession. This amounts, the men claim, to a willingness to play, provided the operators alone fix the rules of the game.

This sentiment was brought out in a number of talks today with leaders in this mining center. They know the danger of loss of the support of public opinion in declining or opposing anything bearing the name arbitration, but they claim the operators' proposition is unfair and gives the employing syndicate unlimited opportunity to pick out those prominent in the strike for dismissal as soon as practicable.

A counter proposition is very probable, representing the miners' side of the case. The ability of John Mitchell is unquestioned among the strikers. They look to him as a Moses who shall lead them out of the wilderness. If he opposes the present offer they will surely follow him.

Harvest for Newsies.

No one watching the strike settlement developments with more interest than the officers and men of the Fourteenth. It is a rich harvest the newsboys reap at Camp Glenn. Many of the men are personally interested in the coming elections in Allegheny county and are eager to return to that campaign. Nevertheless the camp routine is being perfected and close attention paid to details as if the camp were permanent.

Cheers instead of silence greeted the regiment this afternoon when another dress parade was given at the public square of Mahoning City. The affair was in honor of the 900 teachers of the public schools of the county, gathered here this week for the institute. A magnificent showing was made by Col. Thompson's command. The hard work at company and battalion drills the past week has produced notable results. The full dress parade was given with prayer by Chaplain John A. Burnett and the publishing of orders. Company D spent two hours drilling in outpost duty and Company G the same time in drilling in extended order.

The almost daily guard offered from 4 to 8 a. m. to whatever miners wish to work was given this morning by the Third battalion under Maj. Harry D. Fowler. As on all former occasions not a miner appeared for work.

At Hoffman Funeral.

Gen. John A. Wiley and several of his staff of the Second brigade attended today the funeral services of the late Theodore F. Hoffman, colonel of the Eighth regiment, at Pottsville. Interment was at Reading.

Lieut. Shields, regimental inspector of rifle practice, today selected and partially completed a rifle range near the camp.

Requisition has been made on the state arsenal for material. Practice will be given both officers and enlisted men.

Life of Joseph Jackowitz Probably Saved by the Promptness of Guard.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

MT. CARMEL, PA., Oct. 15.—Impatient of the strike being settled, Joseph Jackowitz arrived here from Shenandoah last night, and dropped the fact, in presence of a crowd which was enjoying his hospitality in a drinking place, that he was going to work at a local colliery. The brief friendship was sundered and Jackowitz fell under the blows of the frenzied strikers.

A detachment from the provost guard was hurried up by Capt. Gamble and the crowd melted away. Jackowitz, with his clothing in shreds, his body and face full of bruises, was taken under guard to quarters, where he remained until this afternoon, when he was sent home on a Lehigh Valley train.

Col. Hullings today whetted the appetites of his men by setting the pace for an eight-mile march to Ashland over a mountain road, covering the distance in an hour and a half and maintaining the reputation of the Sixteenth for covering ground in record military time.

COFFEE VISE.

Holds Fast Until You Get a Knock-Down.

"I had used coffee moderately up to six years ago," writes a lady from Piney Creek, Md., "when I was seized with an attack of nervous prostration, and was forbidden coffee by my physician. I was constantly under treatment for nearly three years. After my recovery I once took a cup of coffee and it made me so sick I did not want any more.

"After the nervous prostration my stomach was very weak, so that I had to be careful with my appetite. As soon as I would eat certain things I would have an attack of stomach trouble sometimes lasting several weeks, so when I was attacked by erysipelas two years ago my stomach was immediately out of order.

"I kept getting worse until nothing would stay on my stomach, not even rice water or milk, and I was so weak I had to be fed with a spoon. I had a craving for something like coffee, but that was impossible, so father went to town and got some Postum Food Coffee, and when he asked the doctor if I might have it, he quickly answered, 'Yes.' Mother made it exactly as directed and brought me part of a cup and it was delicious, satisfied every craving, and, best of all, stayed on my stomach without distress, giving comfort instead. For several days I lived on Postum, gradually increasing the amount I took until I could drink a cupful. Then I began to take solid food with it, and so got well and strong again. I now use it constantly, and I am entirely free from any stomach trouble.

"Father and mother both use it. Coffee made mamma nervous and disagreed with her stomach, so that she would taste it for hours after drinking. Father had stomach trouble for five or six years, and used to be deprived of various articles of food on account of it. Now he can eat anything since he quit coffee and uses Postum. Father says that it is better than 'Mocha or Java.'" Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

PRESIDENT READ SPEECH OF KNOX

Also Approved, and Will Incorporate Its Points in His Message.

POINTS OF LEGISLATION

Opinion in Washington is that Law Proposed by the Attorney General is Feasible—Document to Recommend Tariff Revision.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
603 Fifteenth St., N. W.,
WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 15.

President Roosevelt's probable message to congress on the trust question was outlined completely and succinctly by Attorney General Knox in his Pittsburgh speech last night. This speech was outlined to the president before Mr. Knox went to Pittsburgh and by the president approved.

For this reason administration and Republican political circles in Washington are much gratified. The speech of Mr. Knox has been an animated subject of conversation during the day and on all sides the belief is expressed that a bill can be framed in accordance with the ideas expressed by the attorney general which will not only meet the views of congress but also will meet the popular demand for action looking to the restraint of what the president has termed in his speeches "trusts that do ill."

A few indications which point to the details of the president's message on trusts are contained in Mr. Knox's speech.

The exact points to be legislated on he gives as over-capitalization, lack of publicity of operation, discrimination in prices to destroy competition and insufficient personal liability of officers of corporations.

With Representative Jenkins of Wisconsin succeeding Judge Ray of New York as chairman of the house committee on judiciary, and with Representative Littlefield as an important member of that committee, both of whom have anti-trust bills pending, it is believed that an amendment to the Sherman anti-trust law may be drafted and passed which will allow Mr. Knox, as the head of the legal department, to correct every evil which he has so clearly set forth in his Pittsburgh speech as applicable to trusts.

Coming at the same time with the Knox speech from Pittsburgh is a declaration by Postmaster General Payne from Milwaukee that President Roosevelt will recommend in his next message to congress the formation of a commission to revise the tariff. This plan, which has been hinted by President Roosevelt in his recent speeches, is intended to take the tariff question entirely out of politics, and the announcement of Mr. Payne that it is to form a part of the president's message is another indication that this document, which will be delivered to the short session of the Fifty-seventh congress, will contain suggestions enough to keep that body hustling until the 4th of March.

SALARIES STILL BEING ELEVATED

Allegheny Select Council Is Tired of It, but Doesn't Dare Stop the Raises.

Allegheny select council yesterday afternoon had another tilt over the salary increase ordinances. When the ordinance increasing the salary of Park Superintendent William Hamilton to $2,000 a year came up William F. Trimble objected. He said the time had come to call a halt in the salary increases. President F. J. Torrance also thought there should be a stop somewhere, and suggested that both branches pass a resolution to the effect that there would be no more salary increases this year.

The Hamilton ordinance passed, however, without a dissenting vote, as did those fixing the salaries of the mechanical engineer and the draughtsmen in the office of the superintendent of the bureau of water at $125 and $90 a month. The office of mechanical engineer is vacant and the increase in the salary is asked so as to secure a competent man.

The ordinance fixing the salary of the assistant superintendent of the bureau of public improvements at $1,000 a year was amended and made $1,200 a year. The ordinance fixing the wages of the gang bosses in the bureau of water at $2 50 a day also passed.

Other measures which passed finally were:

Ordinances increasing the city indebtedness $147,202 for the paving of Brighton road; authorizing the city recorder to execute and deliver a deed for a small piece of property in Perrysville avenue to J. F. Purdis for $568 65; authorizing the construction of piers, abutments and superstructure and the paving of a bridge to Shady avenue over Woods Run; authorizing the paving of Friendship alley and Fleming avenue.

All the measures passed by common council at its last meeting, which included the elevation of the West Penn railroad tracks from 200 feet east of Bridge street to the easterly side of Federal street, and the vacation of streets and alleys asked for on Herrs Island by the Pittsburgh Provision Company, were agreed to.

That Could Not Prevent Woman's Screaming When Threatened With Loss of Diamonds.

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—Gaining admission, as a caller, to the apartments of Mrs. Amy C. Watkins today, a man, who gave his name as Henry Dawson, handed her a statement which began with these words:

"Make no outcry. I have a bag of dynamite which I will drop if you don't give me your diamonds."

Mrs. Watkins did make an outcry and Dawson rushed from the house, taking his bag and drawing a revolver as he went. He was met at the door by a policeman, who arrested him and found that the bag was empty. Dawson was held for trial.

Pittsburgh Assembly Repudiates Muddy Water People and its Advocates.

SHOT FOR CHURCHILL

Telegram from Former Master Workman John N. Parsons Announces Factional Litigation Is Withdrawn.

Pittsburgh district assembly No. 3 of the Knights of Labor has placed its seal of approval on the Citizens party and has repudiated James F. Grimes' "Muddy Water" party and its so-called Ballot Reform ticket. In doing this the assembly has also repudiated a former member of the Knights of Labor organization, George J. Churchill. This is the same Churchill who, failing to secure a legislative nomination from the Citizens party, has become one of the orators for the ring, or the "muddy waterites"—which ever comes the handiest—his sole aim, apparently, being to do all he can to further the chances for the machine ticket.

Churchill is said to be responsible for the dissolution of one of the assemblies of the Knights of Labor and for this, and because of his renunciation of the Citizens party because of failure to secure a nomination and his present noisy support of the "muddy water" party, the quarterly meeting of the district assembly yesterday drafted resolutions condemning him in language the intent of which can not be misunderstood.

While the district assembly meeting was in progress a telegram was received from John N. Parsons, former master workman of the Knights of Labor, in which he announced that the appeal from the decision of the supreme court of the District of Columbia has been withdrawn. This decision recognized the faction of John Hayes, which Parsons and his supporters have been fighting in court, as the legal Knights of Labor.

The Parsons telegram, sent from Washington, D. C., indicated that the differences had been satisfactorily arranged and requested that the district name two delegates to attend a meeting which is expected to close the factional fight. The nature of the compromise was not communicated by Parsons. The district assembly at once elected Master Workman John Fernau and I. N. Ross as delegates, with S. D. Moyer and E. W. Hamilton as alternates.

A search last night for Parsons and Hayes in Washington, D. C., to secure further particulars for The Gazette, was futile, it being reported that both had gone to Baltimore. Pittsburgh officers said they could throw no light on what the settlement might be.

The district convention unanimously passed and will send copies of the following resolutions to all members of the assembly:

Whereas, The political campaign is at its height at the present time, and a former member of this district assembly, George J. Churchill, is engaged in making campaign speeches for the Grimes or "Muddy Water" party, after being turned down by the Citizens' party as a candidate for the legislature; and having failed to bring on a strike of the West End street car men by his mismanagement of affairs, he turned traitor to the Knights of Labor and deserted this organization and was the cause of disrupting one of the best locals in this district; therefore be it

Resolved, That we condemn the actions of this man, and urge upon organized labor to guard against the advice or following of one who has proved unfaithful to those who know him and can bear testimony to the fact that he is not worthy of the support of honest labor, and we believe that he is today engaged for the dirty work that he is capable of performing for the so-called "Muddy Water" party. The Citizens party, as well as this district assembly, has gained strength by its assertions and mutterings.

The convention voted indorsement of the anthracite strike and donated $100 to the strike fund. Reports of officers showed substantial growth in the organization, two new assemblies of salespeople having been formed at Braddock and Jeannette. The salespeople's assembly delegates of Pittsburgh reported that its organization has been extended to all but two of the furniture installment houses. The delegates indorsed a circular of the Coopers' assembly, No. 1,862, which announces the creation of a label for slack-made barrels.

A resolution was adopted thanking Manager Harry Davis of the Avenue theater, for the free use of the house in behalf of the anthracite strikers.

MURDERER CONFESSES.

Earl Whitney Says He and Claude O'Brien Killed A. B. Chinn.

Troops to Protect Them.

LEXINGTON, KY., Oct. 15.—Earl Whitney, the young man arrested Saturday for the murder of A. B. Chinn and the serious wounding of his son Asa, made a confession today that he and Claude O'Brien, his pal, did the killing.

Whitney said O'Brien fired the shot that killed Chinn and admitted that the shot in his knee was inflicted by Asa Chinn. He told where the pistol was hidden, and officers found the weapon.

Col. Roger Williams, on the order of Gov. Beckham, has ordered two companies of the state militia to report at their armories here to protect the two prisoners.

The two men were taken to Louisville today to avoid lynching. A mob gathered at the jail tonight and a committee was allowed to search the jail to see that the prisoners were gone.

The Arch Support of a "Dorothy Dodd"

BIND IT UP

Ever since men became weary and women ministered to them, it has been the custom to bind up any weak part of the body as the best preventive and relief for fatigue.

Now the "Dorothy Dodd" shoe is made in such a manner that it binds up the weak part of the foot, which is the arch. It strengthens and sustains the overworked muscles there which stretch at every step.

But it does not itself yield! Examine a "Dorothy Dodd" after two months' hard service and you find the shank has lost none of its curve. Examine any other shoe after only two weeks and see how the shank has lost its stiffness and bends at each step. No support to the arch there.

And the result is that long walking becomes wearisome.

STREET CAR MEN GET ALL BLAME

Criminal Carelessness Is Charged in Accident to Roosevelt's Carriage.

RESULT OF THE INQUEST

Motorman and Conductor Are Blamed for Running Too Fast, Thus Causing Death of Body Guard, Wilham Craig.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Pittsfield, Mass., Oct. 15.—The finding in the inquest following the accident in which President Roosevelt's body guard, William Craig, was killed, filed today, says that the "unlawful acts of James T. Kelly, conductor, and Euclid Madden, motorman, contributed to the death of Craig."

The finding was by Special Justice Charles L. Hibbard, who also finds that the horses attached to the president's carriage were going at the rate of six miles an hour and the car at from 15 to 25 miles an hour. Also, that there was a misunderstanding on the part of the street car companies as to what thoroughfares were to be closed to traffic during the president's visit.

No evidence, the report says, was found to show that the car was not running at regular schedule or that the officials of the road had given any orders for it to be run otherwise than under normal conditions.

Influence of Passangers.

"As neither the conductor nor the motorman testified at the inquest, the special justice was unable to find what, if any, influence the wishes of the passengers, that the car be run faster than it ordinarily did, had upon their conduct," says the report.

"The evidence of the majority of the people standing by the side of the road was that it was running much faster than usual, but passengers on the car thought it was not, as the cars always run fast at the point where the accident occurred.

"The motorman rang the gong continually until the collision.

"The justice was unable to find whether or not the power was on when the car struck the carriage. When the car was 150 feet behind the carriage Gov. Crane arose and motioned to stop. Two of the mounted guards did the same thing at the same time. As the governor motioned, the driver turned the horses on the track. The speed of the car was slackened in a slight degree as the brakes were applied.

Current Not Reversed.

"There is no evidence that the current was reversed. The car was brought to a standstill 45 feet beyond the point of collision. It was geared to a speed of 14½ miles an hour on a level with a full load.

"Craig's body was found eight or 10 feet in the rear of the car when it came to a stop. Driver Pratt lay unconscious 15 feet from the car. Craig never knew what happened."

In conclusion, the special justice finds that the car was allowed to attain a dangerous speed, the fender was not properly locked in position; but that if it had been, it would not, in all probability, have prevented the death of Craig, and that the unlawful act of Motorman Madden and Conductor Kelley contributed to the death of Craig.

Kelley and Madden were arrested on the day of the inquest on the charge of manslaughter and they are now under bail.

PEACE WITH MUSICIANS' UNION.

Composer DeKoven Yields by Reorganizing His Symphony Orchestra.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 15.—(Special.)—Brought face to face with the threat that the American Federation of Labor would boycott his music all over the United States unless the Marine band members of the Washington Symphony orchestra are forced out, Reginald DeKoven, the composer, has disbanded that organization, of which he was the director, and in its place has formed the DeKoven Symphony orchestra, composed exclusively of union musicians.

A boycott of Mr. DeKoven's music would mean that theatrical orchestras the land over would refuse to play the music of "Robin Hood," "Maid Marian," "Foxy Quiller," and many others.

AROUND THE THEATERS.

Gossip of the Coming Attractions in Pittsburgh's Playhouses.

At the Alvin theater next week Mr. N. C. Goodwin and Miss Maxine Elliott will be seen in their new play by Madeline Lucette Ryley, entitled "The Altar of Friendship." These popular local favorites have, it is said, secured an excellent medium for their talents in Mrs. Ryley's delightful comedy.

The biggest scenic spectacle yet presented on a local stage will be the production of the famous Drury Lane spectacle, "The Great Ruby," which will receive its premiere at the Grand opera house next Monday afternoon. This will be the first time of "The Great Ruby" in Pittsburgh. The piece had a memorable run at Daly's theater, New York, following which it was only seen in a very few cities. The balloon scene is one of the most sensational features ever introduced in a melodrama and will be reproduced at the Grand exactly as given at Daly's theater.

Next Monday's bargain matinee at the Bijou will mark the opening of Nellie McHenry's engagement in her great play, "M'Liss," which is one of the few surviving stories of the old days of California. It is a true picture of life in the days of the gold hunters, when might often made right and a man's law was his own judgment. Miss McHenry is supported by a good company.

"A Runaway Girl," the English musical comedy success, with some 50 people in the cast, headed by the clever comedian, Mr. George W. Leslie, in the leading comedy role, will be seen for the first time in this city next week at the Empire theater. This play has been the most successful of the many musical productions that were brought over from England by the late Augustin Daly. Its music is credited with being remarkably catchy and its comedy bright and clean.

Among the big acts announced for next week at the Avenue theater and Annex are the following: The three marvelous Merrills and their trick bicycling exhibition, Harry Le Clair with his inimitable impersonations of leading actresses, Pauline Moran and her cute little pickaninnies; Gollins and Hart with a screaming burlesque, and Posy and Clinton in a singing and acrobatic turn.

Hyde's Comedians, the oldest and most famous vaudeville organization now on the road, come to the Duquesne theater next week. While always containing a lot of strong acts, Hyde's Comedians this season is considered better than ever before, including as it does such acts as the musical Colbys, the four Mortons, Piccolo's midgets, the Nichols sisters and Boyce and Wilson.

Manager Williams will present the "Dainty Duchess" to his patrons at the Academy next week. This attraction is so well known to the patrons of this theater that it is not necessary to go into details concerning the show. Suffice to say that the company is better than ever and that the show will be pleasing from beginning to end.

Duss and His Band.

The success attained by John Duss with the eastern musical cult has created a curiosity among Pittsburghers to see how his famous record of 128 nights in New York was achieved. This is evidenced by the sale of seats that has already set in for the concerts at Duquesne garden, Friday and Saturday night, and the Economite leader is expected to play to great audiences.

Muscogni's Engagement.

Very general interest has been aroused by the announcement that Pietro Mascagni, with his own company of singers and musicians, will come to Duquesne garden next week, October 22 and 23. The celebrated composer will produce his own operas, "Cavaleria Rusticana," "Zanetto," "Iris" and "Ratcliffe."

A PRETTY wedding was solemnized last evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Ward, in Bayard street, East End, the bride being their daughter, Miss Bessie Ward, and the bridegroom, Guy P. McCandless, son of Dr. J. Guy McCandless, director of the department of public works. The wedding was quietly conducted, none but relatives and a few intimate friends being present at the ceremony, at 6:30 o'clock, and the dinner which followed. At 8 o'clock a large reception was given by Mr. and Mrs. Ward. During the evening Mr. and Mrs. McCandless left on their wedding trip and will be at home after December 1.

The home in Bayard street was very handsomely decorated. There was a profusion of tropical plants throughout the house; mantles were banked with small plants, palms and ferns filled the nooks of the reception hall, and in the parlor formed the screen before which the bridal party stood. Smilax wreathed the chandeliers and doorways, and white roses were effectively massed amid the depth of green. Yellow chrysanthemums were the flowers which appeared in the reception hall, while in the dining room, library, and in the apartments on the second floor, the flowers were pink, combined with ferns and smilax.

The bride, who is a slender, graceful girl, was gowned in white crepe de chine trimmed with duchess lace. The full bridal veil of tulle was fastened with a knot of tulle, and her bouquet was a shower arrangement of bride's roses and lilies of the valley. The maid of honor, Miss Daisy Sterne of Washington, D. C., who was the only attendant, wore white liberty satin with touches of yellow velvet and lace. She carried an armful of yellow chrysanthemums. The marriage ceremony was performed by the Rev. Edwin A. Blake, pastor of Christ Methodist Episcopal church, East End. Dinner was served at tables, the bridal table having covers for eight. It was decorated entirely in white and green, but the other tables, each seating four guests, had center-pieces of yellow chrysanthemums.

In Honor of the Brides-Elect.

Wedding rehearsals and dinners in honor of the brides and bridegrooms-elect were the order of last evening. After the rehearsal for the wedding of Miss Sara Gillespie and Robert Wray last evening a supper was given at the "Maples," the guests including the maids and grooms-men and a number of out-of-town guests who have come on for the wedding ceremony this evening. The dinner was handsomely appointed and the bride and bridegroom took the occasion of presenting their attendants with souvenirs of the wedding day.

Miss Louise Myers and William Wirt Phillips held their wedding rehearsal last evening in the Emmanuel Protestant Episcopal church, Allegheny, the rehearsal being preceded by a dinner given by Mrs. Milton L. Myers, the mother of the bride-elect, at her home in Allegheny avenue, for the members of the bridal party.

The rehearsal for the Mueller-Willetts wedding was followed last evening by a supper given for the members of the bridal party.

Tate—McNeal.

A wedding of interest took place in the Presbyterian church of Bedford, yesterday, at which the contracting parties were Miss Listie Hopkins Tate, daughter of the Hon. Humphrey D. Tate, who was Gov. Pattison's private secretary during his second term, and John McNeal, jr., of Easton, Pa. The church was decorated with evergreens, tropical plants and flowers. The ushers were William Newberry of Easton; Gustave Weiden Mayer of Newark, N. J.; Joseph J. Hibbs of Philadelphia, and Samuel Russell of Akron, O. The bridesmaids were Miss Virginia Hamilton Tate, sister of the bride; Miss Mary E. Boas of Harrisburg, Miss Lucy Parker and Miss Esther Dodge, both of Washington, D. C. They were attired in white Paris muslin and lace, with green chiffon trimmings, and carried shower bouquets of white carnations and maidenhair fern. Miss Helen Childsey of Easton, the maid of honor, gowned in pale green silk mulle, preceded the bride, who entered the church with her father. The bride looked charming in a gown of white brocaded satin with tulle and point lace trimmings. She was met at the altar by the groom and his best man, Charles Hulick of Easton. The Rev. Elliott Armstrong, brother-in-law of the groom, and pastor of the Presbyterian church of Williamsport, assisted by the Rev. Henry B. Townsend, the bride's pastor, officiated. After the ceremony there was a reception at the bride's home, Mr. and Mrs. McNeal will be at home after November 20, on College Hill, Easton, Pa.

Halloway—Geer.

At the home of the bride's father, Jesse Halloway, last evening occurred the wedding of Miss Edna A. Halloway and Edwin Geer. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. S. M. Mackey, pastor of the Bueña Vista Street Methodist Episcopal church, Allegheny. The bride was given away by her father; her attending maids were her sister, Miss Mabel Halloway, maid of honor, and Miss Helen McLaughlin, bridesmaid. Wesley B. Hamilton of Coraopolis was the best man and the ushers were Herbert M. Halloway, a brother of the bride, and Harry G. Welsh, of East End. The bride was gowned in cream lace over white silk, and carried a bouquet of roses and lilies of the valley. Her maids were gowned in white over pink, and carried roses. After a wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Geer will be at home Wednesdays in November at No. 1017 Irwin avenue, Allegheny.

Wedding Invitations Issued.

Invitations have been issued by Mrs. Thomas Boyle of Twenty-eighth and Sarah streets, South Side, for the marriage of her niece, Miss Annie Arthurs, and E. A. Moore. The wedding will take place in the Holy Cross Roman Catholic church, October 22, at 9 a. m. Miss Hanna Begley and Miss Margaret Lewis are to act as flower girls; Miss Celia Bardley will be bridesmaid and the groom will be attended by Thomas J. Carney as best man. Mr. Moore is a popular conductor on the Pennsylvania railroad and has a wide social and commercial acquaintance, while Miss Arthurs is very prominent in South Side social circles. The young couple will go to New York and other eastern cities on their wedding trip and will be at home to their friends in Knoxville, after November 15.

Sharpe—McFadden.

A very fashionable wedding in the presence of several hundred guests was that of Charles Paul McFadden to Miss Mary Kate Sharpe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Sharpe, at Sycamore hill, Steubenville, O., yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. H. L. Gaylord of St. Stephen's church. H. Earl McFadden was best man, Miss Emma Beatty of Washington, Pa., the maid of honor, Aleck Sharpe of Steubenville and Harry Hanna of Columbus, ushers.

Weddings Today.

This will be a day of weddings. Miss Sara Gillespie and Robert Wray are to be married this evening at 7:30 o'clock at the "Maples," the home of Mrs. C. L. Magee, an aunt of the bride-elect. The ceremony will be performed by the Rev. Robert J. Young, pastor of the First Methodist Protestant church of Shadyside, and there will be a large bridal party.

The wedding of Miss Florence Means Day, daughter of Mr. Thomas Powers Day, of St. James street, Shadyside, and George P. Blackistone, will take place this evening in the Shadyside Presbyterian church. The hour will be 8 o'clock and the bride will be attended by several maids. The ceremony will be followed by a small reception at the home of the bride's mother.

This evening Miss Louise Myers, daughter of Mrs. Milton L. Myers of Allegheny, and William Wirt Phillips of Newark, N. J., will be wedded at 7:30 o'clock in the Emmanuel Protestant Episcopal church, Allegheny, the Rt. Rev. Cortlandt Whitehead performing the ceremony. There will be a large bridal party.

A handsomely appointed wedding today will be that of Miss Edna Mueller and Dr. Joseph E. Willetts of the Schenley, which will take place at the home of the bride's father, John H. Mueller, in Dithridge street, Bellefield.

Mischler—Stoeltzing.

Miss Rose Francis Mischler of Middle street, Allegheny, and Frank B. Stoeltzing, North Fairmont avenue, East End, were married yesterday in St. Philomena's rectory by the Rev. James Wernert, uncle of the bride. The wedding was simply conducted. The bride was attended by her life-long friend, Miss Lyda Gibson. Mr. and Mrs. Stoeltzing left after the wedding for Cleveland on an extended western trip. They will be at home after December 15 at the Park View, Callohill and St. Clair streets, East End.

Mason-Roff.

ALTOONA, PA., Oct. 15.—Dr. C. C. Roff, one of the best-known dentists and prominent club members of this city, was united in marriage at 8 o'clock this evening to Miss Helen Mason, also of Altoona. The nuptials were performed at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Mason, in Third avenue. The Revs. Dr. Thomas Wilcox and J. W. Bain of this city officiated. The couple will enjoy a honeymoon trip through the southwest.

Star Course Lectures.

The ninth season of the Allegheny Star course will be opened November 3 by the popular lecturer the Rev. Russell H. Conwell, D. D., who will deliver a new lecture entitled "Personal Glimpses of Prominent Men and Women." The entertainments are conducted in Allegheny Carnegie hall, under the auspices of the Young Men's Organization of the Ninth United Presbyterian church of Allegheny.

Euchre and Reception.

A euchre and reception was given in Wallace hall, Wilkinsburg, last evening by the members of the choir of St. James Catholic church. The large number of invitations that had been sent out were liberally responded to. A number of handsome prizes were awarded to the contestants.

Linen Shower for a Bride.

Mrs. Eugene Murray of Shields, entertained yesterday afternoon in honor of Miss Hortense Watts, whose marriage to Robert P. Dickson will occur in Edgeworth next month. The affair was in the form of a linen shower and about 20 young women of the valley were present.

Entre Nous Club's Meeting.

The Entre Nous Fancywork club of Sewickley gave tally-ho ride yesterday along the Sewickley valley. A stop was made at Economy for supper. The election of officers resulted as follows: President, Mrs. J. L. Anderson; secretary and treasurer, Mrs. Frank Smith.

Notes of Society.

Mrs. Fred W. Kiefer and her daughter, Miss Elsie Kiefer, will receive this afternoon at their home in Bellevue.

Miss Imeda Straub entertained the Tonquin club last evening, at her home in North Negley avenue, East End.

The Pittsburgh Cotillion club has issued invitations for the first of its popular winter dances, which will be held on Friday evening, October 17, in the Cyclorama parlors, Allegheny.

Mrs. William A. Black gave a handsome dinner last evening in honor of Miss Elizabeth Campbell Sands, Robert William Kiser, and the members of the bridal party, at their wedding next week in the Shadyside United Presbyterian church. Covers were laid for 20.

Mrs. William Price gives a reception this afternoon at her home, in South Negley avenue, which will be of two-fold interest, it being the occasion of the debut of her daughter, Miss Myrtle Price, and will also be the first general affair in the handsome new house which the Prices entered in the summer.

In Woman's Domain

The Parisian models sent over for children's evening wear have all the bodices made low. But since many anxious mothers object to this decolletage the shops have supplied themselves with gamps and undersleeves which charmingly accompany them. These are in the main made of white mull with lace collars and wristbands, though gamps entirely of lace are also seen.

With silk and velvet frocks these last splendors go, for such rich textures are now worn by the smallest maid.

Most beautiful are some of the little silk gowns for girls from 6 to 12. Figured taffetas—hair stripes and small flowers—and pompadour silks in many delicate designs are used for these. The model of the costume depends, of course, upon the material, but a round or square collar of some sort invariably hangs from the cut-out neck. This may be all of lace or lace and silk, the gown material showing, perhaps, in tucked pieces between bands of entre-deux.

A bewitching frock for a demoiselle of 10 had one of these bertha collars of yellow batiste—groups of tucks between bands of embroidered silk. The gown was pale blue pompadour silk with small yellow rosebuds, the same tints showing in the needlework of the collar.

The fashion of wearing jewelry of all kinds in which human hair formed some prominent part was in its very zenith about the time when the Crimean war was at its height, it being mainly due to the fact that thousands of soldiers, whether officers or men, exchanged locks and tresses with their lady loves, and that these locks and tresses were set in beautiful and convenient shapes.

An then, for years, hair jewelry became more or less a curiosity merely—often a curiosity fraught with many a vague if tender memory—till the war in South Africa began to drag its sad and wearisome length along. Since about the first year of this latter war hair jewelry has undergone a revival of such magnitude that most of the jewelers with whom the hair has been left have scarcely been able to find enough skillful survivors of the old calling to undertake the commissions, many of which have had to be sent abroad, where the old fashion has fitfully survived, especially in Holland and Switzerland.

It is a notable fact that, apart from the using of hair for jewelry, almost the only persons who have continuously employed hair in fancy work are the women convicts of this country. The unhappy women in our convict establishments have always had a partiality for this kind of work, the hair most frequently being used for making monograms and initials on handkerchiefs and so on.

She was one of those inscrutable women who would remind you of a cat—not a soft, purry tabby, but a vicious little animal that would scratch. She had just finished eating a table d'hote luncheon in a department store restaurant. The dining-room was crowded and people were awaiting their turns near other people's chairs.

Seeing that this woman had completed her luncheon, another woman stepped behind her chair and was patiently waiting for her to vacate the place, which she supposed would be in a few moments, as the last drop of coffee had been drained from her cup and the waitress had brought her change.

The woman at the table started to rise. The other woman sighed a breath of relief. But suddenly she sat down again in her chair and a cunning triumph crept into her eyes and lurked about her mouth.

"I'll have another cup of coffee," she said to the waitress.

It was brought and slowly sipped. The woman behind the chair patiently waited, thinking she would soon be finished. But just before the coffee was gone the waitress was again beckoned.

"Bring me a piece of strawberry shortcake," she said, and as she waited she thought to herself, "She can't make me get out of here until I get ready."

The woman behind the chair said to herself, "Well, I can stand it as long as she can. It is not costing me anything."

When the shortcake was about half disposed of the woman sat back in her chair and refused to eat another bite until the waitress brought her another cup of coffee. Then she ate the last bite and drank some of the coffee. What was left she slyly spilled and made a big brown pool on the cloth before her.

Then she leisurely rose and offered her seat to the lady behind her. As plain as words her eyes flashed, "Anyway, I've kept you waiting a long time and soiled the cloth where you will have to eat."

But the message she received from the other woman's eyes in return made her lower her face and slink away like Ignorance before the Light.

As she walked toward the elevator she glanced back. To her chagrin the woman was not sitting before the wet table cloth at all, but was just accepting a seat vacated by a gentleman who had been quietly watching the exhibition of the generosity of woman to woman.

Pittsburgh Boys Put Up Fine Work for the Yale Team.

IN THICKEST OF FRAY

McClintock and John Moorhead Made Nice Runs With the Ball—Vermont Team Was Very Easy for Blue Eleven.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

New Haven, Conn., Oct. 15.—Pennsylvania boys played a prime part in the football game in which Yale today defeated the University of Vermont 32 to 0.

Tom Sheviff, the freshman from the Hills school, scored one touchdown after a 25-yard run. Harvey Graves McClintock of Pittsburgh played fullback the second half and scored three 10-yard runs. John A. Moorhead of Allegheny played his first game since his injury two weeks ago covering left end. He made a 30-yard run after catching a punt. Morgan Bowman, who entered Yale from the Hill school, was unable to play fullback owing to a recent injury.

The record of the Vermont eleven in recently holding down Brown in a 10 to 0 game gave them prestige which they failed to uphold. Yale pushed them up and down the gridiron at will and scored four touchdowns in the first half and two in the second. Until they retired from the game the Yale center trio, Holt, Glass and Goss, were in every play strongly. Glass alone many times broke up the weak attempts of the Vermonters to break the line and to run the ends. They were the weakest team Yale has met. Yale plays a substitute team in the short second half. Line-up:

Yale—32.	Position.	Vermont—0.
Hare-Moorhead	L.E.	Patterson,
Sheviln-Hamlin	L.T.	Hartley
Glass-Brown	L.G.	Parker
Holt-Morton	Center	Gale
Goss-Kinney	R.G.	Kingsland
Hogan-Bissell	R.T.	Adams
Coffin-G. Ward-Still man	R.E.	Morse
Metcalf-Rockwell	Q.B.	Barrett
Preston-Hinkle-Wheelhelmi-Soper	L.H.	Dane (captain)
Ward-Vanderpool	R.H.	Woodward
Farmer-McClintock	F.B.	Strait

Referee—Dr. S. Hammond. Umpire—Morris Ely, Yale. Linesmen—Putney, Yale; Worth, University of Vermont. Touchdowns—Farmer, Ward, McClintock, Hogan, Wilhelmi and Sheviln. Goals from touchdowns—Ward 2. Time of halves—Fifteen and 20 minutes.

HARVARD'S FIRST SHOW OF IT'S REAL STRENGTH

Regular Team Lined Up in First Half and Ran Right Away From Wesleyan.

CAMBRIDGE, MASS., Oct. 15.—Harvard's 'varsity football team got together in the first half of the Wesleyan game today and scored 35 points in 20 minutes. The showing was the best of any that Harvard has made this year. In the second half Harvard put an entirely new team on the field, except Stillman, who was moved from fullback to left halfback. Wesleyan scored in this half after using several trick plays, a delayed pass leading to a touchdown.

With the exception of Graydon at fullback and Knowlton in one of the tackle positions, the Harvard team as it started the game was the strongest the coaches could put on the field. Kernan was back at left half and Andrew Marshall, once of Dartmouth, played left guard. For the first time Harvard departed from a straight rushing game by her backs and tried several formations.

In using an end a new play was brought into use by Harvard, for it has been customary to bring in the other tackle to alternate the advance. Harvard still had a tendency to be offside in both halves, but there was an absence of fumbling. Marshall, the quarterback, dropped a goal from the field from Wesleyan's 25-yard line. He also made an 80-yard run from the kick off. The score and lineup:

Harvard—35.	Position.	Wesleyan—5.
Jones-Matthews	L.E.	Eyster-Coote
Mills-Whitwell	L.T.	Good
A. Marshall-Hovey	L.G.	Esty
King-Sugden	Center	Gilespe
Barnard-Coburn	R.G.	Brown
Wright-Shea	R.T.	Forbes

Stillman-Piper	L.H.	Lacey
Stillman-Meier-Ives	R.H.	McDonnell
Leatherbee-Foster	F.B.	Handon-Vansurdan

Touchdowns—Stillman 2, Leatherbee 2, Kernan, Forbes. Goals from touchdown—Barnard 5. Goal from field—C. Marshall. Umpire—Brown, Harvard. Referee—Lawrence, Harvard. Linesmen—McDonnell, Harvard; Nixon, Wesleyan. Time—20 and 15 minute halves.

TIGERS' STRONG WORK.

Went Through Haverford at Will and Piled Up a Large Score.

PRINCETON, N. J., Oct. 15.—(Special.)—In a short game of 20 and 15-minute halves Princeton walked away with Haverford this afternoon by a score of 30 to 0, the same team that held Pennsylvania only a week ago to an 18 to 5 score. The Princeton backs tore through Haverford's line at all points for gains of from 5 to 40 yards at a time, and had not two fumbles at critical moments spoiled two more chances to score for Princeton, the defeat would have been more overwhelming. Dewitt also missed an easy chance for a goal from the 25-yard line. Haverford at no time had the ball nearer than 50 yards to the Tigers' goal. They held Princeton for downs twice, however, after the latter had lost ground on fumbles and only once gained their five yards. The line-up:

Princeton—30.	Position.	Haverford—0.
Davis	L.E.	Edelman
Short	L.T.	H. Jones
Bradley-Waller	L.G.	Priestman
Baker	Center	Perkins
Dewitt	R.G.	Simkin
Reed-Rafferty	R.T.	Worthington
Henry	R.E.	Morris
Burke-King	Q.B.	Phillips
Hart-S. McCleve	L.H.	Smiley
Poulke-Moore	R.H.	Thomas-Pliny
Kafer-Delaney	F.B.	E. Jones

Touchdowns—Hart, Burke, Short 2, Reed. Goals from touchdown—Dewitt 5. Umpire—Mr. Prince. Referee—Mr. Thomas. Linesmen—Dutcher and E. Field. Timer—George Goldie. Time of halves—20 and 15 minutes.

PENNSY'S GREAT BRACE.

Played Good Football and Easily Defeated Gettysburg.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 15.—(Special.)—The wholesome lesson taught Pennsylvania by Swarthmore and Haverford seems to have borne excellent fruit, inasmuch as the red and blue put up a game of football today against Gettysburg that more than surprised the 'varsity's most ardent admirers.

From the initial kickoff until the final whistle Penn'y's sturdy sons played with a dash and vim that fairly set the spectators wild and the manner in which they tore through Gettysburg's line, was a revelation to everybody, and when the final score of 36 to 0 was accomplished, the students cheered like mad. The feature was Capt. Gardiner's 95-yard run for a touchdown. Score and line-up:

Richardson-Weather	L.E.	Lenker
Torrey-Taylor	L.T.	Rice
Mitchell-Hoffman	L.G.	Fisher
McCabe-Plant	Center	Plank
Pickerell	R.G.	Ehrhl
Baird	R.T.	Craig-Diehl
Mozegar-Thomas	R.E.	McLaughlin
Dale-Howard	Q.B.	Young
Fortiner-Weissenfuh	L.H.	Rinard-Hingeman
Gardiner	R.H.	White-Craig
Hare-Bennett	F.B.	James

Touchdowns—Hare, Dale, Fortiner, Weissenfuh, Gardiner, Torrey. Goals from touchdowns—Gardiner, 6. Referee—W. R. Okeson, Lehigh. Umpire—J. T. Hare, Pennsylvania.

News of the Rivers.

The towboat Eleanor has a cracked flue, and will be laid up for repairs for several days.

The annual meeting of the Allegheny River Improvement association will be held at Kittanning October 28.

The towing on Green river promises to be very good as soon as the river rises and the locks are opened.

The Ben Hur, which is undergoing repairs, is expected to enter the Pittsburgh and Parkersburg trade next week.

Capt. Rush Barnsides yesterday took charge of the towboat W. P. Dilworth, owned by the Dilworth Coal Company.

The Lorena is due in port tonight. Patterson & Co., agents for the Greenwood, have heard nothing from the boat, but she is expected here early tomorrow morning. If the Greenwood does not come, the Cricket will be here in her place.

Two flats of coal are reported stuck on the upper end of Hays bar. The flat sunk at the foot of Georgetown Island was left there by the Clifton.

Capt. J. F. Ellison returned to Cincinnati last night. He hopes for another rise soon in the rivers, so that the Cincinnati packet can be ordered out.

S. H. McKain has been awarded the contract by the government to construct the new lock house, for use of the lock keeper at the Herrs Island dam.

The coal fleet is expected to begin arriving at Cincinnati tonight. The Gleaner was in the lead at last accounts. Capt. James McCloskey is in command of that steamer.

The Tom Dodsworth and Defender arrived in port last night, and the Raymond Horner is due. The Coal City arrived Tuesday night and the Falls arrived about noon yesterday.

On account of the rise out of the Monongahela, work has been stopped on the new dams being built on the upper end of the river, but work is expected to be resumed within a day or two.

Coal is selling at 12 cents a bushel, wholesale, at Cincinnati, and it is said that those firms not filling contracts are making a nice profit out of present conditions. There is no anthracite coal at Cincinnati.

Capt. W. B. Rodgers and family arrived home last night from Philadelphia, where they attended the wedding of J. Norwood Rodgers, son of the captain. J. H. Rodgers and wife also returned home last night. The happy groom will not be home for two weeks.

Capt. William Kimling, one of the owners of the towboat Hunter No. 2, said yesterday that no repairs had been made to the boilers of his boat for five years. He says every time the crew cleans boilers a quart of machine oil is used. The result is pulp of them, Capt. Kimling says he believes that if boats would not carry over 180 pounds of steam there would be less trouble with boilers. Boat owners are always having trouble on account of Monongahela river water, which contains acids that destroy boiler plate. The antidote Capt. Kimling uses may be of benefit to others. Capt. Kimling is engineer of the Hunter and is said to be one of the best on the river.

OLD OFFICERS RE-ELECTED.

Stockholders of the Cincinnati Line Hold Their Annual Meeting.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Pittsburgh & Cincinnati packet line was held yesterday for the company's wharfboat. The old board of directors was re-elected, and there will be no change in the officers of the company.

Capt. James A. Henderson is president and general manager; Capt. Thomas S. Calhoun, vice president; Capt. J. F. Ellison, superintendent; Maj. Alex. J. Henderson, freight and passenger agent, and G. W. C. Johnston, secretary and treasurer. Capt. Ellison, who has his headquarters in Cincinnati, attended the meeting, and Capt. Calhoun came from his home at Georgetown, Pa. The company had a very successful year, the boats of the line being enabled to run until the first week in August. The usual dividend was declared.

COLLEGE ELEVENS HAD FIERCE CONTEST YESTERDAY---CHAMPIONS FINAL GAME

COLLEGE TEAMS' FIERCE STRUGGLE

W. U. P. and Westminster Fought It Out to an Even Finish.

GAME FULL OF WRANGLES

Umpire Didn't Want to Allow Westminster's Touchdown and There Was Trouble—Second Half Was a Bitter Battle.

Honors were even in the annual football contest between the elevens representing the Western university and Westminster college, which was played on Colosseum field yesterday afternoon. Two stubbornly contested halves of 20 and 25 minutes were played, and when the referee's whistle announced the end of playing time the score was 6 to 6.

Like all games between these teams, there was wrangling enough to do for half a dozen contests. The snarling started with the selection of officials before the game was called, and when that point had been settled there was trouble over the length of the halves. One side wanted 20 minutes and the other held out for 30 minutes. It was finally agreed to toss a coin for choice, and this was won by W. U. P., whose leader decided that the first half of the contest should last an even half-hour and the second half 25 minutes.

Kicked on a Touchdown.

The game had hardly got a fair start before there was another kick, which was a serious one and threatened to end the contest. The game had started with Scerist of W. U. P. kicking off to Moore, the Westminster fullback, who made a nice gain. The visitors then tried end runs, but failed to gain and the ball was kicked to the center of the field, where W. U. P. secured it and by mass plays pushed down to the 15-yard line. At this point the quarter-back kick was tried, but it failed to work, Westminster securing the ball on its own 12-yard line.

On the very first lineup the ball was passed to Tennent, who went around W. U. P.'s left end neatly, dodging all tackles, and being free started for the other end of the field. He got past the fullback all right, and amidst the cheers of the 300 spectators covered the 87 yards and scored a touchdown. It was a spectacular run and set the spectators to cheering wildly, but the cheers were checked by Umpire Hockensmith, who ordered the ball brought back, claiming there had been holding in the line.

Threatened to Leave the Field.

This decision was resented by Westminster players, who asserted that if there had been any holding it was after the play was well in progress and they refused to abide by the decision, and after some talk started to leave the field. The kick which followed lasted all of 15 minutes, and finally wound up in the touchdown being allowed. Umpire Hockensmith refused to act further, and Fred Crollus was pressed into service. When the play was being made there was lively go between Christy of Westminster and Stroud of W. U. P., in which blows were exchanged, but no harm done. Moore kicked the goal for Westminster.

After the next kick-off W. U. P. rushed the ball down the field by straight line bucks, in which Rugh and Hawkins did the bulk of the work. The ball was carried to Westminster's 4-yard line and a touchdown looked like a certainty, but Scerist fumbled and the visitors got the ball and kicked it out of danger. Nothing daunted, the W. U. P. went at the Westminster line again and pushed the ball down, but surely down, and Rugh was sent over for a touchdown, after which he kicked goal, and thus evened up the score. The half ended with the ball in Westminster's territory and the score a tie at 6 to 6.

Second Half Was Fierce.

The second half proved one of the most stubborn contests witnessed on a local gridiron in a long time. This half was noted for the excellent defense put up by the Westminster eleven. Time after time would W. U. P. work the ball down to within hailing distance of the visitors' goal, then the country boys would make a bold stand, secure the ball on downs and kick it back out of harm. During this half W. U. P. made several changes, sending in fresh men in the hope to secure the coveted goal, but all to no purpose.

In straight football and line bucking W. U. P. excelled, but the Westminsters had a decided advantage in end plays. The best work for W. U. P. was done by Rugh, whose hurdling was clever. The smallest player on the Westminster team, Tennent, was its star. This little player is a jewel, whose work at left end was of the Arthur Poe order. There was never a scrimmage during the contest that he was not mixed up in. His tackling was fierce and sure, and it was a treat to watch him bring down players who were twice his size and weight. The score and lineup:

W. U. P.—6.	Position.	Westminster—6.
Stroud	L. E.	Tennent
Jackson	L. T.	Moore
Sugg	L. G.	Russell
Hadley	Center.	Parisen
Dilligan	R. G.	Crooks
McClymonds	R. T.	Elliot
Metionne	R. E.	McBride
McCready	Q. B.	Moore
Rugh	L. H.	Christy
Hawkins	R. H.	Sampson
Scerist	F. B.	Minteer

Touchdowns—Tennent, Rugh. Goals from touchdowns—Rugh, Moore. Referee—Karl Potter, Westminster. Umpires—W. D. Hockensmith, Fred Crollus. Time—30 and 25-minute halves.

E. E. A. A. IN GOOD SHAPE.

New Trick Plays and Line Formations Will Be Used Saturday.

The East End Athletic football team is in fine condition for its game with the A. A. A. eleven at Friendship park next Saturday afternoon.

The team has been coached all week by Joe Bich and Frank Hudson, and if the gridiron is in shape some new plays will be tried against the four A. team. Several new line formations have been perfected.

John Carr, who was a member of the Homestead second team last year, reported at the Baum street grounds for practice last night, and may play guard. Carr weighs over 200 pounds.

Walter Lantz, the strong man, has been out for practice each night and will be found in the lineup on Saturday. The A. A. A. eleven since its defeat of the Sewickley Y. M. C. A. last Saturday, has been practicing daily, and the game Saturday promises to be interesting.

THE CHALLENGE HERE.

Special Meeting to Consider Defi of Sir Thomas.

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—The challenge of Sir Thomas Lipton and the Royal Ulster Yacht club for the America's cup reached here today. No action will be taken on the challenge, nor will its contents be made public, until it comes before a special meeting of the New York Yacht club tomorrow night.

ANOTHER STRONG PLAYER.

Shirley Ellis, Harvard's Former Fullback, is to Join the Pittsburgh Eleven.

Shirley Ellis, the famous Harvard fullback, is expected to join the Pittsburgh eleven this week. Coach W. E. Richardson has been in communication with Ellis, and it is likely that the latter will arrive at the training quarters at Greensburg during the week. If he is in condition to play, he will undoubtedly be used in one of the halves in the game with Bucknell at the Colosseum field Saturday afternoon. The Bucknell people are keeping rather quiet, but the fact that the Lewisburg team defeated the Carlisle Indians last week 16 to 0 has given the Pittsburgh men something to think about, and they expect to have about as hard a battle with Bucknell as they will have later with the two big teams from Philadelphia.

The Greensburg field was fixed up in pretty good shape yesterday for the mid-week game today with the Cottage eleven. As Cottage has a pretty strong team, the game will be a means of putting the Pittsburgh men on edge for the game on Saturday.

THE FINAL GAME OF THE SEASON

PIRATES SHOW ROCHESTERS HOW TO BAT.

Ball Was Slugged All Over the Field for All Kinds of Hits. Deacon Phil Took It Easy.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

ROCHESTER, PA., Oct. 15.—The Pittsburgh National league team this afternoon played the second game this season with the Rochester Athletic association team. The first game, with Cushman and Simpson as the twirlers, resulted in a tie, with the score standing 3 to 3 at the close of the eleventh inning.

In the game this afternoon the local hitters were given the task of solving Phillippe's curves and benders. The tall twirler, however, did not prove invincible by any means, and was hammered for a total of nine runs, eight of which were earned. The visitors only secured seven earned runs off Simpson, but aided by 10 costly errors, were able to pile up a total of 23 runs.

The score is misleading, however, in that it indicates a very one-sided game, while the fact is that up till the eighth inning the contest was an exciting one and the interest intense. The local fielders never had such a bunch of errors as they secured for themselves today, and it may have been due to nervousness or it may have been due to the cold weather; but the fact remains that the support given Simpson was enough to make any pitcher take to the tall timber.

The record for home runs on the local grounds was broken today, the ball being driven over the fence no less than 10 times—six times by the visitors and four times by the locals. Owing to a ground rule, however, Grove is credited with a two-bagger, instead of a home run. One of the most sensational plays ever made on the home grounds secured an ovation for Miles, the local shortstop, who jumped into the air and pulled down a hot liner with one hand that looked good for a two-bagger.

The largest crowd of the season witnessed the game, which closes the season for the Rochester team. The score:

TWO MILE TROT RECORD BROKEN

Onward Silver Lowered the Mark That Stood Nine Years.

NUTBREAKER'S FINE RACE

Captured the Walnut Hall Farm Cup Stakes and Equalled the Record for the Event—Seven Races Were Pulled Off.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Lexington, Ky., Oct. 15.—Onward Silver, the great chestnut son of Onward and Sylvan Maid, went two miles over the Kentucky Breeders' association track today in 4:23½, breaking the American two-mile record of 4:32, made by Greenlander in 1893. Hudson was in the sulky and Onward Silver had a running mate.

The first mile was reeled off in 2:14 flat, when he began the last quarter with only three minutes and fifty-five seconds consumed, excitement became intense. He had scarcely passed under the wire before the record time was posted and round after round of cheers followed.

The card of seven races today included two stakes. In The West the stake record of 2:11¼ was reduced to 2:07¼, Chase being pressed hard.

W. Foote, who has two Transylvanias to his credit, drove the winner in the Walnut Hall Farm cup, and the record for the event was equaled in the third heat. After Prince of Orange, the big favorite, had won the first and second heats, Nutbearer came out of the bunch at the distance flag in the third and claimed the round by a length. His next two heats were smartly contested, but he was never in danger near the wire. Exceptional time was made in the 2:08 pace, which was taken in impressive style by Sir Albert S. In the first heat the time by quarters was :31, 1:01, 1:32, 2:03¾. The track was fast and the weather pleasant. Summaries:

WON BY M'CHESNEY.

Easily Defeated Sombrero in the Match Race.

CHICAGO, Oct. 15.—McChesney, probably the greatest 3-year-old that ever performed in the west, demonstrated his superiority over Green B. Morris' sombrero in a match race at Worth today. McChesney won with ease, being pulled up almost to a walk and finished with more than a length to spare. The track and weather conditions were as though made to order for this contest. The race was at a mile and an eighth for a purse of $1,000. An effort will be made by the owners of McChesney to match him with Hermis, the king of the eastern 3-year-olds. Summary:

First race, 6 furlongs—Arrenels, 106, Olis, 6 to 1 won; Capable, 104, Donnelly, 7 to 1, second; Banter, 103, Battiste, 14 to 5, third. Time, 1:17.3-5. Also ran—Amanda, North Pole, Snare, The Counselor, Ramon, Whiten, Vestia, Olivello, Lord Melbourne and Our Cora also ran.

and grows hair on bald heads. Keeps the scalp in a healthy condition by aiding nature in effectually performing her proper functions, as it stimulates the dormant capillary vessels and removes poisonous secretions which cause these ailments. HIRSUTUS is free from grease and is an excellent preparation for ladies and children to use. It is used by the most fashionable people of the world, and all who use it cannot praise it too highly.

HIRSUTUS Keeps the head

Free From Scurf and Dandruff, which is 98 per cent of baldness. It multiplies the hair when thinness has made its appearance and keeps the hair soft and fluffy. Costs a little more than most hair preparations, but DOES MORE. Sold by druggists at 75c, $1.50 and $3 per bottle.

Convalescents

Who feel the need of a gentle tonic to help build up the system, develop an appetite and promote digestion, will find that they quickly gain their former strength and health by the use of

TRADING LESS ACTIVE, BUT PRICES FIRMER

Majority of Stocks Yesterday Closed at Net Gains. Call Money 6 to 10 Per Cent---Conditions Favor Quieter Markets.

By JOHN O. BAGLIN, Financial Editor.

Speculation in the eastern stock market was of a more normal character yesterday than for some days past. The volume of trading was smaller, aggregating a little less than 600,000 shares, and the fluctuations in values were not so wide as of late. At the opening prices were lower, following the tendency shown in London's quotations, where the decline was probably based upon reports from this side that there might be some delay in resuming coal mining. After the opening weakness, however, the market became steadier, and then until 2 p. m. there was an almost uninterrupted but slow advance. In the final dealings there was the usual profit taking, causing a recession from the highest prices, but the undertone remained good, and the close was at further net gains for the day. Among the special movements, Amalgamated Copper advanced, presumably on the fact that the Boston and Montana and the Anaconda companies declared the same rates of dividends as paid for the preceding quarter, which foreshadowed at least the last rate of dividend on Amalgamated. St. Paul and Union Pacific advanced on a repetition of the story of a traffic arrangement between the two roads. Missouri Pacific and the Wabash issues advanced on buying credited to Gould pools. These movements tended to cause covering of shorts generally. The market was strongest when a report came from Washington that Mr. Mitchell had seen President Roosevelt, and while he made no statement as to the intention of the miners, there was a confident feeling that there would be no serious hitch in the negotiations for a settlement of the strike. Another thing which strengthened sentiment was the revival of reports of the probability of a large purchase of government bonds by Secretary Shaw. No official announcement on the subject was made during business hours, but it is known that New York bond houses have been scouring the country for bonds for the purpose of offering the same to the government. The fluctuations in call money rates were narrower, the extremes being 10 per cent near the opening and 6 per cent just before the close, the final loan being at 7 per cent. Another favorable influence was the further decline in sterling exchange. The rate is not yet down to the gold-importing point, but it is approaching that level. An engagement of gold that could not be classed as "special," but which was in response to a normal state of the international money market, would have a powerful effect upon general sentiment. Some of the best of bankers have been at a loss to account for the absence of gold imports at a time when our money market was trailing so much above the parity of foreign markets. An explanation that did not satisfactorily explain was that foreign bankers had loaned all they cared to here. But if gold comes in a natural way, it will prove that there are no grounds for an artificial barrier to the flow, and at the same time it would have the effect of loosening up funds that have been reserved for emergencies.

A prominent Pittsburgh house yesterday received the report of a personal representative who was sent to New York to obtain first-hand opinions as to the real state of the money market and speculative conditions. As to the money market, it was the consensus of banking opinion that rates for call loans would rule at or above 6 per cent average for the remainder of the year. Many evidences of the reality of the stringency just before and just after the beginning of the month were obtained. It became not so much a question of rates as of funds, and loans which had not been disturbed for years were called and paid. The banks are now feeling much easier, but during this closing quarter of the year many important transactions fall due, which will mean continued activity in the money market and much shifting of loans. Temporary ease may come from artificial relief measures, but such relief will be applied to strengthening the position of the banks, rather than to increasing accommodation to Wall street. Genuine relief will come from the movement of the crops in the west and from exports of cotton, which are at present on a large scale, but there is a slight difference of opinion as to the date when currency will begin to flow from the west to the east. The majority do not expect the return current of any considerable volume before January. Only one banker expressed the opinion that within 30 days call money would be easy at not over 5 per cent. There was no suggestion in any quarter of an issue of clearing house certificates. There appears to be a sentimental feeling against resorting to this measure of relief, now that we are a "creditor nation."

As to the stock market position, the report is unanimous that liquidation has been extensive and severe. It does not all appear in the public transactions on the exchange during the past three weeks. Some of the pools have lost heavily, so far as paper profits are concerned. In one instance cited a pool was forced to cut down its obligations to the banks by fully 60 per cent. Securities, however, are now in firmer hands, and unless the unexpected happens in monetary, political or industrial circles, the worst of the money stringency and shrinkage in stock market values has been seen. For the next few weeks at least speculation will be narrow and professional, with fluctuations responding more to operations against the shorts than to any decided change in legitimate conditions.

The character of the market in Pittsburgh may be understood when it is stated that the sales of stocks aggregated only 2,721 shares and that the total was made up of 72 transactions distributed among 25 different stocks. The average of each sale was less than 40 shares, and in no case did the total transactions in any one stock exceed 500 shares. Such a market as that yesterday is sometimes described as the small investors' market, and from the stringency of money which shuts out the large speculative operators, and from the number of small lots of dividend payers which changed hands, it may be concluded that the small investors were well represented yesterday. Pittsburgh Coal sold to the extent of 500 shares, and closed at 29⅝, the high point of the day and a net advance of ⅜. The preferred stock was a shade higher at 89⅞. River Coal common was firmer, selling at 11⅜. The steel stocks were steady to firm, closing at the best prices, which represented slight gains over the previous day. Westinghouse Electric sold at 106 @106½. Airbrake was nominally quoted at 178, but no stock changed hands. Marsden sold to the extent of 500 shares, advancing to 5¼, and closing at that price bid. The strength was due to the announcement that the International Smokeless Powder and Dynamite Company, which is controlled by Marsden, had declared a semi-annual cash dividend of 4 per cent, and a scrip dividend of 17.4 per cent on the preferred stock. Manufacturers Light and Heat sold at 90, an advance of ⅝, being in response of the market to the action of the directors in increasing the dividend from an 8 per cent basis to a 10 per cent basis. Philadelphia Company was also firmer, the common selling at 47½ and the preferred at 49½.

There were several transactions in the bank and trust company group, but the total business was small. American Trust closed a dollar higher at 126, Keystone Bank was 2½ higher at 350, and Cosmopolitan National advanced 3½ per cent to 110. A small lot of Pittsburgh Trust sold at 840, a decline of 10 points, and South Side Trust was 3 per cent lower at 105. Allegheny Trust declined to 153. No Colonial Trust changed hands, but the stock was quoted at 612 bid.

PITTSBURGH STOCKS.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

On the exchange Pops Tin Plate stock was offered at 110. There was no bid.

At the close Holmes & Sons sold a block of 370 shares Pittsburgh Coal at 29⅜ to Sproul & Co.

H. M. Long bought a block of $15,000 Pittsburgh Brewing 6s at 112. Carothers & Co. sold. This is the largest single transaction in bonds on the local board for some time.

The Indianapolis stock exchange has been organized with a membership limited to 15. The initial cost of the memberships is $200 each, and the dues of active members are $150 a year.

The comptroller of the currency has approved of the selection of the Federal National bank of Pittsburgh and the Hanover National bank of New York as reserve agents for the Manor (Pa.) National bank.

A good deal of yesterday's business in Wall street was thought to be for Harris, Gates & Co. The latter are supposed to have received the second instalment in payment of the Louisville & Nashville deal.

Metropolitan was one of the strong stocks in the eastern market yesterday, advancing to 141. It is probable that the Manhattan which Manhattan is quoted on a 5 per cent basis, which seems an anomaly to the average trader.

The rumor is revived of a dividend on Pittsburgh Coal common, which is likely to come to stockholders in time to make Christmas gift purchases. The stock has been holding quite firm during the past day or two, despite the money stringency.

A Boston dispatch said: "The National Park bank is the head of the syndicate to secure other than government bonds and present them to the secretary of the treasury. They borrowed $3,000,000 state of Massachusetts bonds in Boston on Monday for one year.

The stockholders of the Union Trust Company yesterday unanimously waived the 60-day notice required for increasing the capital stock and voted the increase from $1,000,000 to $1,500,000. As heretofore stated the new stock will be sold at $2,000 a share, the premium being added to surplus account.

Between fluctuations a Wall street arithmatician compiled the following:

10 combines make one merger.
10 mergers make one magnate.
1 magnate makes all the money.

Apparently the pools resumed operations, particularly the Gould interests, who were active in bidding up Missouri Pacific. The western stocks were bought on a belief that a traffic arrangement between St. Paul and Union Pacific has been arranged and consequently the western situation has been much improved.

At a special meeting of the stockholders of the United States National bank yesterday it was unanimously voted to increase the capital stock from $200,000 to $500,000. The new stock will be sold at $140 a share, so that $100 a share will be added to capital and $40 a share to surplus account, increasing the latter from to $180,000. The board of directors will meet in a few days to fix the time and manner for making payments on subscriptions.

A Wall street dispatch said: "It is rumored that if pending negotiations are successful, the treasury may purchase bonds to the amount of $25,000,000 or even more. Washington advices say that appeals for relief are reaching the treasury from every important city, and that the officers of the treasury feel that the time has come for some more effective action. It is said in Washington that the treasury department may make announcement within 48 hours."

As illustrating the change that has taken place in public sentiment, or at least the change that has taken place in speculative matters, it may be noted that the address of Attorney General Knox on the trust problems passed entirely unnoticed, so far as the stock market was concerned. In street parlance, Mr. Knox's address was "bearish," particularly that portion charging overcapitalization of the Northern Securities combination, but market values were not affected. It is not so long ago when the occasional remark of the famous Mr. Moloney, the attorney general of Illinois, would send a shiver through Wall street and knock several points off the price of Chicago Gas and other industrials.

On the rumor that he had been compelled to make over over $20,000,000 worth of stocks to his backers, the Wall Street Journal quotes a "well-known operator, meaning Jim Keene, to the following effect: "The origin of the report is malicious. I am not in the position described, nor is any other large operator that I know of. The only foundation I can think of for these reports is a recent transaction in Reading. I had a large amount of that stock acquired two years ago, distributed among the public. I received an attractive offer above the market price, and I sold at a good profit. The circumstances of the transaction were such as to make me think the stock was purchased for control."

After the close of the market, a prominent Wall street commission house wired its Pittsburg correspondents: "It is not safe to look for legal rates for call money before the middle of November, if then, and it is well to bear this fact in mind and to recollect that securities will probably be obtainable at no very great advance over current rates for some time to come. For the buyer who is willing to pay the daily rates for money and who looks forward to the improvement of his securities based upon their earning capacity and the prosperity of the corporation, we presume the present is a favorable opportunity, but the speculator is in a different situation. It is well to buy Atchison preferred, Canadian Pacific, Union Pacific, Illinois Central, Pennsylvania Railroad and stocks of that character, as it is hardly to be doubted that buyers will be able to realize a very handsome profit in the early part of the coming year."

So far as net profits were concerned the annual report of the Crucible Steel Company (printed elsewhere in this issue) did not come up to expectations. In charging off $1,000,000 for depreciation, which is double the amount charged in 1901, and which are the most modern and economical of their kind in the world, not having been completed and in operation during the past fiscal year. The official statement as to the outlook for trade and the advantages of being controlling an adequate supply of raw material through the operation of the new furnaces is one of the encouraging features of the report.

HIGHER LEVEL BEING REACHED

General Advance Made in Wall Street Stocks All Along Line.

SOME TWO-POINT GAINS

More Confidence Is Felt in the Money Market and Belief Is General That Coal Strike Will Soon Be Amicably Settled.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, Oct. 15.—Further progress was made toward a higher level of prices in the stock market today, although there were no actual developments in either the monetary or the coal strike situation to indicate any material change in conditions. Nevertheless the feeling was more prevalent that the coal strike would reach an early amicable end and that measures are to be taken by Secretary Shaw that will shortly relieve the present stringency of the money market. His action was said to be in the nature of further large government bond purchases various interests being credited with holding large amounts which would be shortly turned in. The sums named ranged from $10,000,000 to $30,000,000 and the report was vigorously circulated throughout the street. Whether there was any foundation or not in the rumor the money market reflected greater ease than in some time, call loans opening at 9 per cent, the highest, and then shading gradually to 5 per cent. Considerable attention was given to the report that there would be certain modifications in the terms proposed by the coal operators for a settlement of the strike which would insure less opposition from the miners in the points contested. Nothing definite developed regarding this report though it was colored to some extent by the heavy buying of Reading which showed considerable strength throughout the day.

Grangers Bought Freely.

Recent speculative leaders among the grangers, Pacifics and southwestern stocks were bought freely and the entire market showed decided strength at one time or another. St. Paul, Louisville and Illinois Central were conspicuous in the day's dealings and made exceptional advances of 2 points. Prices elsewhere averaged a point pretty generally with quite an active demand in a number of specialties. The Gould stocks as a group received the most consistent support, the heavy buying of Missouri Pacific having a sustaining effect on the lower-priced stocks. Trading lacked the breadth and activity of the early operations of the week, but there was a marked undertone of confidence in the general situation. Sterling exchange rates made a further decline today, demand bills declining to $4 85⅝ and there was some talk of the likelihood of early imports of gold. The payment today of the second installment of $17,000,000 on the Louisville & Nashville account was looked to as contributing toward a further ease in the money situation as the funds will speedily be redistributed again through the usual banking channels.

Gold from Klondike.

Payment was made by the sub-treasury today of $200,000 on transfer account from San Francisco and it is expected that further consignments of Klondike gold will be available to the money market in a few days. No currency transfers have been made to the interior by this institution this week and there was a feeling in banking circles that the general conditions favored lower money rates. In the late session stock trading was virtually stagnant at times, especially when the market was under pressure from realizing sales. There were occasional bursts of activity and these as a rule were marked by advancing prices. Profittaking sales outweighed the buying orders in the final hour, and there were a number of important reactions which were not checked by a final upturn in St. Paul to the best. The closing was dull and easy.

The bond market was dull today, but displayed a firm tone. Total sales, par value, $2,475,000.

NEWS FROM THE MINES.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—The great aerial tramway connecting the Ferris-Haggerty mine and the Battle Lake district with the smelter at Grand Encampment, Wyo., is completed. It cost $300,000.

At a depth of 200 feet on the Delmonico, Cripple Creek, 12 inches of quartz has been cut that shows abundance of free gold. Assays on samples run to $300 a ton.

An important discovery is reported in an old potato patch on the Livingston property at Sugar Loaf, Col. A quantity of ore scraped up with surface dirt ran $2 a pound, and a large quantity of second-grade ore is exposed that assays from $180 to $360 a ton.

The recent strike on the Wild Horse at Cripple Creek is showing up unusually rich. Careful tests this week across 18 out of the 26 feet of ore gave average values of $743 to the ton.

Andrew J. Malley of Cripple Creek has bought the Paymaster at St. George, Utah, for $80,000.

A dispatch from Aberdeen, N. M., says that on the 200-foot level of the Malachite claim of the Aberdeen Copper Company the vein is now 11 feet wide and carries 8 per cent lead, $9 gold and eight ounces silver.

The Metal Market.

Copper was lower in the London market today, closing at £46 15s for spot with spot at £52 and futures at £52 8s 9d. The figures of domestic production for the month of September shows 25,188 tons, against 21,580 tons in 1901. The production for the nine months of current year compared with the corresponding period last year, the figures being 218,281 tons, compared with 190,626 tons. Notwithstanding these figures the local market was steady. The demand at 12.50@12.75 cents per pound for electrolytic reported at 11.45c for October delivery, but otherwise the market was dull, with lake at 11.55@11.70c; standard at 11.30@11.40c; casting at 11.25@11.35c. Tin lost 2s 6d in London, spot there closing at £116 10s and futures at £115 12s 6d. Local prices also were a trifle easier, spot closing at 25.25@25.85c. Lead in London was 3d lower, closing at £10 13s 9d, while New York remained quiet and unchanged at 4.45c. Spelter was dull here and unchanged at 5.40c, and in London at £19 5s. There was a slight decline in the Missouri markets, Glasgow closing at 57s 6d and Middlesboro at 52s 10½d, from locality was steady and unchanged. Of the constituents nominal No. 1 foundry northern is quoted at $23 @25 00; No. 2 foundry ½ northern, No. 1 foundry, southern, and No. 1 foundry, southern soft, at $22 00@23 00.

HIGHER PRICES RULE IN GRAINS

Trading Fairly Active and Bulls Make Gain Against Adverse Conditions.

WHEAT CLOSES STRONG

Buying General Throughout the Day, Despite Good Weather for Movement—Higher Cables in Corn—Provisions Up.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Chicago, Oct. 15.—Trading was fairly active on the board of trade today and higher prices were the rule, December wheat closing ⅝@¾c higher, December corn 1¼@1¼c, and oats ⅛@⅜c higher. January provisions closed from 5@7½c to 12½c higher.

Although weather was against higher prices in wheat, being very favorable for movement, there was a strong upward tendency to the market, and the close was strong at about the highest point of the day. Strength of the northwestern markets was the principal cause for the bullish feeling, although receipts were comparatively small. Buying was general throughout the day with a particularly good demand for May. December opened unchanged to ⅛c higher at 70⅝@70¾c. There was a gradual advance as the session progressed, with one or two slight reactions until 71½ had been reached. The close was ⅝@¾c higher at 71⅝@71¾c.

Big Advance in Receipts.

Primary receipts were 1,122,000 bushels, against 805,000 bushels a year ago. Minneapolis and Duluth reported receipts of 656 cars, which with local receipts of 95 cars, three of contract grade, made total receipts for the three points of 751 cars, against 838 last week and 681 a year ago.

Higher cables caused a strong opening in corn and the market was strong throughout the entire session, although on the advance free selling by locals brought about a slight decline. The reaction was only temporary, however, and with good buying again late in the day the close was strong. Covering by shorts was one of the principal features of trading, it being said that about 1,500,000 bushels were taken by one prominent local trader. December opened ½@⅝c to 1@1⅛c higher, at 48½@48⅝c.

Reaction in December.

On good demand the price went up to 48¾c when a reaction to 48⅝@48⅜c occurred, but later there was another rally and the close was at the top figure of the day, at 49¼c, with a gain of 1¼@1⅜c. Local receipts were 395 cars, with 20 of contract grade.

Oats opened about steady in sympathy with other grains with considerable selling at the start. Covering by shorts and advance in corn soon caused a rally. Trading was light. The close was firm, December up ¼@⅜c at 31⅝c, after selling between 31 and 31⅝@31½c. Local receipts were 188 cars.

Provisions opened easy on lower prices for hogs and increased receipts at the yards. Brokers were on the market for January and May product and this, together with commission house buying, caused a stronger feeling, the close being firm. January pork closed 12½c higher at $15 80, January lard 7½c higher at $9 05 and ribs 5@7½c higher at $8 32½@8 35.

Estimated receipts for tomorrow: Wheat, 80 cars; corn, 215 cars; oats, 155 cars; hogs, 25,000 head.

LOCAL OATS MARKET IS RULING HIGHER

Potatoes Continue Active at Firm Quotations—The Egg Situation Is Stronger.

Oats took a sharp turn upward yesterday, and quotations are ½c higher. There is a very active demand for good oats and stock that grades satisfactorily is arriving but slowly. Buyers are the anxious ones, while sellers are firm with their holdings. Another reason for the advance of yesterday is that this market was a little out of line with the situation in other places, and oats went lower than the general condition of affairs warranted. Dealers express the opinion that the range of quotations at the moment is not far from that which will rule for some time to come. Millfeed, which advanced on Tuesday, is still very strong, figures for middlings yesterday being a little above those of the day before. Mixed hay is wanted, and has gone forward in price, the range now being $13 00@13 50, with purchasers hunting stock.

Flour is just about holding its own, mills not having receded from the advanced position taken at the beginning of the week, and local jobbers are compelled to be firm in their asking, although actual local advances have been few. Jobbers are quoting 10 cents per barrel as concessions heretofore allowed together with an increase of 5 cents a barrel on the part of some jobbers. The demand is good, but not the heaviest.

There has been no change in the sugar market, and while wholesalers are ready to accept any change that may occur, and know that this commodity is subject to sudden fluctuations, they are not now expecting any immediate advance or decline. Coffee is still occupying a waiting position and may go higher, although the threatened advance is yet deferred.

Navy beans are firmly held by growers, and the local value is close to $2 65, with limited offerings. Various grades of Canadian and dried fruits are steady, with no special features or changes in any department.

Fruits and Produce Quiet.

Trade in fruits and produce yesterday was quiet, with very few lines showing any activity. The frost of Tuesday night has about put a stop to home grown produce, which had not been badly damaged, and prices will be higher for what there is to offer, although no advances were made yesterday. Tomatoes are just about as they were, ranging from 60c@$1 a bushel, while green corn and string beans are firm at prices last quoted. Cabbage is holding its own, and is in improved request, while all other winter vegetables are in fair demand. The request for potatoes is large, retailers having commenced to buy freely for winter stores, and quotations are firmly held. Apples are unchanged. Offers of Spanish onions are sought by purchasers. Grapes are coming forward in sufficient amount, but there has been no heavy run to break the market, which is steady.

Butter and cheese are firm, without change of price, while eggs are steadier, having reacted from the slight weakness shown in the market on Tuesday. Poultry remains at prices ruling at the beginning of the week.

Hay, Grain and Feed.

Receipts bulletined: Pennsylvania lines, 16 cars hay, 2 cars feed, 3 cars oats, 3 cars rye, 1 car corn and oats, 1 car corn; Baltimore & Ohio railroad, 1 car hay; Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad, 4 cars hay, 1 car feed, 2 cars wheat, 3 cars feed, 1 car oats; Pittsburgh & Western railroad, 3 cars hay, 1 car feed, 1 car oats; receipts by river, none.

PROPERTY SOLD IN WOOD STREET

Attorney R. E. Stewart Purchased No. 433 for $100,000.

SALE IN FIRST AVENUE

Two East End Sites Bought. Apartment House Brings $25,000—The "Doubling Up" Problem.

From a deed registered at City hall yesterday it was learned that the Commonwealth Real Estate and Trust Company has concluded the sale of the property at No. 433 Wood street for $100,000 cash. Title to the property was secured from the heirs of James Herdman, the purchaser being Attorney R. E. Stewart. The lot has a frontage of 17.5 feet on the west side of the street, about midway between Fifth avenue and Diamond street, and a depth of 80 feet. The three-story brick building on the lot is now occupied by a shoe company.

The rate of sale is about $5,714 a front foot, or $71.42 a square foot. The Sawyer property at No. 437 Wood street, was sold some weeks ago to Attorney Willis McCook and Emil Winter, and brought $115,000, or about $6,570 a front foot. It is understood that Mr. Stewart's purchase was made for an investment, although it is rumored in some circles that the property is being acquired for someone else.

Governor's Purchase Completed.

The deed was registered yesterday in the purchase of the site upon which Gov. Stone proposes to build a $50,000 residence. The property is known as the William C. Stewart lot and the deed was made out to Elizabeth Stone for a consideration of $35,337 50. The site measures 282x300 feet, at the corner of Beacon and Murdoch streets, the latter being not yet opened through to this point. The sale was made with building restrictions, providing that the building erected must cost at least $10,000, and must be 60 feet from the street. The transaction was handled by the Union Realty Company.

The Safe Deposit and Trust Company, executors of the estate of M. F. Hippie, has sold the property at No. 88 First avenue for $17,000. The lot measures 25x70 feet on the south side of the avenue near Ferry street, and is improved with a three-story brick dwelling house. The deal is credited to the Union Realty Company, but these brokers declined to name the purchaser.

Bought Desirable Sites.

Two fine building sites in the Twenty-second ward have been sold by Liggett & Goehring through the Real Estate Trust Company. They were formerly owned by W. B. Brown and others, and were bought by Andrew S. McSwiggan and Mrs. E. M. McCreery. The former's purchase is a lot facing 80 feet on the south side of Marlborough avenue, between Shady and Murray avenues, having a depth of 140 feet. The consideration was $8,000. Mrs. McCreery's lot adjoins the other and has a frontage of 77 feet, with a depth of 145 feet. It was bought for $7,700, both purchases being at the rate of $100 a front foot. Both purchasers are preparing to improve with handsome residences.

George H. Shickler has bought from William Weis a new apartment house on the east side of Shields street, near Friendship park, Twentieth ward, for $25,000. The building stands on a lot 40x147 feet, and is a three-story brick structure, handsomely finished. The purchase was made for an investment.

Farm Brought Over $2,000 An Acre.

The sale is reported of the old "White Oak Level" farm, at McKeesport, for $131,000. It was purchased by Chester Glass from the Bowman heirs, the deal being handled by the Gleason Improvement Company of McKeesport. The farm comprises 60 acres and is situated partly in the Ninth ward and partly in Versailles township, 7 years ago it was famous as a Methodist camping ground, and is also well known for its sulphur spring. It has been in the Bowman family for over 30 years. Mr. Glass will, it is said, plot the property at once and put it on the market in the spring.

A five-story office and apartment building is to be erected at No. 1219 Carson street, Twenty-eighth ward, on a lot which Harry Moore has bought from Miller Bros. for $30,000. The site is at present occupied by a livery stable which will be torn down to make way for the proposed improvement.

Object to "Doubling Up."

Landlords and renting agents are up against an old trouble this fall, harder than ever before. It is the demand from their customers to be allowed to "double up," and is the direct result of the scarcity of houses, while it is now so great that many brokers have stopped issuing rent lists. Families who moved to Pittsburgh last spring and have lived in boarding houses or rooms all summer, with their household effects in storage, are getting desperate as winter approaches, and they find no houses suitable for their needs.

Houses that rent from $30 to $70 can be secured in some parts of the city but the average-priced house is not to be found. Most tenants cannot afford to pay the price asked for the large dwelling and are urging the landlords and agents to let them occupy the house together, two or more families paying the rent between them. Many owners object strongly to this plan but a few have advanced the rents where families wanted to "double up" and will permit the practice. In the rooming house districts of Pittsburgh and Allegheny there is not a house to be rented, the large dwellings having been secured months ago in anticipation of the usual fall rush for rooms convenient to the central part of the city.

A $30,000 Factory.

The Duquesne Cigar Company was granted a permit yesterday for a factory building at the corner of Twenty-fifth and Smaliman streets, Twelfth ward, to cost $30,000. The following permits were also issued: Christiana McDonald, a brick house in Baum street, Twentieth ward, $7,500; Mrs. Maggie Benton, two frame houses in Maple avenue, Twentieth ward, $4,200; James E. Hall, a brick veneered house in Kincaid street, Nineteenth ward, $4,000; Mrs. Regina Stillert, two double frame houses in Natches street, Thirty-second ward, $3,500, and a frame house in the same street, $3,000; B. Lane, two frame houses in Chalfant street, Thirty-eighth ward, $2,500. A permit was also granted to F. Meyer & Bro. for a brick wagon works in Frankstown avenue, Twenty-first ward, to cost $15,000.

McKeesport is booked for another big lot sale Saturday. The property is known as the Federal plan of lots and is being handled by Gault and Giffen of this city. It is situated in the Tenth ward, just across the Youghiogheny river bridge from Fifth avenue. Over 40 of the 400 lots face in this street and the remainder are convenient to two car lines. The prices range from $100 to $500 per lot. Free excursion tickets are being provided by Gault & Giffen and by their agents, Ratigan & Fox of Homestead, Harry T. Watson of Duquesne, C. O. Hardy of Washington and J. M. Clifford of Braddock.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

Talk this over with your doctor. If he says Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is all right for your hard cough, then take it. We are willing to leave it with him. He has the formula. Doctors have known it for 60 years.

Three Days of Special Opportunities and Under-Priced Values.

Complimentary to the Thousands of Excursionists Who Will Be in Town.

Shopping in different departments, and having goods sent to the Cash Desk to be paid for there, is greatly simplified by using the shopping card. Tell the first sales-person from whom you buy to give you one.

OF the three remaining days of this week the Exposition people look for ten to twelve thousand excursionists. The last week is always the banner one of the excursion season.

To show our appreciation of the tremendous trade we have enjoyed from out-of-town people during the five weeks' run of the Exposition, some specially under-priced values are announced for the three remaining days of the week.

Additional news will follow, morning and evening, and altogether it is to be a time in which everyone, resident and visitor, can save a neat sum on the new goods of the new season.

We especially invite parents, accompanied by children, to bring the children sometime during their visit, to our Toy Department, sixth floor. The Christmas Toys, the greatest collection the town ever saw, are now on exhibition. It is a veritable fairyland for children, and they are welcome to roam through it at their pleasure.

Special Prices on Silks and Velvets

Such offerings as these tell more forcibly than words how earnestly our buyers endeavor to combine excellence and superiority and unmatchable values.

And sumptuous variety may be added.

Some of the details:

Colored Taffetas in street and evening shades—70c grades for 58c a yard.

Fancy Silks, such as pompadour, Persian, Pointille and Escurial effects..... $1, $1.25, $1.50 grades for 65c, 75c, 85c, $1 a yd.

Crepes de Chine in evening and street shades, 75c, $1, $1.25 a yard.

Black Crepe de Chine, an 85c quality, for 68c a yard.

Black Silks in fancy weaves, 50c, 75c, $1 a yard.

The prettiest of Velveteen, 50c, 65c, 75c, 85c a yard, that is worth 75c and $1 a yard.

The New Kid Gloves for Women.

Fine as you care to pay for—no matter how high you have set your ideas—the world's most exclusive and finest are here. But this morning only mention of the popularly priced gloves.

First of special dollar gloves:

Our first special Glove for $1 is a 2-clasp overseam medium weight kid glove, with embroidered back. Made specially for us in France. All the new Autumn shades, besides white and black.

Our second special Kid Glove for $1 is a heavy mannish Glove expressly for women's street wear. It is of a fine quality and of a beautiful shape. It is one-clasp.

The third special Glove for $1 is a strap-seamed mocha with a soft velvet finish. It, also, is a one-clasp glove.

At $1.25 a fine assortment of real kid gloves in two-clasp lengths, and all the new Fall shades, as well as white and black. Perfect fitting in every respect.

At $1.50 a pair, our celebrated Duquesne Kid Glove—two clasp, pique sewn. This is an unequaled street glove.

Our Penn Avenue Glove is also sold for $1.50. It is two-clasp, made from selected French skins, and comes in all colors, white and black included.

New Veilings.

The Pittsburg Custom House has just delivered to us a beautiful lot of fine applique Lace Veils—for the face or hat. They are direct to us from Brussels, and are priced $1.25 and up to $10 each.

We are making a feature of $1.25 and $1.50 styles. They are worth $2 and $2.50 each.

A beautiful assortment of Tuxedo Veilings from 25c to $4 a yard. Every pattern our own importation.

Silk Waists at Popular Prices.

Just received a line of beautiful Crepe de Chine Waists in such beautiful colors as pink, blue, gray and white, also black. Tucked to form a yoke in back; clusters of tucks in sleeves. The price of this fine waist is only $6.

Black peau de cygne Waists, the front box pleated, the back tucked; sleeves also have small box pleats; stitched collar with edge of white. It is easily worth $6.50, but our price is only $3.90. Took all the maker had and got a big concession.

New Neckwear for Women

Today's offer consists of three special items:

Japanese Silk Ties—pink, blue, lavender, red, navy—50c each.

Japanese Liberty Silk Squares—white, pink, blue, lavender, red, mais, black—$1.50 each.

Mull Turn-Over Collars—fine white mull edged with pink, blue and black—15c each.

Inexpensive but Good Stockings for Women and Children.

Mention of two lines that will serve as an introduction to the largest Stocking Department in the city.

18c a pair—3 pairs for 50c—Women's Black Cotton Stockings with silk embroidered ankles. Big variety of styles and colorings. Kind you have often paid 25c and 35c for.

18c a pair—3 pairs for 50c—Children's and Women's Black Cotton Stockings. The children's are heavy ribbed, and those for women are plain. Both 25c grades.

Souvenir Plates of Pittsburg.

Half Price.

Nice for visitors to take home. Entrance to Highland Park, The Cathedral, Carnegie Library and Point Bridge.

About 400 of them in English porcelain with royal flow blue decorations.

For convenience these will be sold from first floor to the left of main entrance, and the price will be 25c; regularly 50c.

Women's Autumn Wraps

Everything that women can call for in our great Wrap Department of the second floor.

Some special numbers:

At $10—Fine English Kersey Monte Carlo Coat with handsome applique straps of same cloth. Particularly well tailored. Lined with satin. All the seasonable colors. For a popular priced coat there is nothing offered that approaches this in value.

Long garments of medium and heavy weight, in tan mixtures, blue and brown effects and black cheviots. Half fitting and full box backs; loose fronts. Some have velvet collars, others cloth collars. Wide sleeves with turn-back cuffs. Some have the body lined; others lined only in yoke and sleeves; still others entirely lined. Regular $15 and $20 garments for $10. Regular $22 and $25 garments for $15.

Women's Suit and Separate Skirts.

You have only to express your wish as to the style of suit preferred, and the price you desire to pay, and come to this second floor department and find the realization.

Everything that is fashionable. Space only for two special numbers.

At $13—Suits of black cheviot; blouse effect jacket, beautifully tailored, trimmed with narrow bands of black taffeta; skirt is in 7-gore flare style, with three narrow bands of silk on the hips. Lined with mercerized percaline. This skirt is worth considerable more than $13, but we choose to let them go today for the under price.

At $5—A capital Walking Skirt of cheviot, or of medium-weight melton cloth. 7-gore flare with 3-inch stitching; slot or lap seams. Blue, white and black and black.

75c Black Mistral 50c Yd

Does not that tell the story well? No? The width? Why, it's great—56 inches.

A manufacturer's clean-up—therefore 25c for every yard you buy left in your purse.

Fine Lace Curtains Half Price

Our Lace Curtain Department has a large quantity of the finer lace curtains—mostly sample pairs. To quickly close them out we put the prices down to half.

Irish Point Curtains—$9 a pair instead of $18—$8 instead of $16—$5.75 instead of $11.50—$5 instead of $10—$4.25 instead of $8.50—$4 instead of $8.

Real Renaissance—$9 a pair instead of $18—$7.50 instead of $15—$5.50 instead of $11—$3.75 instead of $7.50.

Real Arabian—$32.50 a pair instead of $65—$27.50 instead of $55—$25 instead of $50—$15 instead of $30—$8.50 instead of $17—$6.75 instead of $13.50.

Women's Knit Underwear

The only right kind for the cold weather of Autumn.

Fleece lined Vests and Drawers, 25c and 50c each.

Ribbed Merino Vests and Drawers—white and gray—75c, $1, $1.25, $1.50 and $2 each.

Natural Wool Vests, 75c to $3 each.

Black Wool Tights, 75c to $2.75 each.

Union Suits of cotton, $1, $1.50, $2.50; of merino, $1.50, $2, $3.

Children's Underwear—cotton or wool—25c to $1.75 each—according to size and quality.

Two Prominent Specials in Cut Glass.

In the third floor visitors will find some of the most beautiful specimens of Cut Glass that ever came out of a manufactory. And they will find plenty of it.

At $1.50 each—Heart-shaped Bon-Bon Dishes in rich prism Cuttings.

At $3.50 each—Eight-inch Bowls in the new "Saxonia" pattern, superb deep cuttings.

Kin-Hee.

Rather a comical name for the best coffee in the market, as well as the best vessel in which to make it.

Step or ride down to the House Furnishing section of the basement today, and the young man in charge will hand you a cup of coffee that you will pronounce simply delicious—the best you ever tasted.

He will also show you, and at the same time explain, the workings of the Kin-Hee Coffee Pot.

Girls' Covert Cloth Coats $8.

They are three-quarter lengths, for girls 8 to 12 years of age. Lined throughout with satin. Worth $12. But we told you this was a special day, so we say $8.

Men's and Boys' Clothing.

Gentlemen visiting the Exposition today are invited to look over our clothing floor, the fourth, the most extensive department of fine clothing in the greater city. Every suit, every overcoat, whether for man or boy, has best for the money written all over it.

There is no kind of a suit or top coat that men care for that is not here—even the dress suit at $45 or the fur overcoat at $150.

Men's good All-Wool Suits, $10. Fancy mixtures, and most men like best, blue and black cheviots.

Extra good Suits for the price of $12.50. At this price men have choice of black thibets and cassimeres, steel gray worsteds and fancy mixtures.

$15 Suits. This is one of the most popular all-around prices in our Clothing Department. We have Suits of fancy cheviot, and something very special are the Double-Breasted Suits of blue and black worsteds, serges, cheviots and undressed worsted.

Other Single and Double Breasted Suits at $18 and along to $35.

Overcoats for Men—all weights—all lengths—every style of overcoating, every color, every mixture, $10, $12.50, $15, $18, $20, $22, $25, $30, $33, $35, $38, $40, $45 and $50.

Fur Lined Overcoats, $100, $125, $150.

Men's Separate Trousers, something extra at $3.50. Cassimeres and cheviot, light and dark stripe.

The Trousers at $5 represent the extreme of style and the best of American Trouserings, while in the range from $6 to $10 there is choice of very fine imported West of England worsted and worsted cheviots, wide and narrow stripes.

Young Men's Suits, $8 to $28. All the styles and all the cloths young men prefer.

Young Men's Overcoats, $10 to $25. Like the Suits, every style that a young man will wear.

Big Boys' Overcoats, $5 to $20. And Suits, $4 to $15.

Little Boys' Suits—Sailors, Russian Blouses, Norfolks, $5 to $12.

Little Boys' Overcoats, $5 to $10. Overcoats, $5 to $25.

Silverware, Jewelry, Leather Goods, Stationery, Pictures.

Exposition visitors are advised that these departments are now in holiday attire. Thousands of exclusive novelties, particularly those from European fashion and manufacturing centers, are on display, and the complete stock is ready from which to choose.

There is a great advantage in early selection while the stock is extensive. The quantities, in some instances, are limited, and duplicate orders cannot be filled by the makers.

We specially invite you to view this display—stay as long as you like, ask as many questions as you like.

If you desire to select anything, and have us hold it for you, we will do so and send when and where you say.

A few of the many specially priced items:

A lot of quadruple silver-plated Hair Receivers, with detachable covers, for 50c each.

Mourning Brooches, dozen different Patterns, 35c each.

Mourning Hat Pins, assorted patterns, 10c, 25c, 50c each.

Genuine Seal, Alligator and Grain Leather Pocketbooks, Chatelaine Bags and Wrist Bags—a large assortment of styles for 50c each.

Imported Russia Leather Memorandum and Address Books—at about half the usual prices—18c, 25c, 35c, 50c each.

Autumn Millinery.

Visiting women are especially invited to this department on the third floor. More beautiful Hats and Toques and Bonnets than we could well tell about. But we can throw out some good hints.

Street Hats and Toques, beautifully trimmed, for $3.50, $5, $7.50 and $10.

For the finer Hats the prices run up to $65—which includes the splendid creations from Paris as well as the exquisite fur hats.

Girls' prettily trimmed Hats—trimmed for girls, not women—$3.50 and $5.

Girls' and Boys' Caps and Tams of beaver, corduroy and plain felt—all sorts of colors—from 50c to $5.50.

Underprices for Women's Handkerchiefs.

And each handkerchief is pure linen. Try any method of proof that you are accustomed to use.

9c each—3 for 25c—Women's Belfast Linen Handkerchiefs, very sheer. Hemstitched and ¼-inch hems. They are worth 18c.

10c each—Hemstitched Cambric Linen Handkerchiefs—¼, ½ and 1 inch hems—laundered ready for use. The usual 15c handkerchief.

The Season for Lamps.

In the Basement we are showing all the new designs in Student Lamps. No other lamp so popular—no other lamp quite so satisfactory for light giving.

For the shade or trimming, we have shades in plain colors, made in America, also those of a beautiful metallic effect made in Bohemia.

Student Lamps complete for $3 and easily along to $35.

New Banquet Lamps in wrought iron, $3.50 to $10.

50c Printed Challis 33c Yd.

Pretty printings—just what you like for the dainty house gowns.

As good challis as this will cost from twelve to seventeen cents the yard more, most anywhere.

Indisputable evidence of the low prices of this store.

Special Sale of Wringers.

The price is $1.00 each—and there are only fifty of them.

Solid wood frame, adjustable steel screws for regulating the work, improved guide boards. Will fit any portable tub. Rolls are made of solid rubber—10x1¾ inches.
